There is to be a cross-country run between Oregon and O. A. C. held just before the football game on November 25, at Corvallis. All the teams of the race have not been agreed upon. One of man received his law dergee at Stanford the difficulties is whether freshmen will enter the contest or not.

"It is against Oregon's principles to enter freshmen in such a meet," states working a double shift these days. He Captain Martin Nelson, "but O. A. C. may have her freshmen compete." If she persists in having them run, Oregon's first year men may also have a

This year's cross-country will be the first varsity contest of that nature between the two schools, for last year's race was merely between the freshmen their home on one of the large wheat teams. From all indications, O. A. C. has a great many men training, but Captain Nelson believes that Oregon has a good chance of winning the event.

At present there are a number of men practicing three or five times a week, who will all be eligible to the cross-country run. Among these are Martin Nelson, Don Belding, Bob Atkinson, Kent Wilson. Jack Montague, and Ivan Warner. Besides these are the freshmen aspirants, some of whom are very promising, according to Nelson. The conditions for track work have been favorable and the Kincaid course is still in use, but when the fall rains commence, a cross-country course will have to be mapped out. The old one cannot be used because of the pavement which has been laid since last year.

"It is like any other contest between Oregon and O. A. C." Captain Nelson states. "We have simply got to beat them. I want to urge every man in college who has had any experience or who thinks he can, with practice, become a distance runner, to come out for track. Anybody who delivers the goods will make the trip."

The race will begin half an hour before the football game, and the finish will be in front of the grandstand. The distance covered will probably be three sity of Washington. This scholarship, will have entire charge of the exercises. Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, a member of the board of regents, will speak at this assembly, and the local regents, A. C. Dixon and Ray Goodrich, will probably be present, according to K. W. Onthank, secretary to the president, although they are not scheduled to speak. The glee clubs will sing and the orchestra will render a few selections.

Mr. West explained this pledge at the first ceremonies by saying that the people of Oregon are investing a large amount of money in the University, and this is evidence that the students recognize their obligation to the state and will do all they can to repay it by being better citizens of Oregon. At the time Howe, Prof. C. V. Dyment and Coach pledge day was started it was especially necessary to show the people in some way that the University appreciated all the benefits received, because the present millage tax law was not in force then and all the money for the support of the institution had to come from the legislature.
