

SENIORS ARE READY TO SHOW "ARIZONA"

Director Mott Says Cast Has Assimilated Military Spirit of the Drama.

FRALEY AND BATLEY ARE LEADS

Plot Is Pleasingly Laid in Arizona, Where Time Is No Item.

By Martha Beer.

Although there has been but four rehearsals of "Arizona," the senior class play which is to be given at the Eugene theatre on Friday next, James Mott already has the caste whipped into fine shape and if necessary, could put on a creditable performance two days ahead of time.

"All the world loves a lover," stage lovers, especially, and Merlin Batley as Lieutenant Denton and Rita Fraley as Bonita Canby are no exception to the rule. They are both experts in the art of dramatic interpretation, and their performance of the leading roles of the play promises to be a treat.

The plot of the play is laid in Arizona, where, as Mrs. Canby says: "You have to let the clock run down to tell when it's Sunday." Mr. Canby is a millionaire ranch owner with two daughters; Bonita, young, vivacious and unmarried, and Estella, also young and emotional, and married to Colonel Bonham, of the 11th U. S. Cavalry who is much older than she.

Captain Hodgman, who cares only for her money, works upon the affections of Estrella and makes her promise to go away with him. Lieutenant Denton, who loves Bonita, discovers their plans, and in the absence of Colonel Bonham prevents the elopement and reveals Hodgman's real character to Estrella. Denton has saved Estrella from a scandal, but in so doing, he has incurred the suspicion of Colonel Bonham, who has returned home unexpectedly.

Rather than explain his presence in the house to the irate Colonel, Denton resigns his lieutenantancy and becomes a major-domo in the employ of Mr. Canby in order to be near Bonita.

Estrella is not the only woman who has come under the influence of Hodgman's machinations, and Tony Mostano, a Mexican vaquero on the Canby ranch, shoots Hodgman when he discovers that Hodgman has wronged his sweetheart, Lena.

8 SENIOR ORATORS TRY

Two Eliminated in Preliminary Contest for Orations for Failing-Beekman Contest.

Saturday morning at nine o'clock in Guild Hall, eight seniors tried out in the preliminary contest for senior orations to be delivered in the Failing-Beekman contest Tuesday, June 13.

The contestants and their subjects were as follows:

Lamar Tooze, "America, The Hope of the World." Cloyd Dawson, "The Price of World Peace." Harold Humbert, "Behold the Man." Louise Bailey, "Education by Play." Cleveland Simpkins, "Man's Place in the Scheme of Things."

Chester Fee, "Insurance Against War." Wilmot Foster, "Democratization of Medicine." Prentice Brown, "Oregon Spirit."

Foster and Brown are eliminated. The rest will compete for the Failing and Beekman prizes during commencement.

The Failing prize, not to exceed $150, is the income from a gift of $2500 made to the University by Henry Failing, of Portland. The Beekman prize, not to exceed $100, is the income from a gift of $1600 made to the University by C. C. Beekman, of Jacksonville.

These are given as the first and second prizes to the seniors who give the best orations at graduation.

NOTICE.

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of manager of the Oregon Emerald.
GEORGE T. COLTON.

'I Love You,' Sings Poet-Can't Finish

Unfinished Ballad Is Unearthed by Hungry Copy Editor; More to Come (Maybe).

(The following was found among some loose papers on the copy desk in the Emerald office. It is published in the hope that the author will claim and finish it, thus enabling the Emerald to give its readers the remainder of the poem in the next issue.)

I love you, the breezes carry it
To the birds who bear it to the western seas—
I love you; the cloudlets carry it.

OREGANA IS PRINTED; DELIVERY HAS BEGUN

Editor Is Glad Work Is Over, But Says It Has Been Fun; Thanks His Staff.

The Oregana with 400 pages is out. Today copies of it were being distributed. The book is dedicated to William L. Hayward with the words: "In appreciation of the all northwest championships in 12 years which he has given the university, of the high sportsmanship which he has inspired and encouraged, and of his influence over the state for better and squarer athletics, this volume of the Oregana is respectfully dedicated."

The aim of the book as set forth in the foreword was to present an accurate, comprehensive, and attractive record of the year and to reflect the spirit of Oregon.

