

Oregon Welcomes Her Junior Week-End Guests

MYTHICAL BALL NINE PICKED BY DOPESTER

Three Varsity Men Included in Roster of Northwest All-Stars.

CATCHER EASIEST TO PICK

Aggressive Little "Pop" Cornell Selected as Captain and Shortstop of Paper Team.

- ◆ The Emerald's all-star conference baseball team for 1916.
- ◆ Huntington (U. of O.)...Catcher
- ◆ Rogers (U. of W.)...Pitcher
- ◆ Sieberts (O. A. C.)...Pitcher
- ◆ Tuerch (U. of O.)...Pitcher
- ◆ Goble (O. A. C.)...1st Base
- ◆ Loof (O. A. C.)...2nd Base
- ◆ Cornell (U. of O.) Cap...Short Stop
- ◆ Seely (O. A. C.)...3rd Base
- ◆ Taylor (U. of W.)...Left Field
- ◆ Baldwin (O. A. C.)...Center Field
- ◆ Young (U. of W.)...Right Field
- ◆ Conyers (O. A. C.)...Right Field
- ◆ Smith (U. of W.)...Utility

(Jimmy Sheehy)

Now that the conference baseball season is ended and all the teams have been seen in action the fans have resurrected their pads and pencils to dope out a mythical all-star nine. Picking an all-star team is at best a most difficult task especially when each school plays but eight games during the season. The writer has attempted to award the places on the team to the men who have played the most consistent ball during the year without any regard for previous reputation on the diamond. After careful consideration this team looks to be the cream of the conference tossers.

The catching job is the easiest one of the lot to pick. Shy Huntington, the varsity backstop, was the find of the year, and stood head and shoulders over rival backstops in all departments of the

Arizonians Await Rise of Asbestos

Production Is Replete With Heart-Throbbing and Mirth-Provoking Scenes. Creditable Performance Is Promised by Critic Who Attended Rehearsals.

(By Martha Beer.)

When the curtain rises on the Senior play "Arizona," Friday night, the audience will have the pleasure of seeing one of the most interesting plays that has ever been given by a University cast.

The play is western through and through and much is added to the drama by the quaint colloquialisms of Mr. and Mrs. Canby. When picking out characteristic speeches of the play, it will be found that over 50 per cent of them are uttered by these two people. "Pa" Canby's bluff philosophizing and Mrs. Canby's dissatisfaction with ranch life, coupled with her overweening admiration for the soldiers, is heartwarming and laughable and certain to register a hit with the audience. They are both rich parts, and in the hands of Clark Burgard and Charlie Fenton, creditable characterizations are expected.

Tony Responsible for Local Color.

Tony Mostano, the Mexican Romeo, is also responsible for a large share of local color and Arizona spirit. When he asserts that he will marry Lena Kellar (Edith Ochs) in spite of her past, Colonel characteristically exclaims, "That's Arizona. We're a little shy on water here, but there's as much charity for a woman as you'll find in the whole gospel of St. John." The forceful Tony will undoubtedly be a bright spot on the play and Mandell Weiss' former successes

WELCOME TO OREGON.

The University of Oregon extends to all of its guests the glad-hand of good-fellowship. The keys of the campus are hereby handed over to the visitors. Everything that Oregon has to offer is at your command.

The ideal of the festival is to widen the University's field of friendship. All visitors—high school students, alumni, parents and friends of students, and out-of-state guests—are earnestly begged to enter into the spirit of the campus, to consider everyone on the campus as an old friend.

The University has prepared a wonderful program, and weather permitting, things will go off in schedule time with "zip" and "pep."

When our guests leave we sincerely hope that they will be able to say, "We've had the time of our lives. Here's to Oregon!"

Poet-Mood Returns Another Verse Out

Versifier Trills Again to Ease the Hard Heart of the Copy Editor.

Upon my return—with a wealth of imaginary thots—I found my foregone inspiration GONE. I had left it but a moment and now it is gone forever! It appeared in the crude form—the finished product I feel will never appear. Readers! Here is something on the same theme, but not of the same calibre. I will submit even a third verse later: "My love is like the Dragon-fly, It flits now her—now there. With breathless swiftness down it swoops And lights on victim—unaware."

LAST VESPERS ARE SUNDAY

Father O'Hara, of Portland, Speaker and Glee Clubs Sing.

The Monthly Vesper service will be held next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in Vallard Hall. The combined Glee clubs will render several musical selections. Father O'Hara of the Catholic church of Portland will be the speaker for this service.

FAIR WEATHER PROMISES ZIPPY TIME FOR BIG JUNIOR WEEK-END FESTIVITIES

Water Fete Starts Festival Ceremonies Tonight. Kincaid Oval in Good Shape and Fast Time May be Made. Entries Are in For Oregon, O. A. C., and the State High Schools.

