The platform in Villard hall was banked with ivy, roses, lilies and snowballs. Special music was provided by a mixed quartet composed of Don Newbury, Ester Fenton, Irene Rugh and John Black. The prayer was given by Rev. A. M. Spangler and the sermon was read by Rev. E. C. Wigmore, of the Eugene Bible University. President P. L. SUMMER CONFERENCE HAS ATTRACTED TEN

Other Delegates May Go to Y. M. Gathering at Seabeck— Cabinet Called.

(By J. D.)

With examinations still a month off, ten men have already started to make plans to attend the Annual Y. M. C. A. Summer Conference this year. The conference is held at Seabeck, on Hood's Canal, Puget Sound. It is said that Seabeck can lay just claim to being the most attractive conference location in the United States.

About two hundred men from the colleges and universities of the Northwest will attend the conference during the ten days between June 9 and 19. Examinations at Oregon are over barely in time to permit the delegates to arrive on time, while those who expect to attend summer school can go to Seabeck and get back in time to register.

The conference serves as an outing and vacation, at the same time giving those who attend a chance to think over, in a stimulating environment, what are the needs of personal religion, and to consider some form of Christian service as a life work. Forenoons and evenings are spent in study classes conducted by able leaders, and in listening to addresses by speakers of note, while the afternoons are reserved entirely for tennis, baseball, swimming, track, "stunts" and "hikes."

One of the best features of the whole affair is the cosmopolitan nature of the assembly. Each delegate gets a chance for social contact with men from a large number of colleges. There are to be representatives from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, and British Columbia, as well as several from foreign countries.

The local Y. M. C. A. has begun to wake up to the need of definite training for its cabinet officers and chairmen, and is making a big effort to send the entire cabinet this summer. The men who have signified their intention of attending the conference this year are Joe Bell, James McCallum, Robert McMurray, Walter Dimm, Robert Wright, Martin Nelson, Paul Spangler, Henry Thorsett, Ray Hausler, Ben Schmidt, J. D. Foster and Elmer Boyer. A number of others will try to arrange it. Among these are Burle Bramhall, Floyd Westerfield, "Nick" Jaureguy, Randall Scott, Wendell Bartholomew, Kent Wilson, Frank Folts, Walter Church, L. A. Pickett, Lewis Bond, Bruce Flegal, Joe Tominaga, Wayne Wells, John Wells. "Bill" Hayward states that unless something comes up to prevent it he will figure to go and coach a winning track squad for Oregon at the conference meet. President Campbell may be able to spend the last four days with the boys in camp.

BEARS FOR MASCOTS.

Brown Athletic association is in receipt of three cubs to serve as mascots for the coming season. The official mascot at Yale is the bulldog; at Cornell, a bear, and at Harvard a young ostrich.

STUDENT COUNCIL HAS 1ST ANNUAL BANQUET

Old Members Instruct Newly Elected in Ways of Past and Plans of Future.

Old and new members of the Student Council enjoyed together the first annual council banquet at the Osburn Hotel Thursday evening. Lamar Toozee served as toastmaster. Greetings were extended to the incoming council by Bothwell Avison. Nicholas Jaureguy responded.

Max Sommer recounted the history of the council from its inception in the winter of 1913-14 to the present, while Karl Becke, speaking of "The Student Council in Retrospect," told particularly of this year's policies and results.

"We have considered matters of such varying importance as the co-operative store and the end of the cement tennis court at which the deadline against smoking should be drawn," said Becke. "We have started a campaign for the return of intercollegiate basketball, we have tried to remedy the problem of over-organization, and we are working on rules to safeguard canoeing. There are many things, however, which we were not able to do more than start, and some which we did not attempt at all, that are left for the council next year."

Louise Bailey, president of the Women's League, spoke on "Extension of Women's Activities" as one of the questions the council would have to face. She emphasized the fact that these activities are spreading, and that the women are demanding more money and more student body patronage.

Cleveland Simkins talked on the subject "The Relation of the Alumni to the Student Body," after which the other senior members of the council, Harry Kuck, Chester Miller, and Genevieve Shaver, spoke a few words in farewell. Arvilla Beckwith, last year elected to the council, but replaced by Marie Churchill because of her inability to return to college, was present, as was also Echo Zahl, junior woman representative on the council this year.

Guests of the council were, Nicholas Jaureguy, Ernest Watkins, Jennie Huggins, Harold Hamstreet, Floyd Westerfield, Martha Beer, Frances Shoemaker, Harold Tregilas, Ray Couch, and Leura Jerard. Karl Becke and Fred Kiddie, re-elected for next year, were present in the capacity of both hosts and guests.

