$9000 AVAILABLE FOR LOANS TO STUDENTS

Money Donated by Friends of University May Be Secured by Needy.

Borrower Must Be Sophomore, Junior or Senior; Small Rate of Interest Charged.

The income from various funds amounting in aggregate to nearly $9,000 is at present available for loans to students of the University on the consent of a faculty committee after the borrower has registered for the sophomore year. This principle is composed of funds donated from time to time by friends of the University.

Loans are made to the students at small rates of interest upon applications filed on a blank provided for that purpose by the registrar.

In 1909 the general fund was established by William M. Ladd of Portland, A. S. Roberts of The Dalles, the class of 1904, Theodore B. Wilcox of Portland and John Kelly of Eugene. It has been added to from time to time by A. S. Roberts, R. A. Booth of Eugene, J. C. A. Ainsworth of Portland, Mrs. Ellen Condon McCormack of Eugene and by the class of 1911. All of these have contributed very liberally and the present substantial fund is a monument to their generosity and magnanimity.

Unlike most universities, Oregon has never been the recipient of any gifts for the construction of buildings, with the single exception of the $50,000 donated by Henry Villard for the hall which now bears his name. Funds for the establishment of prizes were given by Henry Failing of Portland, C. C. Beekman, of Jacksonville and Philo Sherman Bennett of New Haven, Conn. Joseph H. Teal has presented the University with a statue which will be erected in the near future.

Since the completion of Villard hall, however, no private funds have gone into the construction of any of the University buildings. This is rather an exception among American colleges of the age of the University, some having received enormous endowment from citizens and alumni.

PLANS FOR NEW PLANT

School of Journalism's $5000 for Practical Equipment.

Student Interest to Influence Course in Next College Year.

The allowance of $5,000, which the board of regents Saturday authorized the executive committee to spend in equipping the University Press, will be sufficient to establish a plant such as a graduate in journalism might reasonably expect to acquire by his own efforts in the years following his graduation, provided he can demonstrate his ability to manage a newspaper successfully, according to Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism.

"I do not feel personally in a position to announce any plans," said Mr. Allen. "Catalogue copy has to go in at once, and the journalism courses for next year will be based upon a strong educational use of the new equipment, but the matter of the organization of the plant depends largely upon other persons besides the faculty of the school. In the first place, President Campbell and the executive committee of the board of regents have, of course, the full authority and responsibility. Then, the State Editorial Association at its last convention appointed a committee on professional education consisting of Edgar B. Piper, editor of the Oregonian; John E. Gratke, editor of the Astoria Evening Budget; and Clark Wood, editor of the Weston Leader. This committee strongly urged the board of regents to take the action that has now been taken, and the members will be consulted in regard to further development. Last, but not least, the student interest in the proposed enterprise is an important one, and before definite steps are taken, the faculty of the school wishes a full expression from the students in the journalism courses, and from representatives of the associated students, through the council or otherwise."

NO IMMEDIATE ACTION

Plans for Dormitory Come Up at Board Meeting.

Large, Open Structure Similar to Women's Gym May Be Built.

No definite action as to the location and plans of the new dormitory for women and the military quarters provided for at the regent's meeting Saturday, will be made for two or three weeks pending the meeting of the board's executive committee which has been empowered to act in respect to these matters.

Five thousand dollars is, of course, inadequate for the construction of any permanent armory or drill hall. Indications seem to point to the building of a large open structure on something the same plan as the women's outdoor gymnasium and situated on the University property just east of the men's gymnasium.

Discussion seems to indicate that it would have a clay floor, locker room and probably a connection with the shower room of the adjoining gym, affording the men easy access to the baths and plunge. It would also be furnished with rooms for the storing of guns and equipment.

A building of this nature will come within the requirements set by the federal government and which must be met before a military officer could be assigned to duty here as commandant, thinks Karl W. Onthank, secretary to the president. He has already opened communication with the war department along this line with a view toward securing reliable information and toward ascertaining the possibility of future training.

STUDENTS INCLUDED IN DRESS-UP PLANS

Are Asked to Participate in Street Demonstration on March 25.

"Fashion Show Week" Is to Be Combined With "Window Display" Period.

Plans for the Eugene business men's "Dress up Week" this year include arrangements for the participation of University students, in the street demonstrations which will be held during the first part of the week. The date has been set for the week beginning March 25.

Eugene will have her "dress up week" earlier than the national date for the event. This arrangement allows two weeks before Easter and enables "fashion show week" and "window display week" to be combined into one event.

This year marks the first time that this combination has been tried by Eugene business men. A committee has been appointed to select a name for the feature week and will report at the next meeting of the business men and at the same time present plans to make this year's features excel those of all former years.

Dress up week has been observed regularly in Eugene for several years. It has for its purpose the directing of special attention to the stocks of local merchants who during this week advertise extensively and make an especial effort to show the people of Eugene and trading radius that Eugene merchants carry the latest in good merchandise and are prepared to give residents of Lane county and students at the university the best of service.

The week will begin with the presenting of window displays before street crowds, Monday evening. Cups for both the first and second best displays will be awarded by the Eugene Guard and the Morning Register.

The committee appointed by the business men, Tuesday evening, to take charge of the preparations is composed of Paul Willoughby, Haberdasher; C. F. Sexton, of Hampton's department store; Carl Washburn, of McMorran and Washburn; J. C. Price, of the Price Shoe Co.; F. X. Schaefer, of Ax Billy's; and J. E. Kelly, of Friendly's.

HANGING OUT THE FLAG.

When hanging out the flag, several points of etiquette should be observed:

1. Remember that the flag when flown on north and south streets must hang with the blue field toward the east, and on east and west streets must hang with the blue field toward the north.

2. The flag should never be allowed to fly all night. On taking it down, the folds should never be allowed to touch the ground.

3. When colors are passing, as in parade, those spectators who are walking are required to stand and people sitting are required to rise.—Michigan Daily.

DIAMONDS AND CINDERS

(Bob Case)

I've seen the great Jack Johnson,
And I've seen old Buffalo Bill,
And once, way up in Seattle
I shook hands with old Hi Gill.
I thought these guys did pretty well
In their small way, until
Out there on Dead Man's field I saw
Doc Medley slam the pill.
Say, boy, he sure did slam it!
You should have heard Bez roar!
You should have seen those fielders run
As like they never ran before.
Believe me, when Medley hits the ball
It sure begins to soar!

Lean on it old Kid. We want to see it soar when we mix with O. A. C.

"Sir," said I to Bill, as we stood watching with embryonic track men cavorting over the cinders with the airy grace of young and embarrassed buffaloes, "I am about to enter upon a campaign of ruthlessness. What do you need in the way of track men?"

"What do I need?" growled Bill, tearing off another chew of—doublemint. "I need high-jumpers and broad-jumpers, polevaulters, discus-throwers and shot-putters, distance men, sprinters, javelin men and hurdlers."

"Ah yes," I murmured as I hastily scribbled upon my cuff, "Anything else?" "Yes," said Bill, "You might throw in a dozen good quarter-milers for relay men."

"Quite so," said I, "It shall be done." "It's got to be done," said Bill grimly, "if we're going to have a track team that will beat O. A. C. this spring. Those farmers will smear it all over us if we're not careful."

You said a shovelful, Bill. We're with you, 1000 strong.
