

DRAMATIC FRATERNITY NATIONAL INSTALLED

Campus Players Become Mask and Buskin Chapter of A. U. P.

DANCE AND BANQUET PART OF CELEBRATION

Colin Clements of U. of W., Grand Editor, to Conduct Installation Ceremonies.

The Mask and Buskin chapter of the national fraternity Associated University Players was installed Friday night in Guild hall, by the grand editor, Colin C. Clements of the University of Washington. The installation took place on the stage, and the solemn ceremonies lasted until well past midnight. Twelve upper classmen were admitted to A. U. P. Dr. Bates, the coach and only honorary member, was also initiated.

This initiation marks the successful transfer of the Campus Players, now Mask and Buskin, from a local to a national organization. A. U. P. is the only college national dramatic fraternity admitting both men and women. It has chapters in many eastern colleges, the parent chapter, Mask and Buskin, being located at the University of Illinois. Mr. Clements, who came down to install the Oregon chapter, is the editor of the national magazine, the Cue, which is issued monthly, and carries the spirit of the organization to the different colleges.

A feature of the installation ceremonies will be a formal dance at the Rainbow this evening. The dancing hall has been turned into a pink and white orchard. The apple blossoms are hung from an arbor with two apple trees in full bloom. The Mask and Buskin feature of the dance will be a special dance by Hazel Rader and Mr. Jerome Halzman. The patrons are, President and Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Gerlinger, Miss Fox, Miss Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman.

The installation celebrations will be concluded by a banquet at the Osburn hotel Sunday evening. The members of Mask and Buskin are, Dr. E. S. Bates, honorary, Charles W. Prim, Earl Fleischman, George Colton, Eyla Walker, Rosamond Shaw, Victor Sether, Helen Bracht, Lillian Littler, Rosalind Bates, Cleveland Simpkins, and Ernest Watkins.

As a part of their installation ceremonies, Mask and Buskin gave a vaudeville performance this afternoon in Guild hall. Miss Forbes' orchestra of twenty pieces added special interest to the performance. The acts were of uniform excellence, the local hits getting enthusiastic applause.

The program was as follows:

CLUBS TO HOLD MEETING

Triple A Will Give the Program and Triple B Will Provide Lunch.

A joint basket supper of Triple B and Triple A was planned at the meeting of Triple B held at the Alpha Phi House last Tuesday.

The freshmen girls, according to the plans made at Triple B, will give the program while the sophomore girls will provide the baskets, filling them with enough for two persons. Lillian Boylen, Mildred Steinmetz and Patricia Thurston comprise the committee for the supper. Further arrangements will be made at the meeting of Triple A on Wednesday.

Helen Guttery reported on the social service work of Triple B saying that she had sent some books and magazines to a crippled boy up in the mountains.

C. J. GLEASON TO BE NUN TOOK M. A. DEGREE IN 1916 STUDIED PUBLIC SERVICE

Caroline J. Gleason, who took her master of arts degree in public service and research at the University last June, has entered the training school of the Sisters of the Holy Names at Oswego, Oregon, preparatory to becoming a nun.

Miss Gleason was the first student to receive the degree in public service and research at the University of Oregon. She has been interested in investigating working conditions for women in Oregon for several years. As a result of a survey which she conducted in 1912, the Minimum Wage Law for Women was passed by the legislature in 1913. To administer this law, the Industrial Welfare Commission was created. Miss Gleason was elected the first secretary and held this office until she resigned last summer.

COLLEGE SPEAKER COMING

John Douglas Adam to Deliver Series of Seven Lectures Beginning Feb. 19.

John Douglas Adam of Hartford, Conn., noted college lecturer, will deliver a series of seven lectures on the campus beginning Feb. 19.

He was secured for the University by the Y. M. C. A. in co-operation with President Campbell, but his lectures will be under the auspices of the Real Stuff club.

This club is composed of an independent group of 115 University men organized to promote "Adam Week."

Through Dr. Adam the club will endeavor to stimulate thought on the campus about the moral and spiritual sides of life.

During the last few months Dr. Adam has given series of lectures at Princeton University, Cornell, Pennsylvania, Columbia, Syracuse and other large eastern colleges.

He will deliver the assembly speech Wednesday, Feb. 21.

The next regular meeting of the Real Stuff club will be Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock in Guild hall.

VOLUNTEERS TO TAKE TRIP Will Go to Cottage Grove Friday; Will Give Stereopticon Lecture.

A deputation trip will be made to Cottage Grove on Friday, February 9 by members of the Student Volunteer organization of the University. The purpose of the trip is to go to interest high school students in higher education and in living a moral and a Christian life.

