GEN. WOOD WRITES TO U. URGING DRILL

Stiff Courses to Be Offered in Map-Making, Maneuvering and Rifle Practice.

Appeal Made to Substitute Military Training on Schedule for Gymnasium.

Although unable at the present time to give any definite governmental sanction to the movement in the University to organize a volunteer officers' reserve corps, Major General Leonard Wood, in a letter received yesterday by Dr. Warren D. Smith urged the pushing of the plans for the organization of the corps and offered some practical advice as to the mode of procedure and held out the hope of its becoming a permanent organization.

The course in voluntary military drill which is to be installed shortly will be no mere routine or smattering attempt at surface instruction according to a decision reached by the committee at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The members of the committee are Eric W. Allen, chairman; Ben Williams, H. M. Kingsbury and Karl Onthank. Lieutenant Willis Shippman, federal army officer in charge of the local O. N. G. also attended the meeting.

The proposal will be put to the students on the basis of a three-phase course, giving the stiff instruction which the committee says will be necessary if the work of the voluntary officers' reserve corps is to be of benefit before the end of the semester. The work will be divided into a topographical course in map making under the direction of Dr. Warren D. Smith of the geology department, actual drill and instruction in the manual of arms, the school of squad, the school of the officer and the like, and rifle practice at the rifle range of the Eugene Rifle Club.

The work will probably consist of a minimum of four hours drill a week, this to substitute in the case of undergraduates in place of gymnasium. A part of Saturday would be given over to either field work in map making or rifle practice at the range, alternating these two forms of instruction.

It was decided that the committee had lived its life as a voluntary committee and that from this point on the best work could be done if the committee actually represented the University. Accordingly an appeal was made to President Campbell to recognize the body as an official faculty committee and also incorporate the voluntary drill movement in the work of the University.

The assistance of Lieut. Shippman has been promised and as well as the support of the local O. N. G. officers. Arrangements will probably be made to allow the members of the corps to take out membership in the Eugene Gun Club at student rates and thus have the use of the range for practice. The entire expense of the corps to the individual will be very slight, consisting of the price of several drill books, membership in the club and the like.

GERMAN CLUB TO MEET
