the girls entertain the suggestion that Miss Martin be allowed to report the gathering to Washington as anything other than what it was, a social courtesy extended to fraternity sisters.

Remarks Reasonable.

"Some of Miss Martin's remarks were the most treasonable and unpatriotic that I ever heard," said one of the women who was present last night.

Miss Martin and Miss Calderhead left last night for California where they will visit the University of California and Stanford University.

COMMITTEE GATHERS BOOKS FOR ARMY

other day; he told me the classes were forming and the men were so eager for the opportunity of study that it was one of the most exciting experiences he had ever had. Personally I know the good that the textbooks are doing at Vancouver. There are so many men who do not speak English readily and there are a good many men even in this civilized land who cannot read or write. We sent over to them the other day 40 books on penmanship, for instance, books on commercial arithmetic too are asked for. The classes at Vancouver have just begun this week and I am hoping to go over tomorrow and see how things are going on. It seems to me this is a wonderful valuable feature of military training."

PROMINENT MEN WILL SPEAK AT ASSEMBLIES

European history in the University of Washington, will speak.

Frederick D. Kershner, author, lecturer, and educator, is the speaker for December 5. The University hopes to obtain Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, for one of the assemblies this term, but no date has been arranged as yet.

One assembly probably will be given over to a "sing," faculty and students joining in the old familiar songs for one of the assembly hours.

Here's One Who Enjoys Cold Waters of Race.

Daily Plunge Keeps W. R. Rutherford, Supt. of Schools in Pink of Condition.

The historic mill race may possess great terrors and horrors for the class of 1921, but for one man it is to the contrary, a pleasure. Every morning when most of us are slumbering peacefully, a stalwart figure, clad in a bathing suit and bathrobe may be seen hurrying madly toward the swift running stream for his daily bath.

Neither does he linger nor stand about and shiver, but takes one fond glance at the clear waters and dives in without hesitation. Then after playfully swimming around for several moments he makes a wild dash for other quarters.

Most of us upon first thought, are apt to consider him in the class of Harry K. Thaw or Charlie Chaplin, but such is not the case. It is none other than the superintendent of the Eugene schools, W. R. Rutherford, who claims that this is his means of keeping in condition for his daily duties.

MARE ISLAND MARINES ARE EIGHTH WONDER OF WORLD

Johnny Peckett's Lineup Wou'd Send Walter Camp Into Ecstasies; Five Old Oregon Stars to Play Against Lemon-Yellow

If some one had gone over all of the football teams in the west last year and picked out the cream of the talent, he might have had a team that would measure up to the Mare Island Marines whom Oregon meets on Multnomah field Saturday afternoon. Never in the history of the gridiron game has so notable a collection of all-stars been assembled in one eleven.

Thus far their record shows victories in all of their games with the southern squads, most notable being two wins from the University of California, 27-0 and 27-0. California played rings around O. A. C. Saturday so the Blue-and-Gold team is up to the standard of the northwest teams.

Nearly half of the marine lineup—five players—are former Oregon gridiron the champion Cornhuskers.

Mitchell Plays End

"Brick" Mitchell, left end needs no introduction to Oregon students. For down the same position on the lemon-yellow and did it so well that he was the unanimous choice of sporting writers for a berth on the mythical all-star eleven. Hobson, the other end comes from the University of Nebraska where he left an enviable record with the champion Cornhuskers.

Two words are all that are needed to describe the left tackle. They are Johnny Beckett. Ed Bailly, an Oregon four-year letter man some years back looks after the right tackle duties. Bailey is the heaviest man on the team, weighing 220 pounds.

Elmer Hall, for three years a fighter under Bezdek is stationed at right guard and Ridderhof, a husky from Occidental college takes care of the other guard.

Brown of W. S. C. at Quarter

Cushman of the University of Washington or Tyberg of Minnesota will play center. Cushman has the call for the job. Brown, Dietz's sensational quarterback of last season calls the signals and runs the team. In both of the California games, Brown shared the honors with Beckett. He is a shifty runner and a tricky field general.

Molthen of Montana, and Gardner of Utah, are the halfbacks and from all reports are good line-plungers besides speedy runners. Hollis Huntington, full-back on last year's championship Oregon eleven completes the lineup.

The line averages 186.2 and the backfield 167.2 while the whole team averages 179.5, which is about 15 pounds heavier than Oregon.