One ex-officio member of the new council, the president of the women's league, has not yet been elected.

WHO ARE 12 PRETTIEST?

Living Models—Co-eds at That—Scheduled at Rex.

Who are the 12 prettiest girls in the University? Came down to the Rex Thursday night and find out.

You see it's this way Tuesday night and College night are synonymous. Four university girls will usher. Eight girls will act as models to show off the keenest beach costumes that the Rex management can procure from Portland.

These costumes will represent all the different clothes that might be used at the beach including dancing frocks, sport clothes and even a bathing suit. And the prettiest girls in the University will be chosen as models and ushers. The presentation will be somewhat similar to that of the Pathe weekly style shows in that the drawn curtains will reveal the model standing on a revolving platform.

College night will not be confined to the Rex. The Rainbow will also celebrate. Special music and possibly stunts will be pulled off during the evening.

Johnny Beckett will be replaced by a University girl as will all the clerks and waitresses.

The following girls have been chosen for the jobs as being 24 of the best looking women in school. Living models at the Rex! Margaret Welsh, Mignon Allen, Marion Coffey, Anne Dawson, Dorothy Montgomery, Echo June Zahl, Adrienne Epping, Sara Barker.

Ushers at the Rex: Lillian Little, Irma Keithly Mary Dunn, Cleone Carrol. At charge at the Rainbow is Helen Delano and under her are: Helen Purington, Grace Reed, Alva Wilson, Lucy Powers, Maime Gillette, Pearl Craine, Frances Fratee, Dora Frances, Helen Gutierrez, Julia Platt, Frances Stiles. Taking Johnny Becketts place will be Bernice Lucas.

GRADUATE MANAGER TO BE CHOSEN JUNE 2

A. R. Tiffany Present Incumbent, Only One Signifying Intention Running for Office.

The graduate manager for the next school year will be elected the first Friday in June by the members of this year's executive committee and Athletic Council.

Graduate Manager A. R. Tiffany is the only one so far who has signified his intention of running for the place.

Lamar Toozee, president of the Student Body, said: "The constitution is not clear as to whether the old or the newly elected members of the Athletic council and executive committee are to elect the graduate manager. However, it has always been the custom for the officers who have held office during the year to choose the manager as they are better acquainted with the work than the newly elected members. A change will probably be made in the constitution next year which will clearly determine just who is to elect the graduate manager. No election was held last spring so it was necessary for the present executive committee to elect the manager."

The members of the executive committee are Lamar Toozee, Harry Kuck, Clare Raley, Fred Dunbar and Wallace Kakin. The members of the Athletic council who will elect the graduate manager are: Anson Cornell, John Beckett and Bill Tuerck from the student body, Prof. H. C. Howe, President Campbell and Coach Hayward from the faculty and members from the Alumni are Dr. Eberle Kuykendall, Ray Goodrich and Carl Fenton.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR BAND, SAYS PLAYER

Maurice Hyde Recounts History, Showing Growth of Musical Organization.

(Maurice Hyde.)

Oregon is beginning to take pride in her band. What was last year a weak and inefficient organization has been built up to a well balanced and thoroughly efficient band, under the leadership of Albert Perfect.

For years the band contented itself with playing simple marches and appearing at rallies and games, then a few, who saw the great possibilities for a band with a permanent organization, began to agitate the bringing of a director to the school who would be part of the faculty.

Due to the efforts of Ralph H. Lyman, dean of the school of music, Albert Perfect, at the time head of a similar department at an eastern school, was induced to take up the work here. Since his arrival the band has steadily improved and now is in a position to appear in concert at almost a moment's notice. Already the band has received several requests to assist in school rallies and other entertainments in different parts of the state, which, whenever possible, it accepts.

Besides giving a big concert in Villard hall earlier in the year, the band has appeared in a number of outdoor concerts and plans to continue to do so until the end of the school year. It also appears at all games and rallies. During the Junior Week-End just past the band was on duty all the time.

While the work of the men in the band this year has been without compensation to themselves they feel that the results of their efforts are worth the trouble. They have realized their ambition of seeing the band a recognized and a permanent campus organization.

Next year the band men will receive university credit for their work, also an extensive trip is almost assured. The university has already purchased some of the larger instruments and will secure more this fall. Many letters have been received from prospective students, asking about the band and every indication points toward a big year.

Places on the band next year will be determined by competitive tryouts which will insure a good representative membership.

