PORTLAND SUMMER COURSES ANNOUNCED

At Least Four Departments Will Give Work for University Credit.

Registrations Limited to City Residents; Requirements Same as in Eugene.

For the convenience of Portland teachers who cannot leave the city this summer on account of the National Educational association meeting there, courses for University credit in at least four departments will be offered by the Portland center of the Extension Division of the University at the Portland Central library during the time that the regular summer school is in session at Eugene.

The courses to be offered are psychology and philosophy by Dr. George Rebec, English by Mrs. Mable Holmes Parsons, education by Dean H. D. Sheldon, and history by Professor John P. O'Hara. Dr. Rebec will act as resident director of the Extension Division for the Portland summer work. A uniform fee of $10.00 paid by each person enrolled as at the regular summer school will cover the registration cost, and this entrance fee will be payable at 451 Courthouse office of the University of Oregon, on any of the following registration days: April 22, May 3, 10, 19, 26, 31, June 9, 15, 16, and 18. Arrangements for instruction will depend to a large extent on the number of registrations and those registering first will receive first consideration if it should become necessary to limit the number of students in any course.

Entrance requirements are the same as for admission to the summer school at Eugene except that registration in the Portland department will be limited to Portland residents whose duties keep them in the city.

Six semester hours credit may be earned in these classes. Special faculty ruling puts teachers taking this summer work on the same basis with those in resident summer school. Credits towards the A. B. degree can be earned in all of the courses but it is not probable that any of the work will carry graduate credit.

Morning hours will be used for class work while the afternoons will be left open to study and recreation. Every day at five minutes to ten there will be a short assembly for all classes in the rotunda on the third floor of the Central library where students will stop for a few minutes to become better acquainted with fellow extension students and to hear announcements.

There will be a general assembly on Friday evenings throughout the entire session to which the general public will be invited. Probable speakers at these meetings are G. Stanley Hall, president of Clark University; Henry Churchill King, president of Oberlin College; J. Duncan Spathe, professor of English in Princeton University; Norman F. Coleman, professor of English in Reed College; George Rebec, resident director of the Portland Summer Extension classes.

The following are the courses to be offered:
Philosophy and Psychology.
English.
Education.
History.
Recent American History.

TO PUT ON U. PLAYS

Eugene Theatre to Present One-Act Series.

All Are Work of Campus Writers; Mask and Buskin Members Will Act.

"Too Many Tears", the farce presented on their spring vacation tour by members of Mask and Buskin, will be given at the Eugene Theatre May 28. In giving this one-act play, Manager Hollenbeck will inaugurate a policy of weekly one-act productions by local talent. The week following "Too Many Tears", a different cast will present "The Blind Man", a one-act war drama featuring Leslie Blades, in the title role. On May 19 a big musical show with a cast of twenty girls will be the feature of the bill. This act "Submarine Sorrows", written by Blades and Hazel Radabaugh, is the same which will be given by a professional company in San Francisco during the month of September.

"Too Many Tears", the first of the series, is a howling farce evolving about an over jealous wife who insists on believing her perfectly innocent husband guilty of all the crimes in the calendar.

Rosalind Bates will play the wife, Harriet Teagle; Dr. Bates has the role of the husband; Rosamund Shaw is the sister Mary; and Marie, the wicked little French maid will be played by Martha Beer. This with one exception is the cast which toured the valley towns during the spring vacation. The playlet was written by Dr. Bates.

The cast of "The Blind Man," and "Submarine Sorrows," will include the following, Vivian Kellem, Victor Sether, Charles Prim, Marion Tuttle, Bess Colman, Lucile Marrow, Helen Engle, Eyla Walker, Rosamund Shaw, Leslie Blades and a chorus of twelve girls.

MAY MODIFY RUSHING

Pan-Hellenic Suggests Less Expenditure in Entertaining.

Uniform Date Books, Moving of Pledge Day and Open House Suggested.

Plans for simplifying rushing were discussed at the Pan-Hellenic meeting Tuesday afternoon. Dean Elizabeth Fox and Mrs. Eric W. Allen suggested that, since the country has entered the war, rushing should be simplified or almost completely abolished. They suggested that pledge day be postponed. After the matter is discussed by the houses, it will be brought up before Pan-Hellenic again.

Uniform Pan-Hellenic date books are being planned instead of each house having its own date book. This will do away with much of the expense of former rushing seasons. The books will be of plain white paper; there will be a page for each date and the paper will be perforated so that the house may keep a duplicate of the date to avoid confusion.

Dean Fox suggested that next semester, open house be held Saturday afternoon or evening, instead of Sunday afternoon. She feels that many of the new students will receive a wrong impression of the University if such a social function is held on their first Sunday at college.

TO FINISH FIELD BY FALL

Work on Athletic Grounds to Go Ahead in Spite of War Jinx on Football.

War or no war, team or no team, the new athletic field will be constructed this summer as planned, according to graduate-manager, A. R. Tiffany. Already the contractor is tilling the field but due to the rains, little progress has been made.

Mr. Tiffany states that, although it is doubtful whether there will be a football team next fall, the University has set aside money to construct the field and will go ahead with the work. The field will then be ready whenever there is need for it.

The construction of the bleachers is uncertain however. It will not be determined until June, Mr. Tiffany declares, whether the bleachers will be built. The decision will depend upon the probabilities of a football team next year. If there is to be a team, the construction will be completed next season, but if the chances are poor, the bleachers will not be constructed.

QUARTET WILL SING IN PORTLAND

Shirley Rowe, William Vawter, Jerry Holzman and Bob Secarce, members of the University of Oregon quartet will sing before the Civic League in Portland, Saturday. Their program will consist of a solo by Vawter and several numbers by the quartet.

STUDENT BODY TO DANCE

Middy Blouses for Girls and Soft Collars for Men Will Be in Order.

Soft collars for the men and middy blouses for the girls will be in order for the Student Body dance next Saturday evening, April 28, at the men's gym. The price for admittance will be 25 cents a couple in order that a small balance may occur to pay off a debt on the gold footballs recently purchased by the student body. Informality will be the key note of the whole affair and there will be a lot of Paul Jones dances.

The girls will be seated alphabetically so that the men may more easily find their partners. Punch will be served throughout the evening.

The following will be patronesses and patrons for the affair: President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Dean Elizabeth Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Bezdek, Mr. and Mrs. William Hayward, and any other members of the faculty who can possibly be there.

MAGAZINES DESIRE AGENTS

Several of the leading magazines of the country have sent letters to Karl Onthank asking for University men who will act as their agents for the coming summer. The wage system will probably be on a commission scale and a fair salary may be earned by the men who are willing to work.