With a northwestern wind blowing away the clouds and the sun coming out with its tropical heat prospects are shaping themselves for one of the grandest Junior week-ends in the history of Oregon. Tonight the festivities start with the water fete and from that moment on it will be zip and zazz to the last dance of the Junior prom. Featuring as a major part of the week-end are the Oregon-O. A. C. and state interscholastic track meets. Tonight the track was in fair shape and with a little attention tomorrow the Kincaid oval will be in readiness for some fast time. Friday afternoon the dual meet with O. A. C. takes place and all day Saturday will be devoted to running off scholastic events. No predictions are being made on the outcome of the annual tangle with the Corvallisites, but hopes of the Oregon fans center in the Oregon spirit and Coach Hayward's ability to always turn out winners no matter what material he has on hand. Some of the high school entries have arrived on the scene and show some "gobs" of speed. We're off boys!

OREGON ENTRY LIST.

- The entry list is:
- Mile—Don Belding and Robert Langley.
 - Shot—Everett Callison, Leo Furney, Chester Fee.
 - 400-yard run—Kent Wilson, Ray Staub, Graham McConnell.
 - Pole vault—Fee, Ernest Watkins, "Moose" Muirhead.
 - High hurdles—Fee, Muirhead, McConnell.
 - High jump—Muirhead, Fee.
 - 100-yard dash—Floyd Westerfield, Oscar Goreczky, Bert Peacock.
 - Discus—Kenneth Bartlett, Fee.
 - Two-mile—Bostwick, Wagner, Garbade.
 - Broad jump—Wilson, Fee, Muirhead.
 - 880-yard run—Martin Nelson, Montague, Brunkow.
 - Javelin—Fee, Muirhead, Wilson.
 - Low hurdles—Fee, Muirhead, Goreczky.
 - 220-yard run—Peacock, Thompson, Wilson, Goreczky.
 - Relay—Wilson, Staub, McConnell, Warner, Nelson, Thompson, Muirhead, Goreczky.

O. A. C. ENTRY LIST.

- Entries from O. A. C. were received this morning by Graduate Manager Albert R. Tiffany. They are as follows:
- 100 yard dash, Kadderly and Paroni; 220 dash, Kadderly and Paroni; 440 dash, Kadderly; 880 dash, Coleman and Tillery; Mile, Tillery and Van Buskirk; two mile, Johnston and Van Buskirk; High hurdles, Straughn, Blackwell; low hurdles, Damon, Backwell; high jump, Fendall, Bryant, Metzler; broad jump, Fendall, Damon, Paroni; pole vault Metzler, Sutherland; shot put, Johnson, Foster; javelin, Damon; relay to be chosen from Kadderly, Anderson, Damon, Paroni, Tillery, Coleman.

INTERSCHOLASTIC ENTRIES.

- Albany—Roland Allen, Francis Beal, Ralph Bilyeu, Guy Butler, Marion Boettcher, Davis Leininger, Zed Grove and Arthur McChesney.
- Ashland—Loith Abbott, Donnie Lowe, Lynn Slack, Burton Winne.
- Asteria—Clyde Lee, Joe Anderson,

JUNIOR WEEK-END PROGRAM.

- THURSDAY 8 P. M.—Water Fete.
- FRIDAY MORNING 8 A. M.—Clean-up Day on campus.
- FRIDAY 12 M.—Luncheon served by co-eds on campus if weather is fair; in Gymnasium if it rains.
- FRIDAY AFTERNOON 1:30—Junior Week-end Parade.
- FRIDAY AFTERNOON 2:00—Oregon-O. A. C. Track meet. All events on Friday afternoon will be called off if it rains and there will be a matinee dance at Gymnasium.
- FRIDAY NIGHT—Senior play and championship debate between Jefferson and Prineville high schools.
- SATURDAY A. M. 8-12—Preliminaries interscholastic track meet; co-ed tennis match between O. A. C. and Oregon.
- SATURDAY 3 P. M.—Finals interscholastic track meet and burning of caps.
- SATURDAY 4 P. M.—Tennis match between Eugene Country club and University team.
- SATURDAY 8:30 P. M.—Junior Prom.
- SUNDAY 4:30—Vespers. Father O'Hara will give an address.

Band Is Week-end Cabaret Attraction

Concert Will Be Given Friday Noon While Co-eds Feed Weary Workers.

The band will be on tap all (Junior Week-end.) From the time the decorated canoes appear Thursday evening till the last event on Saturday afternoon. The band will be on the job, ready to dispense sweet music at the slightest provocation. Probably the most important musical event of the festivities will be the concert given Friday noon while the weary workers partake of the co-eds' feed. This will be the first appearance of the band as a cabaret attraction and no doubt the sight of so much food displayed about them will hamper to some extent their efforts.

