

DOUGHNUT SCHEDULE WILL END TONIGHT

Delta and Fijis to Dispute First Place; Dorm and Oregon Club Cellar.

A. T. O. AND BETAS WIN CONTESTS ON MONDAY

Hard Fought Games Furnish Much Amusement for Spectators.

DOUGHNUT LEAGUE Standing to Date

Division	Team	Won	Lost	Per Cent
First Division—	Sigma Chi	4	0	1.000
	Phi Delt	3	1	.750
	Beta	2	2	.500
	Dorm	0	3	.000
	Oregon Club	0	3	.000
Second Division—	Fiji	3	0	1.000
	A. T. O.	3	1	.750
	Delta Tau	2	1	.667
	Kappa Sig	1	3	.250
	Sigma Nu	0	4	.000

Yesterday's results—Beta, 10; Dorm, 7; A. T. O., 21; Kappa Sig, 4.

In two exciting and hard-fought contests, yesterday, the Beta and A. T. O. quintets emerged victors over the Dorm and Kappa Sigs respectively. It was the final appearance of all the teams except the Dorm which stages a game with the Oregon Club for the cellar championship of section 1, this evening.

The first game, between the Dorm and the Betas, furnished the gallery plenty of amusement. Everything from soccer to running with the ball was injected into the fray. The Dorm drew first blood when, on a toss-up near the basket, Nelson outleaped his opponent and planted the ball in the net. A free throw by Pee-Wee Edwards and an easy counter by Bartlett put the Betas in the lead. Another foul throw apiece and the first half ended with the Betas out in front 4-3.

Frank Campbell brought his team back with the do-or-die spirit in the second stanza, but fate was against them. Ned Fowler, who went out for Watson, had his eye well trained and sunk three out of as many free tries besides netting a field goal. Billie Morrison dribbled the entire length of the floor for another marker. Two baskets—one by Campbell and one by Cossman—were all the Dorm could get and the count at the whistle stood 10-7.

The Kappa Sig "ponies" were helpless before the machine-like precision of A. T. O. Everything broke just right for the latter. "Skinny" Hargreaves threw three baskets that would be hard to beat in any league, and one from third base on the indoor diamond brought down the house. The A. T. O. five showed some of the best floor work seen yet in any of the games. They ran up ten points in the first period and eleven more in the last, of which Dick Nelson made seven. Jack Elliott played the leading role for Kappa Sigma with two sensational ringers.

To-day will see the conclusion of the regular schedule. If the Fijis beat the Delta Taus they will have the undisputed right to meet Sigma Chi for the big cup reposing in Bill Hayward's sanctum. If they lose, three tams—A. T. O., Delta Tau and Fiji will be tied for the honors, and a round robin will be necessary to determine the winner.

GYM FIRST-AID MAY PAY

California's First Aiders Get Dollar a Day; Why Not Oregon's?

Students taking Trainer Bill Hayward's course in first aid may receive extra pay from jobs in which this knowledge is useful. A diploma from the first-aid course in the mining department of the University of California insures the holder from fifty cents to a dollar a day more than regular wages.

"I am making no promises," said Bill, "but there is a possibility that we can make the same arrangement here."

MEDICAL BUILDING MAY GET $100,000

Ways and Means Committee of Legislature Recommends Appropriation.

Campus Will Be Situated on Marquam Hill, in Portland.

Recommendation by the joint ways and means committee of the state legislature that $100,000 be appropriated for a new building for the medical school of the University at Portland has encouraged friends of the institution to hope for the passage of the measure. The amount agreed upon is $38,820 less than was asked for by the University.

The appropriation allows $40,000 for a new building and $60,000 for maintenance. If the appropriation bill passes, the school will have approximately $115,000 for construction of a new building. Part of this sum will come from an appropriation of $50,000 made by the legislature last year, and from donations by people of Portland, amounting to something like $25,000.

An offer to donate a site for the new building has been made by the Oregon-Washington Railroad and Navigation company.

"The state has been in need of a medical college in Portland for several years," said Karl W. Onthank. "The small branch of the University has been inadequate to train as many students as apply for medical education."

The buildings now occupied by the medical school was built in 1892. It is a three-story structure and contains laboratories a dissecting room, two lecture rooms and the medical school library.

