REORGANIZATION PLAN MAY BE READY MAY 6

Portland Alumni Have Recommendations Almost Completed; Plan Meets Favor.

Definite recommendations for the reorganization of the alumni in June will probably be completed by the Portland alumni at their monthly meeting and luncheon at the Haselwood, May 6.

Various schemes for reorganization are being proposed. The plans which the Portland committee has worked out have been received favorably by alumni organizations throughout the state.

The general plans drawn by this committee are: provision for organization wherever it is possible for four or five ex-students to meet as frequently as once a month, and that each local association shall choose a corresponding secretary who shall keep other alumni informed of the progress of the association by contributions every three months to the alumni publication; that the annual alumni meeting shall be changed into a convention in which representatives of the local associations shall read their annual reports; that an alumni council composed of 12 members, including the president and secretary of the alumni association shall be formed. The duties of this council, which shall meet twice a year, shall be to submit questions to alumni for referendum by mail, to prepare programs for alumni day at commencement and to assist local associations to carry on all business of the association.

"Associations in all important localities are necessary because the central organization of the alumni with its alumni meeting and page in the Emerald can do little more than scratch the surface," says a bulletin entitled "What Every Alumnus Ought to Know," edited by Earl Kilpatrick, alumni secretary, and published by the school of university extensions, May 1. Copies of this bulletin are being sent to all alumni.

Besides the suggested reorganization plans this pamphlet gives alumni day plans and programs, and also contains matter relating to the Alumni Dollar.

JAPANESE EDITOR VISITS

Graduate of Harvard and University of Chicago Addresses Classes.

Jiuli G. Kasai, graduate of both Harvard and the University of Chicago, editor of the Pacific Press, a Japanese paper published in San Francisco, was a visitor to the University yesterday and addressed the classes in journalism and commercial and industrial survey.

Mr. Kasai has been a resident of this country for a number of years studying the customs and history of the American people. While at Harvard he specialized in international law and diplomacy. The Pacific Press is a weekly which has a large circulation in Japan and keeps the people of that country informed of the world's news. Besides publishing the paper, Mr. Kasai acts as correspondent for some of the leading papers of Japan.

In his address to the journalism classes Mr. Kasai told of the conditions of the press in Japan and made a plea for better and cleaner journalism.

He cited several instances where the public opinion of Japan was turned against the United States by false reports and yellow journalism. Japan does not want trouble with the United States, according to Mr. Kasai, and he has taken it upon himself to keep his countrymen informed as to the true relations existing between the two nations.

PLAN FOR COLLEGE DAY.

The women of the University are giving a college day at the Peter Pan on Saturday, May 6. There will be special "eats" and music. The management of the Peter Pan has promised to give one-half of the proceeds to the women.

THURSDAY AT 7 P. M. BAND CONCERT DATE

Is First of Series to Be Given Thursday Evenings; McClure Balcony Is Bandstand.

The outdoor band concert, postponed from Easter Sunday, will be given on the campus Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. This concert has received the indorsement of the faculty and administration which eliminates all possibility of its being postponed again unless the weather conditions are unfavorable.

The series of concerts which had been planned for Sunday afternoons will probably be given on Thursday evenings throughout the remainder of the year, and it is expected that they will prove a popular feature. Thursday evening has been chosen as the one night in the week which is not taken up by some University activity. This will probably insure a good crowd.

The balcony of McClure has been selected as a bandstand which will make the campus and steps of the other buildings good reserved seats with room for everybody.

TENNIS TEAM ANNOUNCED

Roberta Killam, Adrienne Epping and Frances Baker Win Places.

The semi-finals in the women's tennis tournament were played off Wednesday, fixing the three girls on the University tennis team. Those making the team are Roberta Killam, Adrienne Epping and Frances Baker. The finals to decide the University championship will be played off the latter part of the week. The winner will get the Hendershott racquet and earn the right to hold the Laraway cup for a year.

The team as it now stands will play O. A. C. here Junior week-end. The champions will play the singles matches and the runners up will play the doubles. Another tournament with a racquet up for the winner is being planned for May 28, the women's field day. This will give any aspirants for tennis laurels who played in hard luck in the past tournament a second chance to win out in this sport.

WILL DISCUSS NOVELISTS

Eutaxians Choose American Novelists as Subject for Discussions.

American novelists will be the subject for this month's discussions of the Eutaxin Literary society. The following David Graham Phillips program will be given tonight: David Graham Phillips, His Life and Work, by Marlan Page; a review and criticism of his books, "The Hungry Heart," and "The Grain of Dust," by Helen Dresser and Lillian Boylen. A short discussion will follow the program. Robert Herrick and Richard Harding Davis will be discussed during the next two meetings of the society.

There are 136 American college and university graduates serving as volunteer ambulance drivers in the ambulance service in France.
