

OREGON'S "GREEN SQUAD" TAKES INITIAL GAME OF THE SEASON

VARSITY SHOWS UP TO GOOD ADVANTAGE IN SENSATIONAL GAME REPLETE WITH STAR PLAYS AND MENTAL LAPSES; STEERS AND WILLIAMS SHINE, ALTHOUGH WHOLE TEAM DESERVES PRAISE.

STEERS AND LESLIE MAKE TOUCHDOWNS; FINAL SCORE 14-7

Fumbles Directly Responsible for Every Score Made; Steers Tries Drop-Kick, Which Misses Narrowly; Oregon Gains On Punts. Bezdek Noncommittal.

Oregon "outlucked" and outplayed Multnomah this afternoon on Kincaid field in a game replete with sensational plays mixed in with mental lapses. The score was 14-7.

Bezdek's green team fought the heavier clubmen to a standstill and deserved to win. Oregon's line showed up particularly well and stopped the Portland backs time and again with no gain. Bill Steers was the big show, both in punting and running with the ball. His kicks averaged close to 50 yards. Bas Williams shared the honors with the husky quarterback, although the whole team deserves mention for the wonderful battle they put up after only two weeks of practice.

Scores All Flukes.
Multnomah was the first to score, when J. Murphy picked up a fumble and raced 50 yards over the line. Briggs kicked goal. This was all the scoring in the first half.

Both of Oregon's touchdowns resulted from slow thinking on the part of the Multnomah quarterbacks. In the third period Bill Steers punted to the club's three-yard line. Murphy touched the ball but failed to fall on it, and Dow Wilson recovered for the varsity. Bill Steers plunged over the line on the second down and kicked goal.

Two minutes before the end of the game the identical play occurred again. This time it was Humphrey who touched the ball but failed to hold it and Leslie fell on it for the winning touchdown. Steers kicked a beautiful goal for the extra point.

Both teams showed the lack of practice and stuck to straight football, with a few forward passes sandwiched in. Oregon was outweighed about eight pounds to the man.

In the fourth quarter Steers tried for a drop-kick, but missed by a scant foot or two.

Bezdek Calls It Luck.
Coach Bezdek wore a broad grin after the game, but refused to commit himself.

"We were awfully lucky to get away with the game," said the coach. "The boys put up a wonderful fight and I'll have a scrappy team at least."

Beckett Praises Team.
Ex-Captain Johnny Beckett was not so backward.

"Oregon will give my marine team a good battle," said Johnny. "The varsity excels in kicking and defensive work, and I wouldn't be afraid to back them against Washington, even if they have got some of their old men back."

George Budtz, manager of the Multnomah eleven, did not have much to say. "Both teams were green, and it was largely a matter of luck who won. We got the breaks in the first half and Oregon in the second."

Sam Dolan, veteran referee of many Oregon games, praised the varsity for their fight. "Bezdek has a bunch of scrappers for fair. They played hard all the way through."

Bill Hayward was as tickled as the lowliest frosh. "It was just a case of Oregon fight and Oregon Spirit. Long may she wave!"

Multnomah First Out.

Multnomah was the first to appear on the field, the red-and-white team coming through the gates at 2:30 o'clock, while the mix was still in progress. They were greeted by a burst of hand-clapping. Ten minutes later Oregon came on to a minute of cheers. The Oregon rooters were massed in the bleachers on the south side of the field. Multnomah won the toss and Leader elected to kick off, with his team defending the east goal.

First Quarter.

Briggs kicked off to Medley, who returned ten yards. Ball on 30-yard line. Steers made five yards around left end. Steers kicked 35 yards to Murphy, who was downed in his tracks. Lutge two yards through tackle. Oregon held. Hunter stopped Lutge after five yards through center. Briggs punted 30 yards out of bounds. Steers punted 50 yards out of bounds. Ball on Multnomah 20-yard line.

Multnomah fumbled. Medley recovered for Oregon. Medley fumbled and Driskill recovered for Multnomah. Leader one yard through guard. Lutge made 13 yards around right end. Time out for Lutge. Murphy gained seven yards through left tackle. Horton failed to gain on left tackle plunge. On center rush Briggs made seven yards. Steers intercepted forward pass. Oregon's ball on their own 40-yard line. Steers punted 60 yards over goal line.

Small Gains Made.

