SOPHOMORES ARE VICTORIOUS: THE FINAL SCORE OF MIX 45-40

Cane Rush Was Won by Freshmen by Margin of One Hand, 25-24. Sophs Win Flag Rush, also Beat Frosh Badly in Sand Bag Contest. Freshmen Almost Victorious.

Result Was True and Fair Criterion of Relative Strength of Two Classes. Attempt to Kidnap Freshman President Frustrated by Vigilance of Classmates, Senior Cops Supervise all and Make Mix "Square" for Both Classes.

By John De Witt Gilbert.

Despite the anti-climax of Thursday night, the underclass-mix proved a spirited contest, a fighting feature and incidentally almost a freshman victory.

Score: Sophomores, 45; freshman, 40.

True to the words on the program, the mix was "square." The usual advantage shown the sophomores was lacking. The officials were unbiased and the result a true and fair criterion of the relative strength of the two classes in the annual autumn event.

The prize event—the cane rush—went to the freshmen, who succeeded in planting the most hands on the cane for which they fought. This event was very close, the final counting giving the freshmen the margin by one hand, 25-24. It counted 25 points.

No freshman more than pushed his head above the throng that surged around the pole where the red and white banner of 1916 floated in the flag rush. The point award went to the sophomores.

The sand-bag contest was slower than in former years because of a rule limiting the contestants on each bag to one from each class—went to the sophomores who garnered 12 bags in the 10 minutes of mud-grubbing to the five amassed by the freshmen.

The freshman stunt represented a crowd of O. A. C. students attempting to paint the "O" on Skimmers Butte. Retribution, and a crew of freshmen, overtook them and the offenders were mercilessed in an ancient tub. This feature was awarded ten points over the sophomore stunts which were the execution of a freshman caught painting his numerals, the capture of Willamette's goat by Oregon—a prophecy which was subsequently fulfilled, and the efforts of the Salem fire department to quench a blaze in the state asylum.

In white, with uniform red trimmings to their dresses, the sophomore women came bearing a giant football from which emerged after the ranks of scarlet and white had formed, a football team in Oregon sweaters. The ranks then swing into another formation leaving a confetti 19 on the field.

The freshman girls in white with tunics of purple and gold swung onto the field in a long colorful serpentine. The sophomores, giving class and varsity yell and a cheer for Willamette, released eight snowy pigeons each trailing ribbons of lemon-yellow, and the red and gold of Willamette.

An attempt to kidnap the freshman president was frustrated by the vigilance of his classmates who repelled the attack valiantly.

The official senior cops, led the procession that inaugurated the festival. Behind them serpentine the juniors in corduroy pants and flannel shirts—the badges of their office. Then a long line of the double—19 class and finally the hordes of the second-decade men.

Points were awarded as follows: Sophomores; marching 10; yell, 5; sandbag, 15; flag rush, 15. Freshmen: decorations, 5; stunts, 10; cane rush 25.

BUNGALOW GETS OVERFLOW

Librarian Douglas Hopes to Alter Library Conditions.

Students, who cannot find a corner in the library in which to study may now carry their textbooks to the Y. M. C. A. Bungalow.

The Bungalow will be used to take care of the overflow of the library until the completion of the education building, when the department of law will move from the basement of the library to its quarters in the new building.

The newspaper racks will probably be shifted from the main door to the basement. This will allow for additional study tables both up stairs and down stairs.

OVER-ORGANIZATION AGAIN

FACULTY TROUBLED NOW

CLUBS TO ARRANGE DATES

Even the faculty has over-organization troubles.

Committees from the various faculty clubs have met and arranged dates of meeting which will not conflict. As a result of this meeting the dates for these clubs are to be as follows: The Colloquium, the oldest club, will have the first Tuesday evening of each month.

They usually meet in Dean H. D. Sheldon's room in the library to informally discuss questions of administration, curriculum, or others having an educational bearing.

The Round Table, made up of both faculty members and business men of the town, meets for a dinner at the Osburn hotel the second Tuesday evening of each month.

The third Tuesday has been set aside for the Science club of which Dr. W. P. Beynton is the head. This club considers questions of departmental interest.

The Philosophy club, another departmental organization, meets the fourth Tuesday evening.

The faculty was requested in the last faculty bulletin to hand in subjects for discussion at the colloquium. Dr. Joseph Schafer, chairman of the Colloquium club has secured W. C. Hawley, Oregon representative, to speak on the campus some time this month.

PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Alumni Luncheon, Band Concert, Dance and Rally Features of Homecoming.

The program for Homecoming Day, November 4, has been announced by Fred Kiddle, chairman of the program committee. A feature of the week-end will be a rally and bonfire on Friday evening, as a forerunner of the big game.

Saturday noon is the date set for the alumni luncheon at the men's gymnasium. Miss Jeanette Wheatley is in charge, and has appointed committees to secure refreshments and attend to the serving. A band concert will be given in connection with the luncheon.

After the Oregon-Washington game in the afternoon, the alumni will be entertained at the fraternity houses. The dance Saturday night is under the supervision of the junior class, who are planning to make it complete in every detail.

Martin Nelson, chairman of the publicity committee, wants the co-operation of every University student in making November 4, the biggest Homecoming day in history. He has arranged for the sale of appropriate stationery at the Co-operative store, and considers this one of the best ways to advertise the event. Posters will be sent out from the office of the registrar, also the alumni letters containing invitations to attend. Besides local publicity, notices will appear in Portland papers.

The number of alumni to attend has been estimated at 350.

FRESHMAN FINDS CURIO

Lloyd Still From Milton, Oregon, Brings Mastodon Tooth to Museum.

Lloyd Still, a freshman from Milton, Oregon, is the finder of a mastodon tooth which has been placed in the University museum. While working in a harvest field near his home, still accidentally discovered this relic, which according to his statement, is only a sample from very large fossil deposits existing in the Walla Walla valley and eastern Oregon.

A Word From The Yell Leader

Rooters! Listen! And this means you too, girls! The Emerald has allowed me the special privilege of breaking into print with a few words. So I haven't much to say. But mark you well!

As yell leader for the season of 1916-17 I am going to credit the win or loss of every football game, at home or away, to just the way you back me up in the support of the team.

We have the biggest bunch of rooters in the history of Oregon.

And the team has the biggest games to play it has ever had.

Now there are going to be some new yells and new songs. That means every rooter must be out for practice on Thursday afternoons.

There are going to be some rousing rallies and some gingery parades. That calls for the attention of every chap who has a student body ticket tucked away in his jeans.

Now all together for the biggest season of old Oregon and let's put the team over for the coast championship.

*Yours in Oskie-Wow-Wow,
JOHN DOLPH.*

65,194 BOOKS IN LIBRARY

Circulation of Books Increase 29.8 Per Cent Over Last September's Average.

The average number of books drawn from the University library in September, 1916, is 428, according to M. H. Douglass, librarian. An increase of 29.8 per cent over last September's library circulation is shown, as there were only 330 drawn out per day then.

There are now 65,194 books in the University library, this being an increase of about 11,000 since last year at this time.

DRAMA GUILD SCORES IN 'DOLL'S HOUSE'

Presentation of Ibsen's Play Well Received by Audience.

ROSALIND BATES STARS IN HER ROLE AS NORA

Drama Will Be Produced Again Tonight in Guild Hall.

Martha Beer.

Campus theatre-goers will never forget the presentation of Ibsen's "Doll's House" which was given last night in Guild hall by the faculty, as the first 1916-17 production by the Drama Guild.

From the initial rise of the curtain on the smoothly running "doll's house" to its fall on the last act when Nora "takes off her doll's dress" the audience sat through the play, responding quickly to its many moods which ranged from light playfulness to moments of high emotional intensity.

Each actor in the drama deserves commendation for the able manner in which he or she interpreted their parts, and Professor Bates has materially added to his reputation as a producer of vital plays.

The first scene which won the hearts of the audience was that in which Nora, who fondly imagines herself to be an ideally happy wife and mother, plays "hide and seek" and "three bears" with her three beautiful children, played by John Bobby and Betty Allen.

In sharp contrast to this was the tarantella scene in which Nora dances wildly in order to save for herself a few more hours of her husband's trust and love.

The principal interest of the play centered about the acting of Professor Thacher as Torvald Helmer and Rosalind Bates as Nora, his wife. Professor Thacher played the part in a thoroughly professional manner and there is no doubt but that his strong presentation of the conventional man's playful attitude toward women materially strengthened the entire play.