Since the chrysanthemum is the university flower, it is used in the book as the main idea in the decorative scheme. The border throughout the book is a chrysanthemum printed in yellow tint and in the initial letters the same flower is used.

The type used in the captions has never been used before in the Oregana; it is the cloister oldstyle, which resembles hand lettering.

The front piece is a colored picture of the mill race. In the first section of the book are several artistic campus views.

The drawings at the head of each department are printed on special inserts, sepia cameo stock. Uniformity in the drawings was sought by having the same style of lettering on each design.

The athletic events of the year are reviewed in detail and there are individual pictures and writ-ups of the football players.

Two innovations in the Oregana are the inclusion of scholarship and writing at the university. In the latter section is printed some of the more or less literary work of the students. A poem, "On the Mill Race," written especially for the book by Dean Collins, '10, starts the section.

The feature section is replete with photographs.

Milton Stoddard, editor of the Oregana, says, "Although the job has been lots of work, it has been fun, but I am glad it is over. I am grateful to my good staff, to the subscribers, and to the advertisers."

CRACK TENNIS TEAM AT U. S. C.

Five state championships, fourteen cups, two tennis raquets and a championship banner were some of the honors brought home last week by the tennis team of the University of Southern California.

HOW WOULD YOU VOTE?

Grinnel conducted a voting contest last week and the distinctions were made between beautiful, talented and popular girls; handsome, homely and popular men: Wussers and crabs.

POLLS OPEN 10 TO 2 IN VILLARD TOMORROW

Results by Each 100 Votes Will Be Posted; "Every Student Turn Out and Vote."

The polls open at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in Villard hall for the election of student-body officers, the most popular man, woman and athlete in the University and upon three amendments that have been submitted to the constitution and by-laws of the student body. The polls close at 2 p. m.

The presidential race promises to be a close one. Bob McMurray, Martin Nelson and Nicholas Jaureguy are all capable men and each is optimistic. Generally speaking there is less interest than usual in the election and competition is lacking for many offices. Loren Roberts and Ernest Watkins both desire the vice-presidency; Echo Zahl and Jennie Huggins are up for secretary of the student body and Harold Hamstreet and Milton Stoddard hope to pilot the Emerald next year. The rest of the offices go by default except one place on the student council for senior women and one for junior men.

Two Polls Provided

There will be two polling places, one for students whose names begin from A to K and one for those from K to Z. The election board appointed by Chairman Kuck will be composed of: Genevieve Shaver, Roscoe Hurd, Helen Weigand, Claude Hampton, Lucille Watson, Roy Stephens, Virginia Peterson, Chester Miller, Louise Bailey, Mandell Weiss, Bob Bean and Mina Ferguson.

Besides the "no electioneering" stipulation voters should remember the provision in Article 3, Sec. 9 of the constitution which says: "When two or more candidates are to be elected and the voter casts his vote for fewer than that number, that portion of his ballot shall be void."

The executive committee of the student body, Lamar Tooze, Claire Raley, Fred Dunbar, Wallace Eakin and Harry Kuck will begin counting votes at 2 o'clock and results will be posted after every hundred.

George Cotton Enters Race

A novel situation has arisen through the withdrawal of Howard McCulloch as candidate for manager of the Emerald. McCulloch was the only nominee for the place and the constitution permits no special session for submitting other names. George Colton has announced his candidacy for the managership and voters will simply have to supply his name in the blank left on the ballot for that purpose.

The "popularity contest" is a new wrinkle at Oregon. The Luckey Jewelry company is offering a cup for the most popular woman and for the most popular athlete. There will be separate ballots for this election and a separate board to count them.

The sophomore representative amendment is up for another vote; one amendment would provide gold block "O's" for Emerald and Oregana editors and one amendment to the by-laws would award blankets to three-year letter men who turn out in any one sport for four consecutive seasons.

Committees of Students Drawn for Record University Work Day

The committees for campus day work have been drawn at random from the student-body list. Each group has been put in charge of a senior who is responsible for the work of his committee and is expected to check up on the attendance of its members by an orderly roll-call.

