OREGON RHODES MAN WRITES FROM OXFORD

Luton Ackerson, '15, Tells of Overseas Experiences Since Leaving University.

War Cuts Down Enrollments From Usual 225 to 25; Few Americans.

The following is a letter received by Tom Cutsforth, '18, from Luton Ackerson, who is attending Oxford University. Mr. Ackerson was a Friendly hall man, graduated from the University of Oregon in 1915, and was awarded the Rhodes Scholarship from Oregon last year.

"I suppose that you have already learned that I am safely here, but perhaps you noticed that the 'Alaunia' was sunk. We were originally booked for the 'Alaunia,' but did not go by her because she postponed her trip. However, some letters for me went down with her, and one of the boys lost a box of books which were following on her.

"The colleges are very gloomy and silent with only the Americans and a few medically unfit Englishmen left to carry on Oxford's traditions. St. Johns College (Oxford) has about 25 students of its normal 225. Most of the other colleges have less.

"This city has some of the oldest things that I have ever seen. The buildings date back as far as the fourteenth century and are never restored until absolutely necessary. All the colleges have stone figures of different kinds, and they are so badly worn that they look laughable and hideous.

"In St. John's Charles I. lived when he gathered his parliament to Oxford. Archbishop Laud's old room is next to mine, and Laud himself is buried in the Chapel at St. Johns. Crammer, Ridley and Latimer were martyred out in front of here. There is a monument to them built in 1841. All of the colleges can claim some such distinguished men who have lived within their walls.

"But I haven't been able to do much enthusiasm over all these literary and historical relics. You see, I had such a big glorious time crossing the continent that things here seem very quiet. There is a lot of studying to be done and I am having a little trouble in getting down to hard work. At present I am preparing for an examination in "Pass Moderations" for next March and must study Plato's Apology, Agricola and Germania by Tacitus, Pliny's Letters, the Gospels of St. Mathew, St. John, and the Acts. This is a mess I don't care for, but must take before I get into education next March.

"I am going to write you a longer letter when I have learned more about the place. Meanwhile, please write me a long letter such as you used to write me at Richland. I long for letters from home since I am still suffering from homesickness, and still feel like an exile for three long years.

"Write 'Via American Packet,' to St. John's College, Oxford, England."

SOCCER GAME WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

O. A. C. and Oregon Will Tangle in First Contest of the Season.

Will Play on Kincaid Field or Hockey Grounds at 1 O'Clock.

Next Saturday at one o'clock the Oregon soccer team will meet O. A. C. in the first game of the season and also in the first game between the two schools. Either Kincaid field or the hockey field will be the scene of the struggle, depending on how the weather behaves.

Since the games have been assured there has been a noticeable increase in the turnouts and more pep in the practices. Father Moran, an old player who has lost none of his cunning, has showed the boys some of the "inside stuff." Under his tutelage the forwards have displayed marked improvement.

Kennon at goal, Campbell at fullback and Heywood at center half are the only fixtures in the defense. W. Sheehy is sure of a berth either at halfback or fullback.

Thirteen pairs of shoes were handed out yesterday and two more pair ordered. Not a store in Portland could furnish shoes to fit Kennon and W. Sheehy so an order was sent to San Francisco. The suits, consisting of blue jerseys and white pants, are due to arrive today.

CALLS FOR STUDENTS

Adjutant-General Writes to President Campbell.

Demand for Second Lieutenants; Pay $1700 a Year; Spanish Speakers at Par.

That a number of vacancies exist in the rank of second lieutenant in the United States army has just been brought to the attention of President P. L. Campbell. In a letter received from H. P. McCain, adjutant general, the president is asked to bring the matter to the attention of the student body together with the details concerning the examinations.

The next examinations will be held January 29, 1917, but applications should be in the hands of the adjutant-general before January 17. Applicants must be between 21 and 27 years of age and the examination includes moral, physical and mental tests. The pay of a second lieutenant is $1700 a year.