Bolero, Rigadoon Dance Fandango!

Hop, Reel, Saraband, Attention Terpsichore—Last Inter-Class Informal Friday.

"On with the dance—let your joy be unconfined."

Fellows, you had better date her up tonight for Friday evening, May 26. You can put it down in your new spring bonnet right now that there will be some little gathering next Friday night in the men's gym when the lively strains of "Loading up the Manday Lee," start the shufflers in the first and last inter-class informal of the year.

This will be your last chance fellows to trip over the smooth-surfaced floor of old Hayward hall. Remember the "good old days" of last year when you danced your cares away while the orchestra dispensed fitting melodies. Friday eve you can return to the joys of "yester-year." Hendershot's "orquestra" (simplified spelling) will supply the necessary incentive and pepper to keep your feet moving through 18 gingery one-steps, intermingled with a couple of "little old dreamy-waltzes."

The big fandango will start at 8:15 p. m. sharp, and you can count on things going off with a snap and punch. One-half of an iron man, 50 cents, will let you by the barred door, in which to partake of the festivities of this "evening of evenings."

Remember the date—Friday evening, May 26, at 8:15 sharp. The place—men's gymnasium. Purpose—Inter-class informal. Admission—50 cents per couple.

Let's go.

MUSIC RECITAL A PARAGON

Program of Mona Dougherty Displays Technique, Says Critique

(Critique)

The graduate recital given by Miss Mona Dougherty last night in Guild hall was undoubtedly one of the best student recitals given this year. Miss Dougherty has studied music for many years but consistent work has been done mainly during the college years. She has studied under David Campbell, Professor Lachmund and for the last two years under Dr. Landsbury.

The first part of Miss Dougherty's program consisted of more heavy and classical selections than some of those in the latter part. Bach's Chromatic Fantasie and Fugue with which Miss Dougherty opened her program is considered the biggest single selection Bach ever wrote and it was rendered very well.

But of special mention was Sgambatti's Nocture, B Minor and Schubert-Liszt's "Am Meer." The tones which were brought out in the melody parts were wonderful, especially in the latter selection. At all times Miss Dougherty played with great force and power and her technique was especially fine.

The last piece on the program—Verdi-Liszt's "Rigoletto Paraphrase," combined work which required great force and power, and runs and thrills. It was given very well and with exceptional ease. It is too bad Miss Dougherty is graduating and leaving the University this June, so that Eugene music lovers will not have a chance to hear more of her work.

Miss Leah Perkins, contralto, assisted Miss Dougherty, singing one Italian aria—Rossi's "Ah! Rindinu" (from "Mitrane" 1689). Miss Perkins has a very exceptional voice, and, although she was not at her best, music lovers always will and do enjoy hearing her sing. She responded to an encore with Brahms's "Sapphic Ode" which she sang very nicely and which showed her wide range of voice to good advantage. Miss Dougherty did fine work as her accompanist, getting into the mood of the song and the soloist immediately.

FROSH TRACK TEAM GOES TO CORVALLIS

Coach Ed Shockley Says the Chances "Fair," But Rook Tracksters Look Good.

Under the supervision of Coach Ed Shockley and Manager "Chuck" Dundore, 14 Varsity frosh track athletes boarded the train this morning for Corvallis to invade the "Aggie" camp, where they will lock horns with the "Rooks" in track and field meet this afternoon.

The weather that has aided "Bill" the last week has also put an edge on the frosh team and Coach Shockley believes that the chances for winning are "fair." The reports coming from the Rooks headquarters are of a similar nature. It is reported that Casey, who won second in the shotput at the far western meet, is tossing the shot out in the dizzy forties. Dutton and Butts are both strong men; Dutton having made his monogram this year. Butts, it is reported, cleans up Stewarts best varsity hurdles. The babes take their information with the "Oregon" ear knowing that Miss Victory does not always coincide with the dope.

The entries are:

- Mile—G. Cook, Case, Hagen.
Shotput—Johns, Bonney.

DEGREE FOR PUBLIC SERVICE

A new special degree of A. M. is to be offered at the University after this year for outside work done in public service and research. Only persons who have been engaged for several years in practical investigations may be candidates as the degree is not to be given for book training.

Those persons applying for the degree must have attained distinction in their work and must embody their achievements in a dissertation on the subject. It is understood that they must already be the holders of bachelor's degrees from institutions of the same rank as the University.

Master's degrees have already been given at Oregon but none of them up to this time have implied any special honor. A few candidates are expected to apply as soon as the existence of the new title becomes generally known.