A feature of the trip will be a stereopticon lecture descriptive of the University of Oregon with views of its buildings and teams, its games, rallies, and other activities.

The day at Cottage Grove will open with a one hour program in the high school assembly hall, where the theme will be the university education. In the evening a basketball game will be played between a team composed of members of the deputation and the Cottage Grove high school team. Saturday and Sunday will be devoted to personal interviews with the high school boys and meetings to be attended by boys of the high school.

The party will be made up of James McCallum, deputation chairman in charge of the trip; Ray Hausler, Paul Spangler, Frank Campbell, Leo Cossman, Clinton Thiennes, Randall Scott, and J. D. Foster, general secretary of the University Y. M. C. A.

Twelve trips were made last year by such deputations, and four have been made already this year. More trips are planned.

CELIA HAGAR AT OREGON Graduate of 1912 Class to Be Psychology Assistant.

Celia V. Hagar, a graduate of the University in 1912, will become an assistant in the psychology department the beginning of the next semester. She will have charge of a quiz section and will be an assistant in the laboratory.

For four years after her graduation she was a teacher in the high school at Hood River. During the past semester she has been engaged in graduate work at the University.

PHI DELTS AND FIJIS LEADERS IN SERIES

Doughnut League Basketball Games to Be Resumed Next Wednesday.

Sigma Nu Versus A. T. O. and Sigma Chi Versus Dorm Are the Next Contests.

DOUGHNUT LEAGUE Standing of Teams

First Division
Team	Won	Lost	Per cent
Phi Delt	3	0	1.000
Sigma Chi	2	0	1.000
Dorm	0	1	.000
Betas	0	2	.000
Oregon Club	0	2	.000

Second Division
Team	Won	Lost	Per cent
Fijis	2	0	1.000
A. T. O.	1	1	.500
Kappa Sigs	1	1	.500
Delta Taus	1	1	.500
Sigma Nu	0	2	.000

The nearness of examinations put a stop to further hostilities in the Doughnut league last week and the second half of the schedule will have to be run off after the second semester opens. Starting in next Wednesday with games between Sigma Nu and A. T. O. and Sigma Chi and the Dorm, every afternoon will be taken until the series is finished.

In the first division the race lies between the Phi Delt and the Sigma Chi. The former already have won from the Betas, Dorm and Oregon Club while the Sigs have two victories chalked up to their credit. Both teams have men on the varsity squad for nearly every position so they ought to stage a "big-league" contest when they meet. Farley and Cate have run away from their guards and lead in total number of baskets, but Waldron and Phipps will furnish them a little stiffer opposition. This game is slated for next Friday.

The Dorm has played but one game, that with the Phi Delt which they lost by a good-sized score. Nelson was the bright and shining light with four baskets—the only points for his side. A couple of players were on the sick list, which put the Dorm under a handicap.

The Betas, Sigma Nus and Oregon Club are joint owners of the cellar, neither having been able to break into the win column in two starts. The Betas gave the Phi Delt a close rub in their first game, but despite the heroic efforts of Carl Nelson and Ken Bartlett, they were forced to take the short end of the score.

The absence of "Spike" Leslie from the ranks spelled defeat for the Oregon Club against the two leaders.

The Fijis are leading at present in section two, for the right to meet the winners in the other division, with wins from the Sigma Nus and A. T. O. They have games with the Kappa Sigs and the Delta Taus which will decide the championship of this section.

Three teams are tied for second place, A. T. O., Kappa Sigma and Delta Tau. The A. T. O.'s with Dick Nelson beat the Delt and without him lost to the Fijis. If Dick is able to play, they should win their other games.

The Kappa Sigs were minus Jay Fox when they played the Delta Taus which helped them to defeat. The Delt has played an in-and-out game. The first half they led the A. T. O.'s and then lost out in the final. Against the Kappa Sigs they were behind at the start and then piled up a big count in the last period.

Holding down last place come the Sigma Nus, Johnny Parsons has been playing good ball but his teammates haven't given him the necessary support.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows:
Wednesday, Feb. 7.—Sigma Nu vs. A. T. O. Sigma Chi vs. Dorm.
Thursday, Feb. 8.—Kappa Sig vs. Fiji. Beta vs Oregon Club.
Friday, Feb. 9.—Sigma Nu vs. Delta Tau. Sigma Chi vs. Phi Delt.
Monday, Feb. 12.—Kappa Sig. vs. A. T. O. Beta vs. Dorm.
Tuesday, Feb. 13.—Delta Tau vs. Fiji. Oregon Club vs. Dorm.

