PATRIOTIC STUDENTS CHEER U. WARRIORS

Recruits March Into Villard Assembly in Uniform; Band Plays National Airs.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED SUPPORTING WILSON

Jaureguy, Watkins and Gilbert Give Talks; Hill-Tout Lauds Local Sentiment.

With the University men who have enlisted in the Coast Artillery corps, as honored guests, Oregon spirit has transferred itself from campus enthusiasm to national patriotism. Students and faculty alike have responded famously to the preparedness movement, and the entire scope of their feelings for the protection of our national rights was expressed in the crowded hall at assembly yesterday.

The program which had been prepared for the Greater Oregon movement was changed to that of expression of support to our government during the approach of a crisis, and a willingness of every one to do his part. Presided over by President Nicholas Jaureguy, himself a member of the Coast Artillery, the meeting was made one of consideration of service, service not only in a military way but in all forms that will be of a benefit to ourselves and neighbors. The address was delivered by Hon. R. A. Booth of the Booth-Kelly Lumber Co., Eugene, who has always shown a keen interest in the welfare of the University. Mrs. Booth has backed the University in every way, and was one of the promoters of the student bar fund.

In speaking on "What the University Student Can Do Throughout the State," Mr. Booth expressed great pleasure in seeing the patriotism of the student body. "Justice is greater than peace" was his keynote throughout.

A unanimous vote was given the resolution introduced by Emmett Rathbun to be sent to President Wilson and to the Oregon delegation in Congress. The resolution reads as follows:

Whereas: President Wilson, in his recent message to congress, pointed out that the United States is on the verge of a great war; and

Whereas: the country is now awaiting the decision of congress in dealing with the present crisis; therefore

Be it resolved, That the associated students of the University of Oregon go on record as having confidence in the President's judgment and ability, and express willingness to do whatever possible to aid the furtherance of any plans laid down by congress and the administration in dealing with the present crisis; and

A short talk was given by Mr. Charles Hill-Tout of British Columbia, who has three sons in the war. He said that as a British subject he felt pleased at the attitude the Americans were holding with regard to the protection of humanity, liberty and justice.

John De Witt Gilbert, a member of the Coast Artillery gave a short talk, telling of the pleasure the boys would have in being able to serve their country.

Harold Hamstree, introduced a resolution to be presented at the meeting of the board of curricula in Portland to the effect that a course in Home economics be installed at the University. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Announcement was made by A. C. Shelton that the pre-medie students would meet to form a reserve for the medical reserve of the army and an urgent plea was made for all those interested to be there. Following a few words by President Jaureguy who probably presided over the student body for the last time, the band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and the meeting was adjourned.

EXHIBIT OF PRINTING OPEN FOR INSPECTION

Collection Contains Samples of Work From 75 Shops in United States.

Eugene Only City in West Visited by Display; Here Two Weeks.

Seventy-five of the best printing offices United States are now exhibiting samples of their work in the exhibit room in the architecture building at the University. This exhibit, secured from the American Institute of Graphic Arts, comes direct from Boston.

Last September, while in Philadelphia, Allen Eaton, instructor in art appreciation at the University of Oregon, heard of the collection then being shown at the annual convention of the United Typothetae and Franklin Clubs of America, and traveled over to Atlantic City especially to see it.

It pleased Mr. Eaton so much that he finally persuaded Arthur Allen, chairman of the exhibition committee of the American Institute of Graphic Arts, to let it come to Eugene if the expense of shipment could be handled at this end. Samples of letter heads, announcements, catalogues, booklets, menu cards, and pictures showing what can be accomplished now in color printing, each stand out individually in their excellence.

The battleship "Oregon" reproduced in color from a painting by W. F. Halsall makes an Oregonian swell with pride both on account of the old ship but also the reproduction of "Old Glory" floating over her.

Frederick G. Cooper, advertising cartoonist, formerly of McMinnville, also represents Oregon in the exhibit. Several

ALBANY SIGNS GLEE CLUB

Varsity Warblers Will Give Concert There Saturday Night.

The Men's glee club will leave Saturday afternoon for Albany, where they will give a concert that evening in the local theatre. This concert was originally planned to be given Friday night, but owing to a patriotic demonstration which the people of Albany have planned for that time, the glee club was asked to change its date.

Curtis Beach, second bass, will come from Portland, where he is now living to assist the glee club on this occasion. The program will be the same as the one given in Eugene. Dean Lyman will accompany the men on the trip.

It is probable, according to present plans, that the glee club will stage a concert in Portland sometime in May.

Track men at Washington now wear the varsity "W" on the leg of their track pants so that those from the stands can distinguish them from the side.