The marines have a game scheduled with the officers' which held W. S. C. to a tie, on November 10 and they may be in Eugene to work out some time next week.

COLLEGE MEN ARE IN DEMAND FOR SERVICE

BRANCHES OF INTERCOLLEGIATE INTELLIGENCE BUREAU ARE VERY ACTIVE THIS SEMESTER

Aviation Corps, With Unusually High Requirements, Proves An Attraction to College Men

Members of the Oregon alumni as well as those students in the University fitted for military service of a special or technical nature are kept in touch with the field of both civil service government positions and active military commissions through the office of Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell.

Last year the University was appointed a member of the Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau, with headquarters in the Munsey Building, Washington, D. C. This bureau aims to supply to the War Department the names and applications of qualified men throughout the alumni bodies of American colleges and universities who would be fitted for military and semi-military positions.

Many Places Filled.

Many of the high places in the government service, created since the entrance of the United States into the war, have been filled by men recommended by this bureau. The organization depends upon adjutants in each college or university who through communications with the head office and the war department are kept informed of the new places created in the service.

By means of a census and card index system the names of the men in the alumni and student body capable of filling certain positions are easily accessible and the name of the applicant together with his qualifications, are rushed to the proper department.

Aviation Corps Qualifications

In the most recent communication received by Mr. Onthank, a circular from the War Department is enclosed which describes the qualifications for entrance to the aviation corps, which is proving especially attractive to college men. The circular says in part:

"Candidates for commission as flying officers in the Aviation Section must be at least 19 years old and preferably not over 30, although in exceptional cases older men of pronounced athletic attainments who have spent most of their lives out of doors, in the saddle, ranching, playing polo, mountain climbing or in actual flying, may be accepted if they can satisfy the examining board as to physical fitness.

Moral Standard is High

"Candidates should be men of the highest character, well educated and of good physique. They may be light in weight and youthful in appearance, but applicants will not be recommended who are not in every way qualified and fitted to become officers of the United States army.

"It must be remembered that the flying officer is not an aerial chauffeur or exhibition flyer. He has been more correctly defined as a twentieth century cavalry officer mounted on Pegasus. It is obvious that candidates must be mentally alert, physically perfect and well disciplined in mind and body."

MARINES PROMISED STRUGGLE FOR MONEY

encircled Kincaid field the last three days. The second team were given the ball on their own 20-yard line and opening up big holes in the Varsity line they plowed right down the field for a touchdown. Against the frosh the Varsity held a little better, but the first-year men gave them all they could handle. The trouble seemed to be mainly from a lack of punch. The fight which characterized the team in the early games was gone and unless it is back before Saturday no one dares to say what the marines will do.

Marines May Go East

Johnny Beckett told Bezdek when he was here that his team had a chance to go east and the score they made against Oregon would be a determining factor, so it is a cinch with a trip East hanging before their eyes, the marines will fight like madmen to pile up the points.

From the advertising given the game in Portland, a capacity crowd is expected to witness the struggle. Governor Withycombe, Mayor Baker of Portland, Colonel Dentler, U. S. A., and other notables will occupy box seats in the grandstand and a couple of bands will be on hand to furnish some "jazz" music.

If enough Oregon students go down, a block of seats will be reserved for them in the bleachers for a rooting section.

EN A CLASE DE PROF. HARTMAN

As he tells his students all to "shriek." And thus does he begin to ramble,

"I dance, I smoke, I drink, I gamble."

"Now may I sell a hat to you? Do you wish it brown, red, green or blue? Do you wish a large hat or a toque?"

"I dance, I smoke, I drink, I gamble."

"Don't be afraid, we're all friends here. What are the seasons of the year? What is the gender? Try to think."

"I dance, I gamble, I smoke, I drink."

"Do you know the verbs Senorita 'b'? Is she not here? No esta aqui? O lastima! She's lost her chance!"

"I drink, I smoke, I gamble, I dance." —E. M. C. PORTLAND.

Millions of women and children in Europe—our allies—can be saved from bitter hunger if you will eat one slice less of wheat bread each day.

LITTLE ENOUGH

Millions of European farmers have left their fields to fight for the safety of America and the world. Those fields therefore haven't been producing much. Ours have. Europe's food has got to come from somewhere. America is the place. It's little enough to ask the individual American to conserve what our fields produce, so our European brethren can have plenty and keep up the fight. Save your bit!