STUDENT ATTENTION CENTERED ON SALEM

Proceeding of Legislature Concerning University Carefully Watched.

"Favorable Impression Was Made" Is the General Impression.

The proceedings of the Oregon legislature concerning the University and its work are being closely watched by students and faculty who received the delegation on the campus last Saturday and showed the legislators about the campus. That the reception was all that could be desired would seem to be indicated by several stories appearing in state papers from Salem correspondents.

"It would seem that the legislators left with a very favorable impression," said Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell. E. W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, expressed the same opinion and added that many members of the delegation made the remark that they were in a much better position to judge as to the efficiency of the school now than they had been before.

There was another side to the visit the value of which was not realized until after the guests had arrived. That was the establishing of personal friendships between members of the state law-making body and the students of the University. Many of the students had personal friends in the delegation and many new friendships were formed. It was not an uncommon sight last Saturday to see one legislator surrounded by two or three of the young people from his district, making the rounds of the campus.

The fact that from the time the visitors left the train in front of Villard hall shortly after 11 o'clock until they were whisked away by the automobiles of the Commercial club at 3:45 o'clock, the legislators did not have time to breathe deeply made careful investigation of the grounds and the buildings practically impossible.

In the hurried trip which had been planned to include those points which were of greatest interest and were the most characteristic of the school, it is thought that a general impression was gained without any wasted time. The rain interfered in a measure with the plans of the entertainment but so busy was everyone that no time was left for idling.

HAUSLER GOING TO CHICAGO

Will Represent Numerous Y. M. C. A. Associations of Northwest.

Ray Hausler, '18, member of the University of Oregon Y. M. C. A. cabinet will leave on February 10th for Chicago as one of the north western delegates to the National Intersectional University Y. M. C. A. Conference to be held at the University of Washington. The other delegate from the Northwest is Lawrence J. Williams, secretary of the association at the University of Washington. Mr. Hausler and Mr. Williams were chosen as representatives, last summer at the Y. M. C. A. Conference held at Seabeck, Washington. These two men will represent the following college associations:—The University of Washington, Washington State College, University of Puget Sound, Whitman College, University of Idaho, University of Montana, Reed College, Willamette University, McMinnville College, Albany College, Oregon Agricultural College, Philomath College, Pacific University, Pacific College, Chemawa Indian School and the University of Oregon.

INSTALLS LIGHT SYSTEM

New Method of Illuminating Library Believed Successful.

The semi-indirect lighting system which was installed in the library at the beginning of the semester is proving quite successful according to M.H. Douglas, librarian.

Mr. Douglass says this direct system gives much less trouble than the old method of lighting and a softer, better light is obtained. This method is being used in modern buildings and is considered the best of three systems, direct, semi-indirect, and indirect.

REGISTER LATE—PAY $2 MUST ENROLL MONDAY 150 NEWCOMERS EXPECTED

All registration of students who attended the University last semester must be done on Monday, is the edict issued by the registrar's office. After this date, a fine of $2 will be imposed on those registering. Registration cards must be returned within three days, or students will be subject to the same fine.

According to a recent estimate made by A. R. Tiffany, registrar, 150 students who were not in college here last semester will register on Monday. Out of this number, says Mr. Tiffany, possibly one-half are students who attended the University in the past.

"Judging from previous enrollments, I predict that many of the men will major in commerce and many of the women in English literature," he says. "Both these courses are always very popular."

DR. AYER GOES TO IOWA

Will Have Charge of 25 Men in Research Work in Education.

Fred C. Ayer, professor in the school of education, left here Monday, for Iowa, where he will conduct a class in the State University in research work in education. Professor Ayer left here shortly after exchanging telegrams with Walter A. Jessup, president of the University of Iowa, and formerly dean of the education department of the same school.

The class to be under his supervision is composed of 25 men who are taking graduate work in the University who have already had experience as teachers or supervisors. Professor Ayer will return to the University of Oregon in the fall semester but in the meantime he expects to do some personal research work along the line of efficiency in teaching.

He anticipates stopping at the University of Washington on his return trip where he will teach in the summer school.

NEW COURSES OFFERED

Five New Subjects Given in School of Architecture; Four in Commerce.

The new semester will bring a number of new courses. Some of the departments are offering as many as four and five new subjects.