"Every senior has not been put at the head of a special committee because there were not enough to go around," said Wilmot Foster, general chairman of junior week-end. "But whether or not you are named, senior, you are expected to do the managing and bossing end of the campus day work."

The police force will be on hand all Friday morning, and has arranged a little stunt to entertain the men, while they work—or loaf.

Following is the list of committees: Baseball—Wallace Eakin, chairman, Prentiss Brown, Anson Cornell, Dave Leach, Walter Meyers, Robert Wright, Marshall Woodworth, Jesse Witty,

160 'PREPPERS' SIGN FOR TRACK EVENTS

Many Have Not Entered Meet So Far, Probably Due to Expense.

One hundred and sixty entries have already been received by Registrar A. R. Tiffany for the state inter-scholastic track and field meet, to be staged on Kincaid field next Saturday, May 13. Many of the schools represented in former years have not been heard from. Neither Washington High, Portland Academy, or Columbia University, of Portland—schools that have featured strongly in the meets of past years,—haven't entered as yet. Foster is the only athletic entered from eastern Oregon so far.

Cost Cuts Down Entries.

The failure of the many high schools throughout the state to be represented, is not because of a lack of interest in track athletics, according to Mr. Tiffany, but because each school must pay the expenses incurred by her athletes where as in former years, the University has brought them here.

Columbia University won the honors last year with 38 points and the year before with 37. Jefferson and Washington high taking second respectively. Medals will be presented for all thirteen events. Gold for first; silver for second; and bronze for third. The team winning the relay will receive a silver loving cup with the name and time made engraved upon it.

160 Names Received.

The entries at present consists of the following: Albany: Allen, Beal, Schultz, Bilyeu, Butler, Boettcher, Loiminger, Grove McCheaney.

Ashland: Abbott, Lowe, Slack, Winnie. Astoria: Lee, Anderson, Johnson, Tucker.

Clatskanie: McGillivray, Graham, Eslersten, Van, McKiel. Coquille: Hooton, Lorenz. Corvallis: McBride, Payne, Post, Wolcott, Alcorn, Phillips.

Cottage Grove: Redford, Holderman, Roy, Smith, Callison, Wood, Anlauf, Berg.

Crook County: Brosius, Braman, Estes.

Dayton: Peffer, Chapman, Detmering, V. Foster, F. Foster.

Dorena: Kirk, Redford, Earlow. Elmira: Marsh, Lamb, Miller, Conant, Yoder, Inman, Peterson, Mix.

Eugene Enters 14. Eugene: Manerude, Kellogg, Larson, Qualls, Koepf, Peltier, Faris, Purdy, Finseth, Davis, Callison, Edbloom, Bell, Madden.

Franklin: Collins, Lieuellen, Davis, Byers, Post, Hoizlip, Peake, Powell, Mackay, Deckervell.

Grants Pass: Bestul, LeRoy, Woolfolk, Reynolds.

EMERALD RECOMMENDS

Vote "NO" on amendment to award editors of Emerald and Oregon a gold "O".
(Signed) EDITOR.

Oregonian Editor and Owner to Visit

Portland Men Due on Campus Tomorrow and Will Be Banqueted in Evening.

H. L. Pittock, founder of the Oregonian and for sixty years connected with the newspaper business of the state, and Edgar B. Piper, editor of the Oregonian, will visit the University Wednesday.

Mr. Piper will address an assembly of all journalism students at 1 o'clock in Guild hall, recounting the history of the Oregonian from its beginning in the fifties through its growth to its present position as one of the few great newspapers of the country. Mr. Piper came from Seattle some fifteen years ago to take a position on the Oregonian, and became editor in 1910, upon the death of Harvey W. Scott, who was associated with Mr. Pittock in the paper's early days.

During the afternoon the University and especially the school of journalism will be inspected by the guests, and at 6 o'clock a banquet in their honor will be given at the Osburn hotel. Mr. Piper will be the principal speaker. Mr. Pittock, who is over 80 years of age, will make no addresses.

At this banquet about thirty will be present. President and Mrs. Campbell, the faculty of the school of journalism and students representing the Emerald, the Oregana, journalism upperclassmen and underclassmen, Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi are expected. Former students now in active newspaper work and representatives of Eugene newspapers are also invited. President Campbell will act as toastmaster.