Ball brought out to Multnomah's 20-yard line. Lutge on fake punt gained four yards around right end. Briggs two yards through left guard. Time out. Briggs no gain. Hunter tackled Horton, no gain. Lutge punted 25 yards out of bounds. Ball on Oregon 40-yard line. Steers made one yard through left guard. Hunter two yards through center. Steers failed to gain and punted 35 yards out of bounds.

Multnomah's ball on their 20-yard line. Briggs stopped with no gain. Horton made five through left tackle. Quarter ended with ball on Multnomah's 35-yard line.

Score: Oregon 0; Multnomah 0.

Second Quarter.

Lutge made three yards. Lutge punted 35 yards to Steers, who was downed without return. Steers three yards through guard. Dwight Wilson two yards and fumbled. Macy recovering for Oregon. Time out for Multnomah. Steers on fake punt made 13 yards around left end.

First down. Steers no gain on double pass around right end. Wilson two yards. Steers made two yards through left tackle. Steers punted 50 yards over the goal line. Ball brought out to Multnomah's 20-yard line. Horton fumbled after run of ten yards and Oregon recovered. On Oregon's fumble, E. Murphy picked up the ball and ran 45 yard for touchdown. Briggs kicked goal.

Score: Multnomah 7; Oregon 0.

Steers kicked off to Horton, who ran ball back 25 yards to 28-yard line. Time out for Horton. Horton made half a yard through left tackle. Multnomah gained two yards through center. Third down and eight to go. Murphy three yards through left guard. Lutge punted 30 yards to Steers, who returned five.

Oregon Loses Ball.

Steers punted 50 yards to Multnomah's five-yard line. Murphy fumbled and was downed before he could recover. Lutge punted 30 yards to Steers, who returned ten yards. Ball went to Multnomah on account of holding. On fake formation Leader carried ball five yards around right end. Double pass, no gain. Time out for Nelson. Multnomah's ball on their own 35-yard line. Murphy made no gain through left tackle. Half ended.

Score: Multnomah 7; Oregon 0.

Rooters Serpentine.

Between halves, the rooters serpentine around the field, finally winding up in the center, where they let loose with yells from a block "O" formation. The band accompanied the rooters with a stirring march.

Second Half.

Third quarter.—The second half opened with Ramsey in place of Hosford at right guard for Multnomah. Oregon came back without any changes in the lineup. Steers kicked off for Oregon to Horton, who returned 20 yards. Briggs one yard through guard. Anderson and Hunter stopped

When Oregon met Multnomah on Kincaid field this afternoon it was the twenty-sixth time the two rivals had clashed. Oregon has triumphed over the clubmen on seven occasions, while the red-and-white have emerged victorious in sixteen contests. Two games were scoreless ties.

For ten long years the University failed to grab the long end of the score. In 1906 Fred Moulten, familiarly known as "Khaki" booted two place kicks over the crossbar, while the best Multnomah could do was one place kick. This victory was followed up by three more in a row.

Moulten was one of the greatest place kickers who ever wore the lemon-yellow. In 1905 Oregon went through the whole season without making a touchdown, and yet won most of her games, all on account of Moulten's "iron toe."

Beginning with 1910 and following for five years, the Multnomah club was represented by a team of huskies that could have given any team in the country a stiff battle. For example, the eleven of 1912 averaged 200 pounds.

Bezdek's new system was too much for the Portland players in 1915 and the varsity has landed three successive victories.

UNHAPPY CHOICE OF O. A. C. COLORS MAY MAKE FROSH LOSE FIVE POINTS

Ned Fowler, Sophomore President, May Contest Decision of Judges on Decorations.

Because the freshman colors for the mix this afternoon were the orange and black colors of O. A. C., the legality of the points given to the class of 1921 may be protested, according to Ned Fowler, sophomore president. It has always been the custom to give the incoming freshman class the colors of the senior class of the year before, but this year, the tradition was slipped up on and the result was the appearing of the orange and black upon the grandstand. Dean Straub, when questioned, admitted that he knew nothing of the way in which the colors were selected, but stated that the class would have to vote for the changing.

The last year senior class had chosen for their colors, however, green and white, which puts the freshmen in a rather sad light.

Fowler will probably investigate the reasons for the decorations in orange and black, and if the grounds are great enough, will protest the five points awarded to the freshmen.

