DYMENT WINS 2ND PLACE

Journalism Professor Gets High Grade in Competitive Examination.

Of 100 men who took an examination last spring for chief of the editorial division of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, Colin V. Dymont professor of journalism, appears to have won second place. notification to Mr. Dymont from the U. S. civil service commission at Washington said the number ahead of him on the register was one.

Seventy per cent was passing mark for this examination. It called for considerable technical skill, and of the 100 contestants, 75 failed to pass. The commission did not say who won third or first place. It is the custom in the higher posts of civil service to certify the top three men for the appointment.

A certification of education, experience, and other qualifications, that should satisfy the commission, was required before applicants were permitted to have the questions. Several days were then occupied by the examination proper. One problem called for a constructive editorial criticism of 1500 words of a number of publications of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. Another called for editing for publication of the 9000-word annual report of the commerce of the Port of Saigon, made by the American consul there. A third was a thesis on one of nine commercial situations.

The chief of the editorial division of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce has supervision of the many publications of the big bureau. These include the daily trade and consular reports, the monthly statements of foreign and domestic commerce, the numerous bulletins and reports, the annual commerce statements, tariff publications, and others. A large staff is maintained at Washington for this work.

THIENES BACK ON CAMPUS

Surgical Operation Cures His Infirmity; Is Now Well and Happy.

Last year there were two crippled boys at the University who made up their minds to be crippled no longer. One was Clinton Thienes and the other was Will Rebec. Both were operated upon this summer.

Thienes is back on the campus carrying 14 hours work. He still wears crutches, but in a few months more he expects to be walking like any other healthy person. He was in the hospital for six months undergoing three different operations. He now weighs 25 pounds more than he did before the operations.

Will Rebec was not so lucky as his classmate Thienes. The shock of the first operation made him so weak that when the time for the second arrived, he was barely able to live.

At present Rebec is lying in St. Vincent's hospital at Portland awaiting the day when he can come back to the University. He is able to read very little and is forced to lie on his back day after day. It will be two months at least before he will be able to return.

CIGARETTES TO BE BARRED

Students' Co-operative Store Will Probably Refuse to Handle Them.

Although there is some demand for them, cigarettes are not sold at the Students' Co-operative store. As yet there has been no definite ruling made by the board of directors, but the university tradition, that students refrain from smoking on the campus, has influenced the board in a temporary decision against the sale of tobacco. It is the opinion of Nick Jaureguy, president of the student body, that the student council will leave matters as they are.

AT THE SAVOY.

Charles Chaplin, in his latest comedy entitled "One A. M.," which will be shown at the Savoy theatre today presents on the screen a large number of things that he did not learn from a correspondence school.

The story of "One A. M.," which deals with Chaplin's adventures in the home of a bachelor friend whose hobby is collecting stuffed animals, in itself is excruciatingly funny, but when combined with the art of the comedy star it becomes a continuous laugh.

Charles does a series of his proteques falls when he steps on a rug, laid on a highly polished floor. Picking himself up, he finds himself with his hand in the mouth of a voracious tiger, while the glazing eyes of a lynx gaze at him. The floor is covered with skins of wild animals, and Charles imagines himself in a jungle of ferocious beasts, for the walls are adorned with trophies of the chase and stuffed animals of every species.—Advertisement.
