

VARSITY NINE WILL BARNSTORM NORTH IN TOUR TO MEET WASHINGTON TEAM

Fourteen Men, Including Coach and Student Manager, Pack Their Grips to Board Rattle r Monday Morning for Annual Spring Invasion of Enemies' Territory. Northern Games Are of Paramount Importance.

(JIMMY SHEEHY)

Fourteen men, including Coach Hugo Bezdek and Student Manager Jack Elliott will pack their grips Monday morning and board the rattler for Salem, where the varsity will meet Willamette university in the first game of the annual spring barnstorming tour. Captain Cornell, Huntington, Tureck, Nelson, Rathbun, Medley, Maisen, Risley, Grebe, McLean, and Sheehy compose the varsity aggregation that will invade the north. Either Wilhelm or Knighton will be carried as the extra man. Knighton will be the call as he can play the outfield besides being able to serve them up to the batters in practice.

Oregon will journey to Centralia on Tuesday, where they play the Centralia high school, and on Wednesday a stop-over will be made at Bellingham, Wash., to take on the Bellingham normal school. The squad is booked to arrive in Seattle Wednesday night and will make their headquarters at the Washington Annex. Thursday the team will unlimber on Denny field and will no doubt take in the Seattle-Colored Giant's game in the afternoon. Friday and Saturday they will oppose the University of Washington in the opening games of the 1916 conference season.

Although the Washington games are of paramount importance, both Coach Bezdek's and the team's worries are focused in getting out of the rut that they have fallen into the past week. The lemon-yellow lacked the fight and dash against the licorice stained vanguard that has characterized their former games. Perhaps it was due to nervousness or plain stage fright, but taken all in all the varsity put up a woody exhibition in last Tuesday's matinee. In justice to some of the members of the team it must be said that they were playing their first real game against a real nine. However, the varsity has some solace in the fact that the negroes trimmed the Oregon Aggies 11 to 2 yesterday in Corvallis.

Preliminary to Wednesday's fiasco with Eugene high school, Bezdek shuffled the whole outfit about in an attempt to break the jinx that is hovering over the squad. Medley was brought in from left field to fill McLean's shoes. Joe has been temporarily benched. Sheehy, an outfielder by trade, is filling in at second base in lieu of Walt Grebe's change to left field. Jake Risley is now working in the middle garden. Either Dick Nelson or Bill Tureck will play first base or right field when not pitching.

"You might as well become accustomed to playing any position," said Bez, in last night's talk to the boys. "A good ball player can perform reasonably well any place. We only have 16 men from which to pick a squad to make a ball club. I've got to make use of all my material, so don't be surprised if you are switched all over the field."

K. U. MAY NOT FEED GRADS

State Auditor Gives Order That Alumni Are Not to Be Banqueted.

Technicality may prevent the University of Kansas from entertaining the alumni and other guests at the annual commencement dinner. According to "The Graduate Magazine," the University has received from the state auditor what amounts to an order that it shall not entertain alumni at a commencement dinner, notwithstanding the fact that the money for this entertainment is paid into the state treasury by the graduating classes for the specific purpose of meeting such expenses. The auditor disallowed the bill last year and the attorney-general has given his support to the ruling. Last year 1100 guests sat down to the University dinner at Lawrence. Chancellor Frank Strong, formerly president of the University of Oregon, is said to be anxious to do anything in his power to help carry on such substitute plan as the Kansas alumni may adopt.

Students Allright Is Dean's Opinion

Journalism Classes Get Out Guard Nicely and Fail to Be Scooped.

That the journalism students are handling the Daily Guard very nicely is the opinion of Dean E. W. Allen. "They haven't been scooped yet and could easily run two pages of news more than the usual size of the Guard permits," says the dean.

Staff positions are competitive and changeable. They have been temporarily filled by the following students: Telegraph editor, Grace Edgington; managing editor, Wallace Eakin; assistant managing editor, Merlin Batley; proof reading, Carmen Swanson; copy desk, Clytie Hall and Bernice Lucas.

Prof. C. V. Dymont, of the journalism department, says that the work on the Guard has brought out the newspaper instinct in some students and shown that it does not exist in others.

He thinks the copy has been good, but regrets that no unusual situations have arisen to be dealt with by the students. He suggests that it is natural to think that "70 student reporters" should be able to do the work of the two regular reporters on the paper.

ORCHESTRA PLAYS APR. 11

New York Organization With Noted Pianist Big Musical Treat of the Season.

The New York Symphony orchestra, under the direction of the distinguished conductor, Dr. Damrosch and Josef Hofmann as piano soloist, will be in Eugene, April 11, to give a concert. This is one of the greatest musical treats the city has ever had the good fortune to hear.