Rosalind Bates fully succeeded in surpassing all expectations and convinced the audience more than ever that she is an actress of more than ordinary ability. It is impossible to point out any particular scene as the best part of her work. Her third act, however, will probably be more vividly remembered because of its intensity. Mrs. Bates made use of every opportunity that the play afforded to bring before the audience the many different sides of Nora's character, and her clear-sightedness and resolution in making the decision to leave her husband. While the able playing of Torvald by Professor Thacher made one sympathize with him in his attitude, this year.

Women's Athlete Association Will Hold First Meeting of Year in Guild Hall.

The Woman's Athletic association will hold its first meeting of the year Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Guild hall. The heads of the different sports will be elected at that time and plans for the year formulated.

Miss M. L. Cummings will talk on the "Place of Women's Athletics on the Oregon Campus;" Gladys Wilkins, on the "Purpose of the Athletic Association;" Miss Harriet Thompson on "Field Day;" Miss Frieda Goldsmith will discuss hockey and Margaret Crosby will tell about the prospects for the hockey team this year.

Women should sign up for membership cards at the meeting to be signed by their major professors, as it is necessary to have a good scholastic standing to belong to this association.

"All women are invited to attend the meeting at Guild hall," says Eyla Walker, president of the Woman's Athletic association.

WILLAMETTE IS SWAMPED 97-0 BY BEZDEK'S SCORING MACHINE

14 Touchdowns Are Made by Varsity in Successive Marches Down Field. Shy Huntington is Chief Gunner and Yardage Maker, He Makes Last Touchdown of Game.

Methodists Fought Gamely, But Were Out-Weighed, out-Coached and Out-Played. Both Teams Played Straight Football, With a Sprinkling of Forward Passes. Varsity Punts But Once.

MOTHER '18, DAUGHTER '18

WILL GRADUATE TOGETHER

HAS TWO ALUMNI SONS

Did it ever occur to you that you might graduate from the University in the same class with your daughter? Or that several years after two of your children had earned their degrees you might return to college and complete your work?

This is precisely what Mrs. D. C. Kellems will do if she completes sixty hours of work during the next two years in the University, for her petition applying for admission to the junior class was granted by the faculty Thursday afternoon.

The history of Mrs. Kellems' case is one of the most interesting that has been presented to the faculty of this school. Mrs. Kellems, at that time Lulu Flint, enrolled in the University of Oregon in the fall of 1889. She continued her work until June of 1891 when for various reasons she found it necessary to forego steady attendance at the University. However, Mrs. Kellems was not to lose her college education without a struggle and at frequent intervals since that time she has carried summer school work here and elsewhere, and regular work at Drake University.

With the opening of school this fall, Mrs. Kellems presented to the faculty a petition, applying for admission to the class of 1918, of which her daughter, Miss Vivian Kellems is a member. Her petition was referred to Professor O. F. Stafford, who reported favorable to the faculty.

The game by quarters was as follows: Captain Beckett won the toss and chose the west goal. Rexford kicked off to Bartlett who returned eight yards. After Willamette took time out Jensen, Hollis, Huntington, Montieth and Shy Huntington ripped through Willamette's line for 10 and 12 yard gains to a touchdown. Montieth circled right end for the first score. Shy Huntington missed goal. Score Oregon 6, Willamette 0.

Montieth kicked 40 yards to Radcliff who gained 10. Willamette kicked after three ineffectual attempts to puncture varsity line. The lemon-yellow backs ran through the maroon and gray line for 50 yards in three minutes.

Shy Huntington scored the second touchdown after a criss-cross. Huntington kicked goal. Score: Oregon 13, Willamette 0.

The varsity again marched down the field in quick succession and after two minutes of play scored their third touchdown. Score: Oregon 20, Willamette 0. The quarter ended with the ball in Oregon's possession in the middle of the field.

Second quarter:

Hollis Huntington brought the total to four touchdowns in less than one minute of play. Shy kicked goal. Score: Oregon 27, Willamette 0. Bezdek's men fought Willamette savagely and attacked them with merciless vengeance. Willamette was unable to gain an inch through the lemon-yellow defense. But one of their six attempted passes in this quarter was successful, Shy Huntington made the fifth marker after the backs had sprinted some 40 yards to the goal line.

Jensen drove eight yards for an additional seven points. Montieth scored three minutes later on an off tackle buck. Score: Oregon 48, Willamette 0.

Third quarter:

Willamette should signs of life by making yardage twice after several forward passes. Captain Johnny Beckett finally intercepted and
