EUGENE, OREGON, TUES DAY, OCTOBER 17, 1916.

NO. 14.

DEDICATED TO ALUMNI--NOV. 4-- ALL UNIVERSITY WILL BE HOST

"Homecoming Day—the Biggest Day in History of U. of O.," Is Slogan of Committees in Charge of Arrangements. All Eugene Will Be at Command of Visitors at This Time of Reunion.

Every Fraternity, Sorority and Club Is Mailing Invitations to Old Students in Every Part of State. Over 1300 Invitations Have Gone Out Through Extension Department. Good Time Begins Friday Evening, November 3, When Festivities Start.

"The biggest day in the history of the University, November 4." This is the slogan of the committees in charge of arrangements for annual Homecoming Day. Doors of fraternities, sororities, and class rooms will be thrown wide open all day Friday, the day before the big game with Washington, and old graduates from the corners of the state will be welcomed to reunion in the life of the University.

It is the ambition of the committees to make November 4 an epoch day in festival and reunion on the campus, and show alumni the old Oregon spirit in all its old glory, but magnified and improved by time and new enthusiasm. Business will be discontinued for the day, stores will decorate in appropriate style, garages will furnish automobiles for conveyance, the commercial club will co-operate, and everything in Eugene will be at the command of the alumni for the day. The Oregon spirit shall reign supreme.

Every fraternity, sorority and club on the campus is mailing invitations to old students in every part of the state. Answers already received show that the guests will be many. Over 1300 invitations have gone out through the extension department, according to Martin Nelson, chairman of the publicity committee. Heads of the houses state that every effort will be made to accommodate the visitors. Impetus is being given to Homecoming by Oregon alumni members in every part of the state.

Appropriate stationery has been provided by the publicity committee and may be secured at the co-op store on the campus. As the homecoming event is made known to the outside largely by correspondence, the use of a uniform stationery is considered one of the most advantageous methods of advertising. Papers of the state will be given publicity notices which will help remind the alumni of the big day at their alma mater.

Big football posters have been printed and are sent out by the advertising committee. As soon as the entire program is completed it will be published in the Emerald and special programs for the festivities will be printed and distributed.

Friday evening, November 3, the good time begins. The historical pajama parade will begin the demonstration before the big game. Festivities will open with this event and proceed with the customary bonfire on Kincaid field and band concert and speeches. President Pixley of the freshman class declares that the blaze of the bonfire shall eclipse all of the past, if the enthusiasm of the freshman is to be relied on. A rally around the roaring blaze, short, inspired, snappy speeches and patriotic band music are promised.

Special trains will be met by delegations from the fraternities and sororities all day Friday and the University school of music will help enliven the reception through the University band. "I do not know just what plans have been made for music during Homecoming

EXTENSION CLASSES GROW

400 Portland People Have Signed Up for University Extension Work.

That the day of Greater Oregon has dawned is evidenced from the fact that over 400 Portland people have signed for extension work from the University this fall.

Over 125 appeared in the north gallery of the library for architecture courses, according to Roswell Dosch, instructor in drawing, who said that 45 or more of that number want drawing and modeling from life. "Many Portland school teachers are among this number al-

"A HARD GAME, CHANCES 50-50"—BILL HAYWARD

"I've little to say concerning the outcome of the game. Barring a few minor injuries the boys are in great shape and will give a good account of themselves. The Californians are a hucky lot—they've shown a lot of punch in their practice contests. I look for a hard fought game, with chances about 50-50."
BILL HAYWARD.

Join the Parade to Depot; Starts at Dorm at 7 P. M.

From Friendly hall to all other houses on the campus and thence to Southern Pacific depot the human serpent will wind. Then a bedlam of yells and songs will speed Bezdek's squad on half a few minutes before 7 o'clock.

C. W. SEVITS.

Hurrah for the lemon-yellow, and may she bring home the bacon! hurrah for Bez! Hurrah for Bill! Rah rah! rah! for every man on the team, and glory for Oregon!

Let every voice box in the University be ripped open with the articulation of these words tomorrow evening when Coach Bezdek and his warriors leave for California. May every face turn purple with excitement; may lessons be forgotten for the moment; may pretty personalities be case on the winds. Let the Oregon spirit take possession of your bodies and souls and dismiss everything but the glory of Oregon; the victory at Berkeley Saturday.

Jack Dolph and Nicholas Jaureguy will start the procession at Friendly hall; the band will lead in patriotic songs and time the march. From the dormitory to Delta Tau house and thence to all the other frat and sorority houses the human serpent will wind, increasing in bedlam of noise and song and adding numbers beyond all former demonstration in the history of the University.

"If every student in the University doesn't get into that parade to the train tomorrow evening and help send the team off with ears ringing and hearts thumping, it will be because some individuals have not learned the meaning of Oregon spirit," Thus speaks Jacob Dolph yell leader.

