

OPEN HOUSE SUCCESS, NEW DATE PREFERABLE

SATURDAY NIGHT MUCH BETTER THAN SUNDAY FOR HOLDING ANNUAL EVENT, SAYS
DEAN FOX.

Cheap Excitement and Love Films Harmful on Sunday According to Women's Adviser.

Open house at the sororities Saturday evening instead of Sunday afternoon as was the old custom, is likely to be continued indefinitely following the first trial of the new plan last Saturday night.

"No serious objection has come to me in regard to the change in open-house dates," said Elizabeth Fox, dean of women, in making the announcement, Monday, "so I feel reasonably sure that the custom will be permanently changed.

Not Using "Big Stick."

"In encouraging the change, I do not wish to give the impression to the students that I am using the 'big stick,'" continued Miss Fox, "but I really believe that Sunday open house gave the opening Sunday of college rather a festive and gala aspect that was not best as a first impression of university life to entering freshmen."

Criticism from several women of Portland brought the first suggestion of a change from Miss Fox last February at the opening of the second semester. The change was mentioned at that time before the Pan-Hellenic authorities, but the experiment was postponed until this fall. A letter asking the sororities to make their open-house dates for Saturday sent out by Miss Fox last week, resulted in the trial of the new plan.

Change is Justified.

"While none of the students who have discussed the change with me have come with enthusiasm for the plan, there has been no serious objection, which, with the many arguments against a Sunday open house, leads me to believe that the change is justified," said Miss Fox.

"Patriotic reasons, if nothing else, should lead students to observe the Sabbath by attendance at church and by indulging only in wholesome amusements. It would be a detriment to the nation if we should fall into the habit of observing the Sabbath as do the French and English. And in breaking away from any such tendency which the student body of Oregon may have in that direction, open house on Saturday instead of Sunday will be a great help.

Sunday "Movies" Harmful.

"I like church and summer open air band concerts, but I do not think it helpful in the observance of the Sabbath to gather in stuffy motion picture shows to witness the ordinary cheap excitement and love films. I am glad that there is a law prohibiting the motion picture shows of Eugene from operating on Sunday.

"I had hoped that Saturday night open house would permit a larger number of students to be free to go to church, but I do not know that there was any unusual increase in the student attendance at the Sunday schools last Sunday over the opening Sunday of the college year last year. I did notice, however, that more of the students were out in the afternoon for quiet walks."

COSTLY BOOKS FOR ARTISTS

Two new sets of French works have been added to the art department library this fall at a cost of $207 for the seven volumes. "Polychromatic Ornament" is one of the sets. It is contained in two volumes and was purchased at a cost of $67. The other set consists of seven volumes and cost $140 in Paris. The new books were bought in Paris by the University at the request of Professor Schreff. Both sets are written in French.

PORTLAND MAN TO SPEAK IN VILLARD

Food Conservation. Subject of Talk by O. M. Plummer Thursday.

O. M. Plummer, state field director for the Hoover food conservation campaign, will speak in Villard Hall, Thursday, October 11, at 4 P. M. Mr. Plummer will show how individual food conservation can help win this war.

Mr. Plummer is prominent in educational circles, being chairman of the board of school directors of Multnomah county and president of the school administration department of the National Educational association. Students from Portland will welcome Mr. Plummer, as he is very popular among the high schools there.

Mr. A. C. Dixon, vice-president of the board of regents of the University, and chairman of the Lane county committee of food conservation, is entertaining Mr. Plummer during his stay in Eugene.

BIG UNDERCLASS MIX IS SET FOR SATURDAY

(Concluded from page 1.)

Marjorie Kay was elected without opposition to fill the place left vacant by Dorris Slocum, vice-president, who is not returning to school this year. She is in Buhl, Idaho.

Dean Straub appeared before the sophomore class for the last time as adviser, and, after a talk in which he urged economy in every way possible in all class events during the coming year, bade good-bye to his freshman class of last year.

Freshmen Send Greetings.

"From the new freshmen," said Dean Straub in addressing the sophomores, "I bring greetings and best wishes. The new class is willing to live up in every way to the traditions of Oregon and to co-operate with the other classes in building a greater Oregon."

At the suggestion of Dean Straub, a committee of Everett Pixley, Mildred Garland, Ernest Boylen and Reba Macklin was appointed to investigate and recommend to the class some member of the faculty to be adviser for the class during the remaining three years that the members will be in school.

Sophomore officers are Ned Fowler, president, Marjorie Kay, vice-president, Jessie Garner, secretary, and Jack Dundore, treasurer.

BEZDEK WANTS MEN; OFFERS CHANCE TO ALL

status quo. The other missing back, Ray Couch, is several days overdue.

With these men gone, Coach Bezdek is scouring the campus for recruits.

"I want every man who weighs over 140 to come out for football whether he knows anything about the game or not," said the coach. "I'll teach him the game, but I've got to have somebody to teach."

Williams May Quit.

Bas Williams failed to show up last night, and rumor has it that the only remaining letter man has decided to give up football because he is enrolled in the six-weeks ordnance course. If Williams sticks to this reported decision it will leave the line without a single old man. Creston Maddock filled the vacated niche yesterday.

The familiar bucking machine made its appearance last night, and with Bez seated in the middle of the contrivance, the linemen had a pleasant though perspiring trip across the field.

SONG OF APPLES IN WARTIME MAY BRING STUDENTS TEN BOXES FRUIT

Spokane Show Offers Premium to Author of Most Attractive Slogan for Fair.

"Apples for ideas," is the offer of the National Apple Show at Spokane, in a recently announced contest. They want a slogan that sings of apples in war time, and five essays that extol apples in any form. Ten boxes of their finest varieties will be delivered at your door if you write the slogan that sings most alluringly, and five boxes each for the five best essays will be awarded. There is no limitation of age, color, race, residence, or religious belief. All that is wanted is brains—or essays, to win their prize apples, which are the best in Oregon.

Essays must not exceed 250 words and must be in at the National Apple Show by November 5. They may be written on any or all of the following subjects:

- "Wheatless and Meatless Days Made Easy."
- "Apples as Mr. Hoover's Ally."
- "Apples the Wasteless Food."
- "Apples as Part of a Well Balanced Ration."
- "Apple Consumption a Patriotic Duty."
