By Dorothy Parsons

Amidst a profusion of greens which herald the coming of St. Patrick's day, the formal dinner-dance of Delta Delta Delta is taking place at the Hotel Osburn this evening. The good old Irish color is everywhere in evidence, from the leather programs embossed with the fraternity seal and with tiny bunches of shamrock caught in the cords to the ribbons tying the diminutive pipes which are being used as favors.

The guests are, Professor and Mrs. A. B. Sweetser, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Booth, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kuykendall, Miss Louise Fitch, Dean Elizabeth Fox, Miss Caples, Elizabeth Malbeouth of Portland, Maude Barnes, Hallie Smith, Helen Loughry, all of Dallas, Leatha Driscoll, Tora Mortenson, Helen Deckebach, Bernice Craig, all of Salem, Helen Stansfield of Portland, Louise Donahue of Chehalis, Wash., Lotta Livermore of Pendleton, Bess Jane Atchison, of Corvallis, Dorris Churchill of Salem, Marion Gilstrap, Marian Ady, Dorothea Boynton, Dorothy Dixon, Thelma Stanton, Lyle Bryson, Dorothy Childs, Marie Churchill, Gertrude Buell, Lucile French, Olive Phillips, Kenneth Bartlett, Jay Gore, Harold White, Wayne Stater, Jack Montague, Percy Boatman, Forest Watson, Leslie Schwering, George Stevenson, Paul Foster, Floyd Hart, Glen Dudley, Don Newbury, William Vawter, Earl Bronaugh, Harold Tregilgas, Lloyd Still, Alex Bowen, Wallace Landreth, Virgil Alexander, Lynn McCready, Roy Brown, Bob Montague, Joe Bell, William Haseltine, Ray Couch, Jake Risley, Stanley Atkinson, Ralph Hurn, De Witt Gilbert, Herman Lind, Carl Knudson, Roland Nichol, Jerome Holzman, Joe Hedges, Lyle McCrocker, Wyville Sheehy, James Sheehy, Nick Jaureguy, Dow Wilson, Giles Hunter, Fremont Hodson, Elmer Howard, Paul Spangler, Russel Hall, Al Agosti, Lyle Wilcox, Jack Eakin, Robert Mann, Bill Tuerck and John Burch.

The freshmen of Alpha Phi entertained last evening with an informal dance at the home of Mrs. E. S. Parsons, 1250 Hillyard street. A light supper was served at 10:30 o'clock and a Victrola furnished music for the dancers. Professor and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher acted as patron and patroness for the evening. Mrs. T. J. Geisler, of Portland, is spending the week-end with her daughter Gene at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house.

Harold Barde spent last week-end in Portland.

TEAM GOES TO ELMIRA

Y. M. Deputation Makes Week-End Trip, by Invitation.

Six members of the University Y. M. C. A. left yesterday on a deputation to Elmira. They are James McCallum, J. D. Foster, Ray Hausler, J. C. Harper, Dennis Brown and Warren Gilbert.

Friday afternoon they gave a high school assembly program and were guests at a reception last night. This morning they went on a hike with the Elmira boys. This evening a basketball game will be played between the visitors and the Elmira high school five.

Officers Training

align themselves with the country's defenders. They showed even greater willingness to leave on little or no notice than did the men and offered themselves for various branches of the service, from nursing to automobile driving. These names will be forwarded to the central office of the bureau along with those of the men in case they might later prove of value.

A surprisingly large number of the men signing the blanks have had former military or naval training, either in the cadet corps of other colleges or in companies of the national guard, both in the infantry and coast artillery drilling with the Second company, coast artillery, in the local armory.

Practically the entire membership of the order of the "O" is represented on the list of students shown by the questionnaires. Almost without exception the men testify to athletic experience of one sort or another.

Questionnaires of the same nature will be sent off to the alumni of the University in the near future by Mr. Williams, who is the local director. The blanks which were signed by the students were a copy of samples sent out by the central office, but were not as detailed as some later received here. These offer more specific questions as to the experience and ability of the students in a larger number of trades.

INDIAN PRINCESS TO APPEAR ON PROGRAM

Tsianina, in Tribal Dress of Buckskin and Beads, Will Interpret Cadman Songs.

Lovers of Cadman's Indian music will be able to hear it through the artist's own interpretation for Charles Wakefield Cadman, composer of "From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water," and "At Dawning" will appear at the armory, March 14, with Tsianina a pure blood Indian princess as soloist.

On account of a promise made to her mother before the latter's death, Tsianina dresses entirely after the fashion of her Indian tribe. Her evening gown is said to be made entirely of white buckskin and beads.

Music critics say that she has an unusually fine voice, clear and ringing, and that she speaks perfect English as well as the language of her own tribe.

JOHN SPARGO IS COMING

Socialist to Speak Sunday Evening at Unitarian Church.

John Spargo, the famous socialist, lecturer and writer, will speak Sunday evening, March 11, at 7:30 p. m., in the Unitarian church.

Mr. Spargo comes here under the auspices of the local chapter of the Intercollegiate Socialist society. He is touring the country lecturing at universities and colleges. The admission to the lecture is free.

Mr. Spargo is recognized as one of the most brilliant men in the socialist party. He has written a number of books on humanitarian, charitable and economic subjects and has been on important commissions in New York.

The Intercollegiate Socialist society has 66 chapters, which receive the benefit of the speakers that are sent out over the country by the central office. Mr. Spargo is considered its finest talker.

CONCERT SET FOR MARCH 22

Strengthened University Orchestra to Make Fifth Annual Appearance.

The University orchestra will give its fifth annual concert Thursday evening, March 22, in Villard hall. According to Miss Winifred Forbes, director, the orchestra is stronger than ever before, and has been more active this year. The violin section is much stronger this year, and this together with the fact that the orchestra has been a student organization, has made the work especially successful, she says.
