

Student and Faculty Activities

By Dorothy Parsons

THE dance and card party given at the Multnomah hotel by the alumni of the University on the evening of December 28 was even a greater success than had been anticipated. The entire mezzanine floor of the hotel was used in entertaining. Card tables were placed in the assembly hall and the ball room was thrown open for dancing. During the evening supper was served in the tea gardens. Many features made the dance unique. The intricate grand march, directed by Montrose M. Ringler, after twining in and out for some minutes, ended in a merry Paul Jones. After the Paul Jones cotillion, charming favors were presented to the dancers. A balloon dance was most effective as the gay and tilting balloons, bobbing among the charmingly attired dancers, made a riot of color and contrast which was enchanting.

University colors were everywhere in evidence, being used both in decoration and in the favors. The holiday season was also honored in the decoration scheme, holly wreaths and greens being used extensively.

The committee in charge of the dance consisted of Elmer Furuset, chairman; Mrs. Alice Benson Beach, and L. R. Alderman.

The members of the floor committee to whom much of the credit is due were Mrs. Alice Benson Beach, chairman; Mrs. G. T. Gerlinger, Miss Arvilla Beckwith, Bertha Masters, Grace MacKenzie, Kate Stanfield, Henrietta Laurer, Florence Fendall, R. J. Hammerstrom, Beatrice Locke, Beatrice Lilley, Cecil Miller, Esther Faegley, Lucille Davis, Mae Norton, Mrs. Walker Campbell, Flannice Killingsworth, Elmer Furuset, Don Orput and Lloyd Bayly.

The refreshment committee were Mae Norton, Esther Maegley and Lucille Davis. Roy Terry and Oscar Furuset were in charge of the ticket sale.

Dean Elizabeth Fox spent the Christmas holidays in Portland where she was extensively entertained.

Mrs. F. T. Morgan (Jesse Calkins, '11) is visiting in Eugene at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Calkins, of Eleventh avenue, east. Since her marriage Mrs. Morgan has been living in eastern Oregon.

An enjoyable informal dance was given during the holidays at the home of Miss Anna Lee Miller in honor of the active members of the Oregon chapter of Chi Omega. Oregon colors were used effectively in decorating. Large baskets of chrysanthemums and festoons of evergreen were everywhere in evidence. Later in the evening, a buffet supper was served.

This afternoon, the attractive home of Judge and Mrs. E. O. Potter at 1175 Willamette street, was the scene of a large formal tea, for which Mrs. Carl Normal Homer was hostess. The affair was given in honor of Miss Anne McMicken, whose engagement to Heber Harrington Smith, of Chicago, was announced in Portland early in the fall. The date of the wedding was announced in a

Manager Avison Tells of Men's Glee Club Trip to Southern Oregon Towns

The men's Glee club trip to southern Oregon towns during the Christmas holidays was a huge success, according to Bothwell Avison, manager.

"Starting December 26, the club gave its first concert at Marshfield, the biggest city they struck," he says. "The following night the boys sang in Powers, a coast logging town, where the fashionably dressed audience was attired in mackinaws, hip boots and whiskers. It was an appreciative audience—in fact it almost pushed the floor through. Shouts of 'We want more of that' threatened the roof."

"The conductor put them off at Coquille on the 28th, where the Ko-Keel

Klub entertained them with a dance after the concert.

"Down the river by boat to Bandon was the next day's jaunt, and when the choristers got to the Bandon theatre they found the biggest house of the trip. It was here that H. W. Quigley gave a beach party, and the boys hunted agates and played 'duck on the rock.'"

"The last concert was at North Bend. Following the singing, the Millicoma club invited them to dance."

"The club left Marshfield Dec. 31, with a successful trip, good houses and enthusiastic audiences to their credit."

"The local concert will be given near the beginning of the second semester."

very clever way and the event will take place during the second week in February. Invitations were extended to a large number of Eugene people who are friends of the bride-elect.

Assisting in serving the dainty refreshments were several attractive members of Gamma Phi Peta who are sorority sisters of both Miss McMicken and her hostess. They were Nita Hunter, Helen Johns, Helen Guttery, and Esther Hill. Marguerite Gross attended at the door, receiving cards and welcoming the guests.