The school of architecture offers five new courses. They are as follows: A three-hour course in history of civilization and are epoch lectures by Professor Schoff; a two-hour course in pedagogy of art by Professor Schoff; a one-hour course in business relations by Professor Lawrence; and a one-hour course in technique of the artist by Dr. Bosch. In botany a two-hour course in systematic botany of shrubs and trees is given by Professor Sweetser.

The school of commerce also offers several new courses. A two-hour study in credits, collections and purchasing is given by Professor McAuslan. Professor Jackson is giving a two-hour study in marketing methods and two one-hour subjects in vocational guidance and balance sheets.

Two one-hour courses in advertising and show card writing are also given by Professor McAuslan. In economics Professor Young offers a two-hour course in University and commonwealth; Professor Robbins a two-hour subject in socialism. Mr. Douglass is giving a three-hour course in library methods for students and teachers.

ESSAY PRIZES OFFERED

Karl Onthank Receives Notice of Papers Wanted on Various Economic Subjects.

Karl W. Onthank, secretary of President Campbell, recently received announcements concerning prizes offered by eastern associations to students for essays on various subjects for the year 1917. The list of prizes offered range from $25 to $100, and are open to post-graduates, under-graduates and to high-school students.

The National Committee on Prisons offers three prizes from $25 to $50, for the best essays on any phase of the prison problem. The highest prize they offer is that of $50 to post-graduates, and $25 to under-graduates and high school students in separate contests.

The National Municipal League with offices at Philadelphia, and the Lake Mohonk Conference on International Arbitration of New York, also offer prizes for essays on various topics. The subjects suggested are on economical, municipal, and legal questions.

VARSITY DOWNED BY U. OF W. QUINTET

Seattleites Win Easily by Score of Thirty-Three to Twelve.

S. HUNTINGTON'S NOSE ACCIDENTALLY BROKEN

Twenty-One Fouls Called in the Game, Twelve of Which Were on Oregon.

CONFERENCE BASKETBALL STANDINGS TO DATE

Team	Won	Lost	Pct

O. A. C.	4	0	1000
U. of W.	1	4	800
U. of O.	0	5	000

Jimmie Sheehy

Bezdek's much maligned varsity was easily humbled by the University of Washington quintet in the men's gymnasium last night in the first of two game series to decide the conference cellar championship. The score was 33 to 12.

Outside of the first five minutes of play little real basketball was displayed. Both teams were constant offenders with personal fouls and roughing was the rule of the evening. Referee Botsford, of Reed College, called a total of 21 fouls, 12 on Oregon and 9 on Washington. His officiating was the best seen on the local floor this year.

The play was fast at the outset. Washington used a short pass, side-to-side lateral attack, that failed to penetrate the varsity defense. Coach Davidson called a conference of his charges in the center of the floor and altered his style of attack. A long pass coupled with considerable busting tactics soon were Bezdek's charges down and from then on it was easy for the Seattleites.

Lynn McCready at center found the bucket for the opening basket with a long shot from mid-floor. McCready then converted the first of Riddle's five personal fouls that ended in his banishment at the middle of the first period.

Captain and coach Davidson of the visitors showed some of the best basketball that varsity fans have ever had the privilege to witness. Jay Fox guarded him closely during the first half, yet he managed to throw two field baskets out of as many tries at the hoop. He threw 7 out of 9 free throws. He was here, there, and everywhere, always cool under fire, and a dead shot at the basket. His squirming, ducking tactics were responsible for over half of the fouls called on the lemon-yellow guards.

Ralph Smith at forward, C. Smith at center, and Staatz at guard each found the net with long shots during the first half. Jay Fox brought the crowd to its feet with a long ringer past the center of the floor. Fox showed to advantage throughout the evening. Washington led 17 to 10 at half time.

Hopes that the varsity would come back in the final period were soon blasted. They seemed lost when it came to finding their men to advance the ball. Their old fault of laying back when the opportunity came to pass down the floor caused their downfall. Loose guarding, coupled with an utter lack of the get together spirit, made it easy for Washington to roll up the score.

Sims replaced Cate and Dick Nelson took Fox's place. Still the scoring continued. Davidson scored four field baskets although closely guarded all the while. Staatz and R. Smith each broke loose on two occasions and dropped the ball in the net. The former featured with close guarding and accurate passing. McCready bagged the only two points the varsity got during the half on a long toss.

In attempting to guard Shy Huntington, Balmer unintentionally struck him with the heel of his hand, breaking his nose. Shy gamely stuck to his post and played good ball.

Davidson and Staatz featured for Washington while McCready and Fox shone for Oregon.

While the two teams are tangling on the local floor the champion Washington State five is looking up with California at Berkeley. Next Thursday afternoon