This organization is on a transcontinental tour during which 100 concerts will be given in all of the large cities and educational centers of the United States. Such a trip is made possible by an endowment of one hundred thousand dollars a year which is given by a New York man. For thirty-two years Dr. Damrosch has been the conductor of this orchestra so that at present it is generally known as the Damrosch orchestra.

At the present time Dr. Damrosch is the only composer conductor before the American public. On most of his programs a specialty of his compositions is made. Eugene will have a chance to hear excerpts from "Iphigenia in Aulis" by Mr. Damrosch. This composer does not belong to the new school of music but patterns after the older writers who made more over melody and rhythm. All of his compositions show a characteristic of conservatism.

Josef Hofmann is a very noted Polish pianist, who has made friends in countries all over the world by his playing. He made his debut in musical circles when six years old and appeared on an American tour in 1887 when only ten years of age. It was during this tour that Dr. Damrosch became acquainted with this noted artist and ever since that time they have been the closest of friends.

The seat sale will open Thursday, April 6, at Sherwin-Moore Drug store. Prices $2, $1.50, $1.

PAUL BOND WINS PLACE ON O. TENNIS TEAM

Two Men Now Placed. Third Position Will Be Filled by End of Week.

By defeating Walter Church in the finals of the tryouts yesterday Paul Bond won for himself a place on the Varsity tennis team. Lewis Bond, captain of the team, has already been conceded a place and the third position lies between Hurd, Church, Hayes and Moore. The semi-finals will be played today, Hurd vs. Church, Hayes vs. Moore and the winners will play of tomorrow.

With the team settled, work will commence at once to get into shape for the match with the University of Washington scheduled here for the 25 and 26 of May.

Washington will be represented by an unusually strong team, Captain Bond says. One of their men, Myura, has played Varsity tennis for 4 years. The other two men, Canfield and Kaufman are both 3-year men. All three represented Washington here 2 years ago.

An attempt is being made to secure matches with O. A. C. If they can be arranged they will be played the latter part of April or the first week in July.

Capit Bond has also written to Multnomah club for a match which if secured will probably be played Junior Week-end.

STUDY HABITS SUBJECT OF EDUCATIONAL SURVEY

Thousand Questionnaires Sent to Superintendents Inquiring as to Home Work and School Conditions.

The University department of education is making a survey of the study habits of high school students. Six standard high schools have been chosen for this examination. One thousand blanks have been distributed, which contain such questions as "How many hours have you studied at home this week?" "How many hours have you studied at school?"

One of the unfilled positions at the employment bureau of the University of Nebraska is that of a first-class detective.

Students "Load to Muzzle" in Preparation for Vacation

Advertising Campaign Will Be Conducted Among High Schools of State in Order to Increase Enrollment at University Coming Fall. Dates Are Set Aside by Principals for Assembly Talks by Representatives.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock, there was a general meeting of students returning home for spring vacation who will "talk University" in their home town high schools. Loaded to the muzzle with all the information that any one can possibly demand as to the University of Oregon, they will go out prepared to bring in the "game."

Roberta Killam, corresponding secretary of the Greater Oregon committee, has received replies from many of the principals of state high schools setting aside dates when an assembly will be granted. Any one expecting to go home who is willing to "talk" can find out from Miss Killam, phone 1131-L, what date has been set aside in their own town.

It has been suggested that after vacation a big "experience" meeting be held, and all the "talkers" summarize their adventures and the possible results. Lamar Toozee who is to travel up one side of the Willamette to Portland, and down the other side, stopping twice a day at high schools, is expected to have something unusually interesting to relate. The "Taming of the Shrew" which will be put on at the Hellig in Portland, Saturday night, April 15, will be another feature in the "Advertising Oregon" campaign. Between the third and fourth acts, Oregon students in the audience will sing Oregon songs.

As a "capper" to the work of the high school speakers and an illustrated University booklet that is to be put out the latter part of April, the Greater Ore-

BASKETBALL AGAIN ASKED IN PETITIONS

Copies Will Go to Alumni and Students to Sport Reinstated.

Petitions are being circulated over the campus to be signed by all students desiring the reinstatement of intercollegiate basketball. Copies of these were left at every club and fraternity immediately after the student council meeting yesterday afternoon.

The petition reads: "To the faculty of the University of Oregon:

"We, the undersigned students, want intercollegiate basketball reinstated at the University of Oregon."

Harry Kuck, representative of the council committee for the reinstatement of basketball made the following report: "The committee has carefully investigated the status of basketball. We have talked with Prof. E. E. De Cou, chairman of the intramural sports committee, and with the members of the faculty athletic committee, Profs. H. C. Howe, and Colin V. Dymont, and with Coach Hugo Bezdek.