SHEEHY IS PLACED AT HEAD OF CAMPUS MOVE TO SAVE FOOD SUPPLY

ORGANIZED CAMPAIGN COVERING ENTIRE UNIVERSITY TO BE MADE IN CO-OPERATION WITH HOOVER.

REDUCE THE WASTE ONE-TENTH IS PLEA OF LEADER OF LOCAL DRIVE

Demonstration in Support of Plan is Promised at Assembly Wednesday Morning.

James S. Sheehy, president of the Associated Students, was appointed this morning to represent Herbert C. Hoover and the National Food Administration, in taking charge of the campaign on the campus to save wheat, meat, fats and sugar for the use of the men in the army and for the people of the allied nations.

O. M. Plummer, of Portland, had scarcely left Villard hall, where he had made the first presentation of the nation's need in regard to food conservation, Wednesday, before steps were under way to hang up for the University another record of quick response to the nation's call.

Dixon Appoints Sheehy.

The matter of a separate student organization for the University was placed before A. C. Dixon, chairman of the county committee, yesterday. It was pointed out to him that the University community included more than a thousand healthy young men and women who might be assumed to be about the heartiest eaters, on the average, in Eugene, and that they formed a considerable portion of the total population. A thoroughgoing, enthusiastic campaign was promised, and on the assurance that the "Oregon Spirit" would take hold and make the movement the "hundred-percent-efficient" success which Mr. Dixon has promised the state committee in Portland would be the standard of all work in Lane county, he gave his consent and turned the entire responsibility over to the student organization, appointing Sheehy as chairman.

Efficiency Is Keynote.

Melvin Solve will be the publicity manager. Sheehy expects to name the other members of his organization tonight. He says he will organize the principle which has been followed all through the nation from Mr. Hoover down—that is, not to look around for someone who has plenty of time for the work, but to pick out the busiest, ablest, most efficient workers who can be found, and then insist that they drop everything else that interferes with their responding to the nation's appeal for this patriotic service.

Sheehy points out that if the thousand persons in the University community should save only one-tenth of the food that is served to them—and the waste alone is probably at least one-tenth—it would be more than sufficient to furnish permanently the entire rations for the whole ambulance corps of ninety men which the University has at the front. If the same thousand persons made even so small a sacrifice as to take one lump of sugar in place of two in their coffee, it would mean enough sugar saved at each meal for a thousand soldiers, or for as many French or Belgian civilians, already on very short rations in sweets.

Broad Campaign Planned.

Sheehy's plans include, besides full discussion and a campaign of education in the Emerald, which Harry Crain, the editor, has promised to foster, the appearance of speakers before the members of all the houses, the introduction of the subject at all meetings of all kinds that may be held in the next two weeks, and a special demonstration of loyalty on the part of the University and readiness to co-operate with the government in the work which he has scheduled for the assembly next Wednesday.

"Wednesday is pledge day," he said. "We will just pledge to the nation this time as well as to the state."

Miss Winifred Forbes, Miss Hilda Knight and Miss Ida Turney were Sunday evening luncheon guests of Pi Eta Phi.

SOPHOMORES HUMBLE FROSH IN MIX WITH A SCORE OF 70 TO 30

ATHLETIC MANAGERS NAMED

FIRST MEETING OF YEAR HELD BY WOMAN'S COMMITTEE.

Games With O. A. C. Girls Postponed Until Oregon Teams Attain Full Strength.

Election of the athletic managers for this year was the occasion of the first meeting of the new Woman's Athletic Committee, Thursday night. All of the women's sports now have a manager, who will provide instruction for beginners, and make arrangements for tournaments, interclass games, outside games, and field day exercises.

Tennis will be managed by Caroline Alexander. Ruby Bogue has the care of golf, Maudie Lombard of basketball, Claire Warner of baseball, Esther Furuset of canoeing, Jeannette Moss of swimming, Marian Bowen of archery, and Marguerite Crim of the "brutal" pastime of hockey.

Arrangements for games with O. A. C. will be postponed until the teams attain their full strength.

The members of the committee in charge of women's athletics, as elected last year, are as follows: Margaret Crosby, president; Claire Warner, vice-president; Eva Hansen, secretary; Harriet Garrett, treasurer.

FOOD SAVING PLAN IS OUTLINED BY SPEAKER

O. M. PLUMMER URGES THAT ALL CO-OPERATE TO ECONOMIZE AND THUS DEMONSTRATE LOYALTY

ASSISTANTS IN COUNTY ARE SELECTED

Joining Citizens in Movement Is Step Toward Democracy, Says Field Agent.