Students of Spanish will be given preference over those without a knowledge of the language, for in the examinations Spanish is of twice the relative importance that other subjects are.

Miss Thomson Says Movement Started Three Years Ago.

Result of Attempt to Strengthen Weaker Parts of Girls' Bodies.

"We began the Oregon Trail movement in 1913 after we discovered that the backs, legs, chests and arms of the girls were weaker than other parts of the body," said Miss Harriett Thompson, of the women's physical department, at a meeting of the Women's Athletic association in Guild hall last Tuesday.

"The weakness is caused by the fact that children generally stop playing at the age of twelve. The Oregon Trail clubs may be organized by any group of

ROMANCE CULMINATES

Jack Dolph and Muriel Perringer Are Married.

Couple Leave for Akron, Ohio, Where Groom Was Offered Position.

A college romance that culminated Saturday in the marriage of Jack Dolph, Varsity yell leader, and Miss Muriel Perringer, Gamma Phi Beta pledge, surprised campus circles with its suddenness.

Dolph secured a withdrawal card from the University Thursday saying he had been offered a position with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co., of Akron, Ohio, and would soon go to that place. He left for Portland Thursday night. Friday afternoon Miss Perringer told her sorority sisters she was going to Portland for the week-end and attend the Washington State-U. of O. football game. It was noticed she was taking more of her clothes than would be needed for the week-end visit but nothing was thought of that.

Saturday afternoon Dolph was to have appeared upon Multnomah field to help in the leading of yells. His non-appearance caused some wonderment among the fans and a few hours later it became known that during the interim of the game he and Miss Perringer had gone secretly to Vancouver and there been joined in wedlock. They are now on their way to Ohio.

Dolph's marriage is the second in the Dolph family within the last two months and the elopement of Miss Perringer makes the second Muriel of Pendleton to have eloped in the last four months. Miss Perringer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Perringer, of Pendleton, and had recently been elected to University Players. She was a freshman in the University. Her father is a wealthy eastern Oregon wheat rancher.

Dolph is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity and was a second basso in the men's glee club. He was elected to yell leadership position in the first of the school year but resigned Thursday of last week. He is the son of Mrs. Eliza C. Dolph, of Portland.

The young couple kept their plans secret from their fraternity sisters and brothers and the news of the marriage was as startling to them as to the general student body.

The ceremony at Vancouver was performed by Rev. O. W. Ellsworth, pastor of the Vancouver Methodist church. James Vance and Leonard Floan were the witnesses.

BRAZIL SEEKS ADVICE

American Consul Asks Help of Journalism School.

Allen Gets Letter From Gottschalk on Behalf of Brazilian Press Association.

It is a far cry from the Oregon school of journalism to Rio de Janeiro, yet a letter has just been received from the American Consul-General there asking the advice of the local school of journalism.

The letter is from A. L. Moreau Gottschalk and was received by Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism. It states that formal instruction in journalism is about to be introduced in Brazil and asks the assistance and advice of the University of Oregon on behalf of the Associacao Brasileira de Imprensa (Brazilian Press Association). The letter also says that the editors of Brazil favor the type of instruction in journalism that has been worked out in this country.

of girls, and all kinds of outdoor sports are permitted, from mountain climbing to archery. There are now 25 camps in this state, and it is my hope that in a few years there will be a camp in every high school in the state of Oregon. Two-thirds of our University women are Oregon born, and if all girls take the proper exercise before entering college, the corrective work here will be greatly lessened, and the girls will be better physically."

At the meeting reports were made by the following: Ada Hall, head of archery; Mary Chambers, head of canoeing; Esther Furuset, head of baseball; Gladys Wilkins, head of golf; Harriet Farret, head of basketball; Claire Warner, head of track; Frances E. Baker, head of tennis; and Jean Bell, head of walking. All reported that the different departments show great promise and predicted a very successful women's field meet next spring.

New members were added to the association, after which it was decided to add swimming to the list of sports.
