DEBATES ON TONIGHT

Varsity Will Meet Aggies in First Contest of Year.

Affirmative Team at Corvallis; Arbitration of Labor Disputes Is Subject.

The University of Oregon debaters will meet the O. A. C. team in the first intercollegiate debate of the season, tonight at 7:30 in Guild hall. The judges for the debate are: Ex-Governor Oswald West, Eugene Brookings of Portland, and Miss Cornelia Maivan. Mr. Brookings is a well-known Portland lawyer, and Miss Maivan is the state librarian.

The judges of the contest at Corvallis will be Mr. Merian of Reed, Mr. Bepitchen of Salem and a professor at Reed whose name has not yet been agreed upon.

Walter Myers and Vivian Kellems will represent Oregon at O. A. C., while Don D. Davis and Lewis Beebe will be the varsity defenders here. At Corvallis the Eugene team will meet one of the most formidable of the O. A. C. debaters, Robert Heichart. Heichart has had four years experience in debate, and this is his second bout with the University of Oregon. He is also an orator of ability having won second place in the O. A. C. oratorical contest. Fessler, the other man on the Corvallis squad is an old high school debater.

The O. A. C. men here are both comparatively new at the game as are also the Oregon representatives. Mr. Davis, who with Mr. Beebe, will defend the negative for Oregon, is the first freshman in years to make the Oregon team. Both the Oregon and O. A. C. men have a reputation for fighting.

The question to be debated is, "Resolved, That Capital and Labor should be compelled to settle their industrial disputes in legally established courts of arbitration." Oregon will have the negative here and the affirmative at Corvallis.

$2000 TO BE RAISED FOR EUROPEAN FUND

War Relief Subscriptions Already $118; All Students to Be Asked to Contribute.

President Campbell Compares Men in Prison Camps to University Students.

That at least $1500 and possibly $2000 will be raised on the campus for European war prison camp relief is now the expectation of the faculty and student war relief committees.

Every student on the campus will be interviewed by tomorrow morning, by a representative of the war relief committee, according to the plan of campaign outlined at a joint meeting of faculty and student workers last night. All fraternity, sorority and other houses where a number of students are congregated will be visited by a faculty member. Students who can not be reached in this way will be interviewed by student members of the war relief committees.

Pledge cards will be given out to be filled and turned over to Loren Roberts, chairman of the men's committee or to Louise Allen, chairman of the women's committee. The money is to be paid in at the University comptroller's office and is due March 5.

Up to yesterday noon $118 had been donated toward the University fund with the canvassing work just beginning. The contributions ranged from $25 down to $1. This averages well with the donations among the students of other American universities. Yale averaged about $6 for each student. Williams about $10, Iowa about 60 cents.

President Campbell is enthusiastically backing the relief fund. In an announcement before the student assembly Wednesday morning, he told of the suffering in the prison camps within the war zone and contrasted the lot of the inmates of these prisons to that of the students of the American universities. "It is a worthy movement," he said, "and one well deserving of support; that of transferring some of the comforts of University of Oregon students to the more unfortunate young men of European warring nations now practically starving to death in prison camps."

It is planned to complete the subscription list on the campus by a Saturday. A meeting of the committees working for the relief fund is announced for Friday night, when the work will be checked up and arrangements made for completion of the campaign.

going to be the climax of my social career. If Seafie keeps away from me I know I can have a nice time. If he don't—wow."

Westerfield has a hunch that this is going to be the best ever. He says, in passing, "Please state that I am out to win. Saturday night I will be rampant. Those three K's thrill me like three other K's did the niggers in the Birth of a Nation time. My soul is on fire with the thrill of the revel."

Edythe Bracht says, "What a debauch of music it will be!!! What a riot of fun. I have my middy blouse all dirty just for the Karnival."

Come one. Come all to the Kollege Kid's Karnival.

er, that Noah landed with his Ark after the flood. Dr. Banks adds that the name of Noah was not on the paper with the list of those who reached the top which is kept in a bottle on the summit safeguarded by a mound of stone. Dr. Banks believes after looking over the list that he is the first American who has ever climbed to the top of Mt. Ararat.

The speaker also showed slides of where the garden of Eden is said to have been located. An Arab in the garden showed him the alleged Tree of Knowledge, the fruit of which the speaker insisted upon tasting. There is some question as to the identity of the tree, asserted Dr. Banks, as the tree did not look to be over 50 years old, but he was informed that the tree had fallen down only to spring up again many times in the past centuries, and that the tree he saw was in fact a part of the true Tree of Knowledge.

Dr. Banks showed the land of the Armenians where they are at the present time being murdered by the thousands for their shrewdness. It takes 10 Christians to best a Jew, said the lecturer, and 10 Jews to best an Armenian.

The lecturer said that the Armenians had the finest wheat land in the world. The Armenian farmer will place a sheaf of wheat by the roadside and ask the traveler to pronounce his blessing upon the harvest, then demand of him a silver coin for the special privilege.

The speaker told of excavations at Bagdad where he hired pick and shovel men for 20 cents a day. Basket carriers and men doing other kinds of work were paid from seven to fifteen cents a day. Boys twelve years old were paid one cent a day. On this meager sum they kept their mothers in food and still saved money to buy came's so that they could become true Arabian Knights.