ELECT WOMAN EDITOR

Beatrice Locke to Pilot Women's Edition of the Emerald Due Next Saturday.

Beatrice Locke was elected editor of the Women's Edition of the Oregon Emerald which is to be published this coming Saturday, at a recent meeting of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism fraternity, which will have charge of the edition this year. Miss Locke will fill the place left vacant by Grace Edgington who was obliged to give up the editorship on account of her work as proof reader on the Eugene Morning Register.

The staff for the women's edition will be composed of girls who are taking journalism courses and those who are regular Emerald reporters as well as all the members of Theta Sigma Phi.

The staff is as follows:

Editor in Chief.....Beatrice Locke

DIMMED BATTING EYES AND O.A.C.'S SLUGGING LOSE TRIP TO VARSITY

Double Header at Corvallis Yesterday Costs Title to Oregon's Ball Nine.

AGGIES HAMMER TUERCK HARD

Bezdek's Men on Edge But Scores 6-0 and 6-3 Favor Corvallisites.

(By Jimmy Sheehy)

The Oregon baseball team will not make the southern trip to play California and Stanford.

That much was decided yesterday when the varsity unnecessarily jeopardized its conference title by playing O. A. C. a double-header amidst intermittent showers of rain on a field that did not bear a semblance to a baseball diamond. By virtue of defeating the lemon-yellow by scores of 6 to 0 and 6 to 3 the Aggies won the conference championship and the right to invade California.

The first game started at 3 p. m., a half an hour later than the scheduled time. Bill Tuerck was on the mound for Oregon with Sieberts doing the heavy work for O. A. C. The varsity went out in one, two, three order in their half of the opening inning, not being able to get the ball out of the infield. With two down Tuerck walked Goble who scored a minute later on Baldwin's single and Sieberts's two-bagger. Goble again scored in the third on Grebe's error, followed by a sacrifice and Loof's pinch single.

The Aggies scored one in the fourth frame and drove over two more scores in the fifth on singles by Loof, and Funk and Morgan's lucky two-base hit to right field. Hits by Sieberts and Loof scored Baldwin in the eighth who was a given a life on Cornell's error. Sieberts was in rare mettle throughout the entire nine innings and the varsity was able to glean but two safe swats off his delivery. He used a fast breaking curve almost entirely to fool the Oregon batters, coupled with a fast ball. He kept the ball on the corners and pitched unbeatable ball.

It is hard to account for the hammering the Aggies gave Bill Tuerck in his final appearance under the lemon-yellow. No matter how much stuff Bill put on the ball the Beavers cracked him to all corners of the field. Had the game been played on Friday as scheduled the score would no doubt have been reversed. Bezdek's men were on edge at the time and the three days' layoff dimmed their batting eyes as well removing the dash and zip from the team.

After a 15 minutes intermission, to allow Rathbun to warm up, the second game was started. Sieberts again was in the points for the orange and black and lasted the full nine innings. Sheehy, first man up for Oregon, led off with a long three-bagger to deep center field, but went to seed while the next three batters were being retired. Seeley reached first on Nelson's miscue and went to second on Morgan's scratch single. They both advanced on Goble's out and scored when Medley allowed Baldwin's short fly to fall on the ground in front of him. Errors by Cornell, Medley, and Nelson, coupled with a wild pitch and Loof's bingle counted two more tallies.

Sheehy singled in the third inning but was forced at second on Maison's grounder. Cornell reached first on Seeley's boot and Maison and Cornell tallied on successive hits by Nelson and Huntington. Huntington scored when Loof threw the slippery ball far over Goble's head. A steady rain fell throughout the early innings of the game and Umpire Casey was about to call the game just before the shower stopped. The ball became as slimy as an eel and it was almost impossible to handle it cleanly. However, the Aggies saw to it that pitcher Sieberts was well supplied with dry balls whenever he desired them.

Loof knocked in the Beaver's fifth run in the same frame, following a base on balls and an error by Maison. They brought in their final tally in the eighth when Seeley reached third and Rathbun overran a bad throw from the outfield. Every break of the game went against Oregon. Time and again they had men on bases only to have a rally nipped by
