"And when they had tied him up with the thongs, Paul said unto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned? And when the centurion heard it, he went to the chief captain and told him, saying, What art thou about to do? for this man is a Roman. And the chief captain came and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? And he said, Yea. And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this citizenship. And Paul said, But I am a ROMAN born."

This was nearly two thousand years ago. Paul boasted of his citizenship. He was "a Roman born". We are born citizens of the United States, the greatest nation that the world has ever seen. Are we also proud of our citizenship? Do we value it for what it is worth?

Our country is calling on us to subscribe for Liberty Bonds. Are we doing our part?

The banks of Eugene have arranged so that any student can purchase a $50.00 Liberty Bond by paying $5.00 down and $5.00 a month for nine months thereafter. These bonds are the best security in the world. Every student should own a bond or at least have an interest in a bond. If you belong to a fraternity or sorority and do not feel able to meet the cost of a bond yourself, see that your society purchases a bond and that you have an interest in that bond.

In future years it will be a pleasant memory to you that you have helped in this national crisis.

GRADUATE HONOR STUDENT ENTERS COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY FROM OREGON

Frederick Melzer, '17, Takes Up Three-Year Course in Engineering; Praises Big Institution.

Frederick E. Melzer, of Baker, Oregon, who was graduated with honors in general scholarship and special honors in mathematics with the University of Oregon class of 1917, has begun work in Columbia University, New York, in a straight three years' mining engineering course. This information is contained in a letter received from Mr. Melzer by Professor E. E. DeCou, head of the department of mathematics.

Mr. Melzer's record in the University of Oregon won for him a graduate scholarship at Columbia, worth $250.00. He has made a satisfactory start, he reports, his work in geology in the University of Oregon having been accepted practically at its face value. Most of the students in the mining engineering course, Mr. Melzer writes, come with the full four years' university training and a degree.

Columbia has 9,000 students this year and its great size and wonderful system and administration have impressed Mr. Melzer. Such a thing as college spirit, however, as it is known at the University of Oregon, is almost entirely unknown at Columbia, according to Mr. Melzer.

A Halloween frolic has been planned by the University Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. in lieu of their annual acquaintance party. Ghosts, fortune tellers, apples, cider and all of the regular Halloween accessories are to be features of the affair.