The Misses Marion and Grace Reed entertained the members of Kappa Kappa Gamma who spent the holidays in Portland with a delightful luncheon at their home on January 4. Covers were laid for: Mildred Broughton, Celeste Foulkes, Cora Hosford, Lillian Lister, Helen Purrington and Marion and Grace Reed.

Miss Tirza A. Dinsdale and Dean Elizabeth Fox were Wednesday evening dinner guests at Mary Spiller hall.

Curtiss Peterson returned recently from an extended trip in the east with his mother. Most of the time was spent in visiting friends and relatives near St. Paul and Minneapolis.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 27, Mrs. William J. Keller entertained at her home in Alameda Park in Portland in honor of the active members and alumnae of the Oregon chapter of Delta Gamma.

The Multnomah hotel in Portland was especially festive on the evening of January 5 when the Oregon, Washington and California chapters of Kappa Gamma and their alumnae joined in giving an attractive formal dance. The patrons and patronesses on this occasion were Mr. and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Keile, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Flegal, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. DeCou, Dean Elizabeth Fox and Mrs. Etta Holbrook.

Mrs. F. T. Morgan, Miss Margaret Ann Morgan and Mrs. W. W. Calkins were guests at the Delta Gamma house at dinner on Wednesday evening.

The Chi Omegas of the Oregon, Washington and California chapters were guests of the Portland alumnae of the fraternity at a "bridge" tea given at the home of the Misses Esther and Monta Maegley on Saturday afternoon, January 6. Twelve tables of bridge were played and an elaborate musical program was carried out. Later in the afternoon a large reception was held to which about 250 additional guests were invited. The list of honor guests included Mildred McClung, Laura Aiken, Aline Johnson, Nellie Reidt, Florence Hemenway, Helen Bracht, Charlotte Banfield, Anna Lee Miller, Dorothy Bennett, Agnes Basler, Gladys Harbke, Margaret Casey, Lorraine Mahoney, Mildred Pegg, and Belle Messig.

Vivien Pallett has been obliged to leave the University as a result of a nervous breakdown. She left Friday evening to recuperate in Southern California.

Mrs. Seth Stevens Hayes was hostess during the holidays for an informal bridge tea at her home in Portland in honor of her daughter, Miss Beulah Hayes, whose engagement to Malcolm Robert McEwan of Eugene was announced on this occasion. Miss Hayes is an especially attractive girl and is very popular in Portland society. She attended the University of Oregon in 1915 and was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta. Mr. McEwan is a Kappa Sigma of the Oregon chapter and graduated from this University several years ago. Since that time he has been engaged in business in Eugene.

A wedding of special interest to University students was that of Miss Ruth Fraley to Elden W. Furnish of Portland, formerly of Pendleton, on December 28th, at the First Presbyterian church. The church was artistically decorated with lavender chrysanthemums. The bride was beautiful in a gown of duchess satin and lace and carried a bouquet of white roses and orchids. The matron of honor was Mrs. Stuart J. Moore, sister of the groom. She wore a gown of pink. The bride's maids were Bernice Lucas and Louise Caswell. They wore gowns of orchid shades.

Mrs. Furnish was a very popular member of Kappa Alpha Theta in the University, and Mr. Furnish was a member of Chi Psi at Stanford University.

A series of delightful affairs were enjoyed by the members of Alpha Phi during the holidays. Among the most interesting ones were a luncheon on Saturday, January 6, at the University club, a tea, on January 3 for which Miss Dorothy Punziker was hostess, and an informal dance at the home of Miss Gretchen Colton on the fourth.

Mrs. Fletcher Linn, at her charming home on Portland Heights, was hostess during the Christmas week to the members of the Oregon, Washington and California chapters of Pi Beta Phi. Holly wreaths and brilliant poinsettias were used extensively in decorating.

Harry Hamilton and Carl Wade, of Oregon Agricultural college, were dinner guests at the Alpha Tau Omega house Wednesday evening.