Enlist in the conservation army, for the economy drive is on in Eugene. Sounding the call to arms in Villard hall Thursday afternoon, O. M. Plummer, a member of the Portland school board and field agent for the food saving movement in this state, urged town and University people to fight for food saving.

"We can't all go to war," said Mr. Plummer, who was introduced by President Campbell, "but we can save the lives of the boys by sending them food. Sugar, wheat, butter and meat are the forces that will aid us. One lump less of sugar each day brings us that much nearer victory."

"I wonder do you people realize," "that a slice of bread less at each daily meal amounts to 12,500,000 loaves a meal? And the totals are just as astounding when less meat, butter and sugar are eaten."

Mr. Plummer is of the opinion that the voluntary work of the American people in conservation is one great step toward democracy. "We don't need to be forced into this," he declared, "we are doing it of our own free wills. We are volunteers in the food army."

"Ministers will preach conservation and schools will teach it," declared the speaker. "We want to keep the idea continually before the minds of the people. Oregon never was a slacker, and we can be trusted to make a success of this great enterprise."

Next Wednesday, at University assembly, Oregon students will have the campaign outlined to them. It is the hope of Mr. Plummer that every sorority, fraternity, dormitory and boarding house will join the administration in a body.

As outlined by Mr. Plummer, the plan for Lane county is to list everyone for service during the week of October 21 to 28. Each household is

HONORS FOR DECORATIONS AND CANE RUSH ALONE GO TO CLASS OF 1921.

DEAN STRAUB LOOKS OUT FOR YOUNGSTERS' INTERESTS

Senior Police Maintain the Usual Unquestionable Record of Absolute Fairness.

EVENTS IN CLASS MIX SOPHOMORES

Class Stunts	10 points
Sandbag contest	20 points
Tie-up contest	15 points
Flag rush	20 points
Yells	5 points
Total	70 points

FRESHMEN
Decorations	5 points
Cane rush	25 points
Total	30 points

The underclass mix on Kincaid field this afternoon was won by the sophomores, who scored 70 points to the "lowly freshmen's" 30.

The freshmen won five points on their grandstand decorations and 25 on the cane rush, which they had by a margin of one hand. All other events of the mix went to the sophomores. The underclass mix was a preliminary to the Oregon-Multnomah football game, which began immediately following the mix.

Dean Straub woked hard throughout the program to get an influence for his freshmen with the senior police, but the police had already held that it was a "fair mix."

When two freshmen were found fighting over one bag, each trying to keep the other from moving it toward the sophomore goal, the dean held that if the acquaintance party had been last night instead of tonight, his freshmen would have won the sandbag event. The two frosh who fought over the bag identified themselves and the sack was carried across the line just before the pistol shot was fired.

The mix was declared on by Charles Crandall, senior chief of police, at 1:20 o'clock. Five points were lost by the freshmen at the outset when they lost the class yells contest. Their loss came regardless of their appeal to the policeman seniors by a rousing yell for the seniors. The new freshman yell was then sprung for the first time:

"Knock 'em dead, then we're done, Nineteen hundred twenty-one."

The sophomores led off in their yell with an Oskle and followed with other Oregon Varsity yells. They concluded with the sophomore class yell:

"Pep a-plenty, U. of O. 1920."

A funeral procession with a casket bearing the letters 1-9-2-0 was staged as the freshman stunt, which followed the class yells. Seventy frosh marched with green caps removed and held to their hearts. They chanted slowly 1-9-2-1 as a funeral march. The stunt ended in front of the grandstand with: "Knock 'em dead, then we're done, nineteen hundred twenty-one."

The sophomore boy stunt consisted of a book hauled before the grandstand in a hay rack and turned to suit the convenience of readers.

First page—"Thirteen days and four hours ago, there came an 'aig.'"

Second page—"He was fed on (picture of huge milk bottle)."

Third page—"It was named a frosh."

Fourth page—"The mix came and here it lies." Scene, grave-yard. "Finis."

The judges gave the decision, carrying five points, to the sophomore boys.

The freshman girls came onto the field in Red Cross uniforms and formed a huge cross. The sophomore girls came onto the field in square formation, enclosed with a drapery of white and covered with an American