The campus of the new medical college is to be situated on Marquam Hill, one of Portland's most attractive spots. Under the stipulations of the O.-W. R. & N. gift it will be possible to erect hospitals upon the grounds, which will give the faculty of the school every means of practical instruction in the various branches of medicine.

ALEX BOWEN LIKE BARRYMORE. - MOTT

All-Star Cast Named for "The Dictator" Includes Campus Favorites.

Ruth Montgomery Plays Long Role of Juanita Like a Professional.

Among the headliners in the cast of "The Dictator," Richard Harding Davis' comedy which the University Players will stage at the Eugene theatre Friday evening, February 16, are Alex Bowen and Miss Ruth Montgomery, who will appear in the parts made famous by Jack Barrymore and Louise Allen when "The Dictator" scored the world's record run for farce-comedy at the Criterion theatre, New York, a few seasons ago.

Those who saw the University Players' presentation of "The Fortune Hunter" last spring will not soon forget Alex Bowen's performance of Tracey Tanner, the liverman's son. In "The Dictator" he is even a better part. He plays the role of "Charlie Hyne," the wireless operator who has a perpetual grouch and a sense of humor; a unique combination of which the author has taken full advantage.

ALEX BOWEN.

Alex Bowen, who plays leading role in "The Dictator."

vantage, and out of which he has evolved one of the greatest comedy characters in the English language. "Hyne" is a typical Barrymore part. In fact it was Barrymore's performance of this role that first raised the brilliant young actor to the dignity of stardom. Bowen looks like Barrymore, and acts like him, and director James Mott solemnly declares that in this particular part the great Barrymore himself has little, if anything on our own Alex.

One of the big hits of "The Dictator" will be the acting of Ruth Montgomery, who will be seen in the role of "Juanita," the widow from Panama. ("Juanita" is a long part, and Davis wrote it with the deliberate intention of making the audience laugh at every line in it. As an author Davis has the reputation of never missing fire, and Miss Montgomery sees to it that every line "goes over" in the exact manner the author intended it should. Her scenes with the bogus American Consul to San Manana (James Mott) are irresistible. Even the seasoned veterans of the cast who have been driven at professional speed through a week of nightly rehearsals, cannot refrain from applause whenever Miss Montgomery begins her second act "dagger scene." Juanita's scenes with President Campos (Ernest Watkins) and with the missionary girl (Echo Zahl) are equally amusing, while her love scene with the Rev. Arthur Bostic (Perry Lawrence) is a veritable scream.

From all accounts anyone who misses "The Dictator" will be playing an awful joke on himself. The best seats will cost 50 and 75 cents, and the gallery will cost a quarter. The seat sale opens Thursday morning, Feb. 15, at 9 o'clock.

THETA SIGMA PHI TO ENTERTAIN.

ANTI-FAT WOULDN'T WORK NEITHER WOULD DIETING SO HARTHAN QUILTS TRYING

Professor H. F. Harthan has given up dieting—that is, he has almost persuaded himself that his effort to ward off superfluous avoirdupois has been in vain. After living for twenty or thirty days at a time on a menu consisting principally of orange juice, a little water, Postum, prepared consomme in jelly form and Anti-Fat taken three times daily, the then hopeful professor of Spanish walked up to a scale and found he had gained twenty-seven pounds.

Ever since his arrival in Eugene last fall Professor Harthan has endeavored to preserve his physical perfection. He expected to make his appearance shortly in a new evening vest and had had it made to order. Not so long after the vest's arrival he got it out, stroked its elegant surface, and put on the garment. Ah, tragedy of all tragedies, it lacked two inches of meeting around the waist.

Now the professor worries no longer about his food, has given up all forms of exercise and sleeps from 8 in the evening until time for morning classes.

CALLS COME FOR TEACHERS

Portland Extension Class in Experimental Pedagogy Begins.

Professor H. D. Sheldon, dean of the school of education reports that there is a great demand for teachers. He says that there have been four or five calls lately for high school teachers, but there have been no candidates for these positions. He is anxious to learn of any competent teacher desiring a position.

Professor Sheldon further urges all those who wish to teach next year to register on the second floor of the Administration building some time this week. This applies to any senior or special student. This early registration will assist the department in obtaining positions for their candidates next fall.