The train will leave the Southern Pacific depot at 7:40 p. m. The parade probably will begin a few minutes before seven in order to insure plenty of time for "pep" to reach its highest possibility. Serpentine and hurrahing will continue through the down-town section to the depot where the climax will be reached just before the team pulls out. Bezdek's football machine will go against California's at Berkeley Saturday in Oregon's first conference contest of the season.

QUARTET MAY GET TRIPS

Women May Be Sent to Oregon Towns During Year.

"Martin"

The University of Oregon women's quartet will hereafter be more than a group of four people who sing one selection in the annual program arranged for the girl's glee club, for this year there are to be trips for the women's quartet. "Many calls have come to me other years for musical numbers or entire programs in many of the towns in Oregon which we have been unable to fill. This year I hope to get the women's quartet in shape to send to those places that ask for musical representatives of the University," said Prof. Lyman, glee club director.

The quartet is composed of the same people as last year: Mamie Gillette, Martha Tinker, Iva Wood and Leah Perkins. They will start practices immediately so as to be prepared in case a trip should be possible in the near future. Miss Marian Neil will go with the quartet as accompanist, and in case a whole evenings entertainment is called for Miss Charlotte Banfield will be taken as reader. The program which Professor Lyman will arrange will include solos, duets, and trios besides the regular quartet numbers and be made as interesting as possible.

LEMON-YELLOW BOARDS TRAIN FOR SOUTHLAND TOMORROW

Bezdek Is Pesimistic, Declares "We Haven't a Look-in With California." Oregon Is Outweighed, Outdoped and Is Fighting Enemy in Their Own Backyard. Eighteen Will Make the Southern Trip.

Since Exhibition Saturday Bezdek Works Men Overtime to Correct Most Glaring Faults. Yet Team Leaves Outdoped but Fighting. Contest of Southern Oval Bids Fair to Be One of the Classics of 1916 Season. Team Spirit Is Good, Despite Apparent Superiority of Foe.

What Coach Bezdek Has to Say.

Coach Bezdek's words to the Oregon students:
"I don't see where we've got a look in with California. We're outdoped, we're outweighed, and we're fighting in the enemies backyard. Look at the array of coaches California has and consider the size of their student body as compared with ours. They're betting in the south that we will be beaten by at least two or three touchdowns. That alone shows how they figure us. They've had three more weeks practice than we have and have already played five or six preliminary games. The dope is often upset, but I don't see where we stand a chance."

Jimmy Sheehy.

All-aboard-let'er-go!
When the southbound Shasta Limited-train de-luxe, pulls out of Eugene Wednesday night at 7:41 p. m. it will have as passengers the varsity football squad, primed to the letter to battle the University of California, on the Berkeley field next Saturday. Coach Hugo Bezdek and Bill Hayward will accompany the boys and Graduate Manager A. R. Tiffany and student manager Roland Geary will handle the purse strings and dish out three squares during the journey.

Players making the trip are Captain Johnny Beckett, Ken Bartlett, Monty Montieth, Teg Tegart, Jake Risley, Bill Snyder, Shy Huntington, Brick Mitchell, Hollis Huntington, Johnny Parsons, Bart Spellman, and substitutes Ray Couch, Glen Dudley, Pete Jensen, Bas Williams, Carl Nelson, Bill Tuerck, and Ward McKinney.

Every detail of the trip has been carefully planned and ought to go off without a hitch. The team will arrive in Berkeley Thursday night at 8:30 p. m. and will make their headquarters at the Shattuck hotel. Through the courtesy of the railroad company a special stop will be made at Berkeley to let the squad off.

Saturday's game bids fair to be one of the classics on the 1916 coast gridiron calendar. It is the first time in years that Oregon has ever met the blue and gold on the turf. Oregon with a student body of 900 or more invades foreign soil with probably one of the best teams in her history, ready to lock horns with the sussy Californians backed by some 7500 students.

Southern dopesters and Berkeley people are already prophesying a two touchdown victory for the Bear staters. They have great faith in Coach Andy Smith and assistant Eddie Mahan—they believe in and talk California incessantly. Newspaper reports from the south were loud in their praises of Berkeley's eleventh hour win over the strong Whittier aggregation. In the face of an almost certain 17 to 14 defeat with but three minutes left to play, the scrappy Californians forward passed and

ACCIDENT EXHIBIT SHOWN

Oregon Federation for Industrial Safety Shows Causes and Results Accidents.

The Oregon Federation for Industrial safety was organized August 31, by combining the State Industrial Accident commission, the State Bureau of Labor and the University of Oregon extension department.

This organization has for its purpose the reducing of industrial accidents in the mills, factories, and other industrial operations in the state of Oregon. The federation aims to accomplish its end by educating the people of the state. To do this it has presented exhibits at the

"LOOKOUT FOR CALIFORNIA"—DEAN WALKER.

"I honestly believe California will tr'm Oregon next Saturday at Berkeley. They have a big, powerful, scrappy, team with a backfield possessing a vast amount of punch and drive."

Any team that can run the ball almost the length of the field with defeat near surety, is some eleven. Reports credit them with this feat against the strong Whittier bunch last Saturday. Look out for California."
DEAN WALKER.