The band will also be present at the two track meets, Friday and Saturday. Friday, because they firmly believe that good Oregon music proves a jinks to O. A. C. and Saturday because—well, the admission is 75c or so.

Junior Week-ends may come and (Junior Week-ends) may go, but the band goes on for ever, so after this week the band will start training for commencement when they expect to get in some more good work. New music is being rehearsed at every practice and by that time the repertoire will be greatly increased.

HAMSTREET ELECTED EDITOR OF EMERALD

Austriallian Ballot is Final Tribute of Seethnig Pot of Politics.

JAUREGUY TAKES EASY VICTORY

Earnest Watkins Lands Vice-Presidency and Jennie Huggins Secretaryship

- ◆ STUDENT BODY PRESIDENT
- ◆ Nicholas Jaureguy354
- ◆ Robert McMurray215
- ◆ Martin Nelson96
- ◆ VICE-PRESIDENT
- ◆ Ernest Watkins357
- ◆ Loren Roberts287
- ◆ SECRETARY
- ◆ Jennie Huggins309
- ◆ Echo Zahl267
- ◆ EDITOR OF EMERALD.
- ◆ Harold Hamstreet418
- ◆ Milton Stoddard240

Never in the history of University politics have the students shown so much "zaz" in an election as they did yesterday in the annual choosing of student body officers. Never before has such a large percentage of the voters turned out to the polls in "Old" Villard to take part in student body affairs.

From the time the voting commenced at 10 o'clock in the morning till the polls were closed at 2 p. m., there was a constant stream of balloters marking the "yes" or "no" on their tickets. More than 675 votes were cast.

The ballot tallying was not completed until six o'clock, due to the leaving out of about 100 votes in the first count which was finished at four o'clock. Nevertheless the halls of Villard swarmed with anxious waiters until the results were announced.

The less contested positions and the officers chosen to fill them are: Manager of the Emerald, George Colton, Mrs. Mabel Parsons received 70 votes for the same job. No name was on the ballot

(Continued on page three)

Veteran Publisher Rises to Fame

Rise of H. L. Pittock From Penniless Printer to His Present Position of Owner of the Portland Oregonian, Enucleated by Edgar Piper, Editor of Oregonian.

A man who has been on the same job for sixty-three years—H. L. Pittock, veteran publisher of the Oregonian—was present at a journalism assembly in Guild Hall Wednesday afternoon at which Edgar B. Piper, editor of the Oregonian, told of the means and methods used by Mr. Pittock in bringing the paper to its present prosperity and power. Mr. Pittock did not speak, but broke his rule of leaving all remarks and statements about the Oregonian to its enemies' sufficiently to let Mr. Piper tell of his work. Mr. Piper has himself been a member of the Oregonian staff for nearly 30 years.

Came to Portland Penniless.

Mr. Pittock came to Portland about 1850, and as a penniless young printer secured his first job on the Oregonian working for his board. He slept on a bench in the Oregonian office. The paper was then published weekly by a journalistic named Thomas J. Dryer.

Portland, then a village of some 600 people, was competing for metropolitan honors with a number of other river towns, and had requested Dryer to start a newspaper. Dryer, a politician as much as an editor, was not financially successful, but finally received a political appointment, and went as commissioner to the Sandwich islands. He gave young Pittock an option on the paper for arrears in wages, and Pittock took over the weekly Oregonian.

Mr. Pittock encountered several difficulties. The pony express and the Panama railway were the quickest means of cross-continent communication. There was not even a coast telegraph line, although the electric telegraph was known and used in the east. Mr. Pittock, however, said Mr. Piper, originated a scheme whereby he got the news quicker by steamer than his competitors and soon outdistanced them. The first editor of the daily Oregonian was Major Simeon Francis.

On Feb. 4, 1861, the Daily Oregonian was first printed. It is now the oldest paper published without interruption on the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Pittock came to Portland about 1850, and as a penniless young printer secured his first job on the Oregonian working for his board. He slept on a bench in the Oregonian office. The paper was then published weekly by a journalistic named Thomas J. Dryer.

Portland, then a village of some 600 people, was competing for metropolitan honors with a number of other river towns, and had requested Dryer to start a newspaper. Dryer, a politician as much as an editor, was not financially successful, but finally received a political appointment, and went as commissioner to the Sandwich islands. He gave young Pittock an option on the paper for arrears in wages, and Pittock took over the weekly Oregonian.

Mr. Pittock encountered several difficulties. The pony express and the Panama railway were the quickest means of cross-continent communication. There was not even a coast telegraph line, although the electric telegraph was known and used in the east. Mr. Pittock, however, said Mr. Piper, originated a scheme whereby he got the news quicker by steamer than his competitors and soon outdistanced them. The first editor of the daily Oregonian was Major Simeon Francis.

(Continued on Page 2)

(Continued on page three)

(Continued on page two)