

DELTA TAUS FAIL TO HIT, BUT WIN

Berg, for Friendly Hall, Strikes Out Six Men in the First.

SIGMA CHI ENTERS FINALS; WIN FROM PHI DELTS 9-5

Alexander's Pitching Is Feature of Second Contest; Sixteen Fan Air.

The second week of the Doughnut league finds the preliminary round completed and one game in the semi-finals decided.

The Delta Tau-Dorm game established a record that has never been equaled in baseball on the local campus.

Practically all of the Dorm's runs were the result of safe singles. Berg contributed his share with two singles and a beautiful three-base smash.

Delta Tau—Holdredge, ss; Gilfillen, c; Atkinson, lf; Medley, 2b; Furney, p; Brown, 3b; Ralston, 1b; Madden, rf; Montague, cf; Gerrretson, lf; Bond, 2b; Newton, cf.

But for some costly errors by the Phi Delt infield, Sigma Chi would have had tougher sledding last evening. Sandy Leonard opened the game with a clean single to right.

Alexander's banner display of pitching was the one, big outstanding feature of the afternoon. Sixteen men fanned out and two hits followed—some score for a seven inning game!

The second game in the semi-finals-Fiji-Oregon Club set for Monday and Sigma Nu and the Delta Tau are scheduled to meet Tuesday.

The line-up—Phi Delt: Proctor, lf; Holcomb, 2b, c; Huntington, p; Steers, ss; S. Huntington, c, 2b; Waldron, 3b; Banks, cf; Maurice, 1b; Pixley, rf; Margason, rf; Woodworth, cf; Thompson, lf.

ANNUAL CANOE FETE TO BE PICTURESQUE

Prizes Are Offered for Best-Worked-Out Idea in Decorating.

Mill Race Scene of Spectacular Contest; Thursday, Band to Play.

Plans are nearing completion for the Canoe Carnival to be held on the race way at 8:30 o'clock Thursday night.

The cup now held by Kappa Alpha Theta, will be awarded to the house or organization whose canoe combines the cleverest symbolic idea in decoration and the greatest originality in developing that idea.

The plan of the committee is to have the band lead the procession on one of the rock barges used in carrying rock to the upper race. Should the high water in the river recede this idea will have to be given up as the city will need the barges.

Every organization entering a canoe is urged to have its entry on hand promptly at 8:15 in order to insure the moving of the parade at 8:30 sharp.

TENNIS GIRLS AT SALEM

'Varsity Team Goes to Meet Racquet Welders of Willamette.

RESENT PROTEST STORY DUCK EDITOR IN FOUNTAIN MANY WITNESS CEREMONY

(Note:—the following is a duplicate of the story written by Harold Hamstreet and appearing in the Oregonian this morning—Editor.)

Flatly denying that there was any serious intention of rebelling against military authority, and fearful lest a wrong impression go out through the state regarding their verbal protest of yesterday against the over-time drilling, the student body of men and women gathered in a demonstration this afternoon and gave vent to their resentment by publicly immersing Harold Hamstreet, the Oregonian correspondent and editor of the Emerald, the college paper, in the senior fountain on the campus.

The trouble arose last night when the six cadet companies made a loud verbal protest while "standing at ease" against the continual overtime of drilling by the officers.

The drill hour was definitely set by the faculty the first of the week as one hour and no more. But from the beginning the officers ran over the hour from ten to forty minutes.

The punch committee under Joe Hedges promises to observe strictly Theodore Roosevelt's idea of grain conservation, and at the same time to produce something pretty good in the way of a quencher.

Junior Week-End Schedule Plans Entertainment of Guests and Alumni.

PATRIOTIC NOTE IN PROM FROM PROGRAMS TO MUSIC

Tickets for Dance to Be Sold in Advance; Gov. and Mrs. Withycombe Patrons.

(By Miriam Page)

Hospitality, patriotism, and gaiety are the principal notes in the coming Junior Week-end harmony which the University will render with Oregon Spirit.

The final entertainment, the farewell festivity of the schedule, is the Junior Prom on Saturday evening. It is the one event where everyone meets everyone else, where old grads are re-united after years of absence and discuss the changes in the institution since the "good old days."

The committees in charge of the various phases of the dance are reticent in regard to their plans and activity, but Kenneth Bartlett, general chairman, says it's going to be "some dance."

War time economy will be observed in regard to wearing flowers, which are prohibited by a decree of the committee.

The finance committee anticipates an unusual attendance at the Prom, and in order to avoid confusion at the door they are getting out tickets which will be sold in advance at $1. This plan will enable fraternities and other organizations to buy tickets for their guests and alumni.

Leura Jerard, chairman of the patron committee, announces the following names: Governor and Mrs. James Withycombe, Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Dean Elizabeth Fox, President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Professor and Mrs. A. F. Reddie, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Bovard, Professor and Mrs. Eric Allen, Professor and Mrs. O. F. Stafford, Professor and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher and Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons.
