

BACKED FOR ROSE FESTIVAL QUEEN.

MISS EDEL F RAASCH.

INTEREST EXHIBITED IN QUEEN CAMPAIGN

Effort to Elect Edel Fraasch Meets With Encouraging Aid; Dance to Be Given.

Active interest is being shown in the campaign to elect Edel Fraasch queen of the Portland rose festival.

Various means are being used to aid in the campaign. On May 5, a benefit dance will be given at the armory to secure funds for the campaign.

Spring football practice at California will come to a close tomorrow, after six weeks of work learning the fundamental elements of the American game.

the committee from the student body are Lamar Tooze, James Sheehy and Merlin Batley.

It is also planned to have a special afternoon and night at the Rex theatre. The management has promised to turn over a portion of the door receipts with which to buy votes for Miss Fraasch.

A number of buttons have been received from the Portland rose festival committee advertising the festival. Each one of these buttons sells for 10 cents and each one sold credit is given for 200 votes.

Ballot boxes have been placed in the stores about the city, and in these the votes that are published in the newspapers can be deposited.

The old wooden amphitheatre, at the University of Washington, a relic of the Alaska, Yukon, Pacific exposition, is to be torn down, as it is in a state of ruin.

POLITY CLUB TO MEET

Will Form Initial Organization Thursday at 7:30 P. M. at Beta Theta Pi House.

The initial meeting of the International Polity club will be held next Thursday evening at the Beta Theta Pi house at 7:30, to effect a preliminary organization.

Lamar Tooze, president of the student body, who has been instrumental in formulating interest in the new club, said, "The object of the club is to discuss all phases of present day vital political and international topics."

"The central club originated in England several years ago, but no branches were formed in the United States until 1913. They are financially backed by Andrew Carnegie. There will be no expense to the members excepting a few cents postage."

"The finest lecturers in the world are sent out without cost to the clubs. Such men as Norman Angell, editor of the Paris Mail, are obtained."

"Annually, delegates from the different branch clubs meet in some city. This year the convention will take place at Madison, Wis. Every club is allowed one or two representatives, whose expenses are paid out of the Carnegie funds. No particular propaganda for or against war, suffrage or other questions is taken up, but a thorough study is made of both sides of every proposition."

"The persons that are invited to attend the preliminary meeting next Thursday and are there will constitute the members of the club. One week later another meeting will be held at effect the permanent organization and adopt a final constitution. After this year, I think that the membership should be limited to 25 or under."
