TO GIVE AN "AT HOME"

University Will Entertain Extension Students in Portland.

Exhibit of Work of Faculty and Students Will Be Made in Central Library.

The University of Oregon will give an "at home" on November 25 to all the students of the extension department. In the north gallery of the Central library in Portland. The University extension division, the Central library staff, and graduates of the University living in Portland will have charge of the affair, the musical program and general arrangements being in charge of the Oregon Alumni association of Portland. "The University's Portland work has grown suddenly to such a degree that the University desires," said Miss Mozelle Hair, secretary of the extension division, "all those in the Portland center to become acquainted, not only with one another but with the significance of the extension movement in this city."

It is the present plan to dismiss the class in modern drama conducted by Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons, professor of rhetoric in favor of the reception.

An exhibition of the work of the faculty and students will be made during the reception, this being the first one of this school to be shown in Portland. The classes in architecture are regularly held in North gallery, and a number of good contributions are expected from among the 150 extension students of the department. North gallery will accommodate about 1,000 persons.

The University's 19 Portland classes will shortly be increased to 22. The largest enrollment in any one class at the present time is 230, in a short story class conducted by Mrs. Parsons.

LAW JUNIORS FAIL.

Grades from the first quizzes in the law department of the University of Texas show that nearly thirty per cent of the junior law students are failing to make the grade of eighty required for passing. The jinx seems only to have overtaken the middle class, for first and fourth year men making their grades without apparent difficulty.

AGGIES DOWNED BY OREGON TEAM WORK

Soccer Victory Saturday Was Triumph of Trained Eleven
Over Individual Stars.

Heywood Was Oregon Star Despite Injuries; Sheehy and Kennon Showed Class.

Wm. A. Haseltine.
Oregon's soccer victory over O. A. C. Saturday showed what good coaching can do. Matched against an eleven that contained as many, if not more experienced players, the lemon-yellow won through superior teamwork. Coach Dymment has so drilled his men in passing and keeping their positions that the locals had the ball two-thirds of the time. The Aggies relied on dribbling and individual work which was useless against the Oregon backs.

Due to the fact that the team was not picked until a couple of days before the game, the men didn't really settle down and get together until the second half. Some of the varsity were sadly out of condition and slowed up toward the finish of the contest.

Every Oregon man played good ball however, and the missed kicks were due mainly to the wet and slippery condition of the field. Herb Heywood, if anybody, is entitled to individual honors. In spite of an injured side he was the big show both in breaking up the Aggie rushes and "feeding" the ball to the varsity forwards.

In the first half Oregon had the uphill and although numerous chances to score were offered, the stellar work of goalkeeper Johnson prevented a tally. He is a "whale" of a goal-tender. The playing was in O. A. C. territory most of the time.

Bill Tuerck went in at center forward at the start of the second half and pepped up the forwards to such an extent that within five minutes Oregon scored a goal when Jimmy Sheehy put the leather through with a bullet-like shot. Nelson followed with three minutes later on a pass from Hartley. Jay Fox's perfect corner kick and Nelson's hard boot accounted for the third score. Toward the close of the game Sheehy got the ball in the center of the field and taking it down unaided, shot the final goal from a difficult angle.

O. A. C. would have had two goals in the last period but for Kennon the big goal-keeper who stopped two dangerous shots. Ball, Blanchard and Neal Ford did most of the work for the orange and black although Hedges held down the Aggie captain in fine style.

A return game will be played between the two teams next Saturday morning at Corvallis.

IS HEARD IN RECITAL

Thomas H. Annette, Assisted by Dean Lyman, Give Program.

Martha Tinker

Last evening Thomas Howard Annett, instructor in piano at the University of Oregon, was heard in recital, assisted by Ralph H. Lyman, tenor, dean of the school of music. The program was especially attractive and Mr. Annett's interpretation of it was brilliant and portrayed well the idea of the composer. He was at his best in "Gnomes" by Liszt, a charming bit of descriptive composition.

The last popular by Liszt proved to be the most popular with the audience. In it Mr. Annett showed brilliant technique and imaginative power that brought forth enthusiastic response from his audience.

Mr. Lyman was in splendid voice and revealed an intense dramatic power and sympathetic interpretation that was most pleasing. "The Year's at the Spring," by Beach was by far the most popular with the audience and Mr. Lyman was called upon to repeat it. His interpretation of "Autumn" by Franz is worthy of mention for the fire and finish with which it was worked out and given.