As a part of the extension work of this department, Professor Sheldon announces that C. A. Gregory began a series of lectures at the Portland public library last Friday night. The subject of this work is "Experimental Pedagogy" and deals with tests which are made in spelling, composition, arithmetic, etc. About twenty teachers signed up for credit in these lectures the first night and many more attended as visitors. Mr. Gregory predicts that this will be a popular course before long.

Y. W. TO HOLD ELECTIONS

Four Offices to Fill; Ruth Wilson and Ruth Westfall Up for President.

The Y. W. C. A. will hold its regular meeting at the Bungalow on Wednesday at 4 o'clock. Election of officers will take place.

The four new members of the advisory board will also be elected and the cabinet will report on the work of the past year. Louise Allen, retiring president, will preside at the meeting.

In conjunction with the Y. W. C. A., are the meetings which will be held in Guild hall from 7 to 8 o'clock on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week. The speaker will be Dr. Edward H. Pence, who succeeds, Dr. Marcotte as pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church in Portland.

LIBRARIAN COLLECTS SONGS

Contributions Desired; Music to Be Supplied for Occasions.

Song books of all kinds will form the latest collection to be added to the music department of the library. M. H. Douglass, head librarian, is planning to include in it hymn books, college songs, popular songs, war songs, campaign songs and Oregon songs, which have been already started in a scrap book. Dean, R. H. Lyman of the school of music will write up Oregon songs in correct form before he leaves for California. Often there are calls for songs for special occasions, as for parties and plays, and these demands will be met when the new department is installed.

The department will be built up by gifts and contributions from publishers.

MORFITT LEAVES COLLEGE

GOVERNOR TO ATTEND J. D. ADAM MEETING

Will Preside at Third Lecture to Be Given by Noted College Speaker.

PRES. CAMPBELL WILL TALK TO CLUB TONIGHT

H. S. Templeton, Member of First Football Team, to Visit Campus.

Governor Withycombe, in a letter received this morning by President Campbell, stated that he will come to the University Wednesday, February 21, and preside at the lecture to be given that evening by John Douglas Adam, the college speaker who will give a series of seven talks to men February 19, 20, 21 and 22.

Mr. Adam is being brought to the University through the cooperation of President Campbell and the Real Stuff club, an independent group of 115 men organized for this specific purpose.

His talks will be on such topics as will tend to stimulate serious thought by the men on the problems of their lives. He will give four evening and three afternoon addresses, besides personal interviews to those men desiring them.

President Campbell will speak tonight in Guild hall to the club, on Mr. Adam, and "Adam Week," as the week of lectures is called by members of the club.

Harry S. Templeton, of Vancouver, Wash., a member of the first football team, organized at Oregon in 1891, and captain of the first championship team in 1895, will be at the University during the week of February 19 to assist in the series of lectures. He will give talks to groups of men to supplement the addresses of Mr. Adam and will preside at the meeting Thursday, February 22.

Mr. Templeton took part in many college activities while at Oregon. He won his "O" in both football and track. In the first intercollegiate track meet, held at Salem, he won both the hammer and shot events.

Mr. Templeton was the University of Oregon delegate to the intercollegiate oratorical contest of the Northwest states, held at the University of Washington in 1896, and won the first prize of $100. He writes: "My subject was 'International Arbitration,' and so hopeful was I along that line that I prophesied the world would never see another great war." He also won the falling prize of $150 at his graduation.

President Campbell and Dean Straub will preside at the other evening meetings, President Campbell, Monday, and Dean Straub, Tuesday.

William Moll Case, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Eugene, who has had a long personal friendship with Mr. Adam, says of him: "He is a man of powerful personality and a wonderful speaker."

WILL PLAN FOR SMOKER

Inter-fraternity Council to Also Discuss Attendance at Adam Meetings.

Plans for an inter-fraternity smoker will be considered at the meeting of the inter-fraternity council, according to Karl Becke, president, which will be held in Hugo Bezdek's office Tuesday evening. This smoker will be given soon according to Becke.

The question of fraternity attendance at the Adam meetings next week also will be brought up before the council. "We are going to try to stimulate fraternity interest in these meetings," said Mr. Becke.