"Prof. Howe said that he is a friend of basketball and always will be. Mr. Bezdek is also in favor of reinstating it. However, Prof. Howe advised that the students take no action until fall.

"The committee has, nevertheless, decided to go ahead with the matter, since the fall will be full of football and more time can be given to it now.

"These petitions will be circulated among the students and the alumni. We hope to show the faculty that the students, alumni, and others concerned are anxious to have basketball put back on the inter-collegiate calendar. The petitions sent to the alumni will be accompanied by a form letter giving our reasons and explaining the situation at the University."

Following the report of this committee, Chester Miller submitted a statement regarding the co-operative store. The store will probably not be started until fall. Robert McAusland, instructor in the department of commerce, has been suggested as general manager. Mr. McAusland has been invited to present his

SIXTY-TWO ANSWER "PRESENT" LAST NIGHT AT MILITARY TURNOUT IN GYMNASIUM

Competition for Officers Is Concluded and Twenty Men Are Placed According to Merit in the Two Companies. Enthusiasm Features Meeting and Appears to Warrant Its Outliving the Novelty of the Affair.

Co-Ed Overrules Managing Editor

Senior Has "Aesthetic Taste" and Refuses to Break Guard Column Rules.

"No column rule on the first page shall be broken for a head or banner of any kind looking the least bit 'yellow!'" This definite edict was laid down by Miss Grace Edgington, senior co-ed from Hood River, and now telegraph editor of the Eugene Guard, the daily paper being put out by the students of the department of journalism. Even Dean Allen has been overruled and other professors of the department, not to speak of the managing editor himself. Miss Edgington is strictly a conservative.

As for her reasons for keeping the heads within a single column this fair co-ed says, "To break the column rules violates my aesthetic taste. And to see big headlines always denotes excitement, and I believe in a calm, cool poise."

So the dean, the professors and the managing editor have fallen in line and the makeup of the paper is as the telegraph editor orders.

While not strictly adherents to the suffrage movement, they have a deep rooted respect for the judgment of this co-ed. Speaking of her work as a telegraph editor Dean Allen says: "She is making good and has shown herself a capable person around a newspaper office."

FEW STUDENTS LEFTOVER

Most of Those Remaining Say "Work" Will Be the Watchword Henceforth.

Tomorrow will see the suitcases carried to the departing trains for home. By Saturday morning the campus will be as isolated as the North Pole. Here and there will be seen a student improving the non-class time by making up for past indulgences. At least this is what the leftovers say they will do. But here is the list of those staying:

Sixty-two answered "present" at the second voluntary drill turnout in Hayward hall last night. Competition for officers places was concluded and Captain W. G. Williams and Major W. L. Coppernoll, O. N. G., placed twenty men, according to merit, in the lieutenant, sergeant and corporal positions in the two companies.

The men were formed into a company and instruction in company movements given.

Enthusiasm again featured the gathering. Enough enthusiasm has appeared to warrant its outliving the novelty of the affair, say national guard officers. Those officers present last night were: Major W. L. Coppernoll, Captain W. G. Williams, First Lieutenant H. G. Keeney, Lane County Treasurer S. W. Taylor, veteran of the Civil war, also appeared on the floor.

K. K. Kingsbury, Franklin Folts and Lyman Pickett were named respectively as the most capable "order givers" among the officer aspirants. To them were assigned two lieutenants and a sergeant's position. Captains Foster and Harwood have pointed out that merit will continue to win places in the officer's ranks and that therefore present appointments are as temporary as their holders will make them. An officer's school is to be maintained.

Men for the separate companies will be most probably chosen in alphabetical order. Eighty-five is the total enlistment; twenty-three failed to answer to roll call last night.

EXHIBITION NEEDS $100

Paintings of American Artists May Be Seen Here If Amount Is Raised.

As the Emerald goes to press it is impossible to tell whether or not the collection of oil paintings enroute to Los Angeles can be brought to Eugene. The town and University people are working to raise the amount required. Mr. Allen Eaton, who has agreed to take the responsibility for the pictures while here, says that if $100 is promised by Saturday night, he will have the exhibit stopped here on its way to Los Angeles.

The exhibition consists of one painting each of 27 leading American artists. The pictures are valued at more than $25,000. There is a great and interesting variety of subjects. Eugene has never had such an opportunity before and it would seem that there are many readers of the Emerald who would help.

Those who wish to help should not send money but should write or telephone the amounts they will give. Phone 852 architectural building in the day or 162L Mr. Eaton in the evening.
