Onthank Receives Picture of Drafted Army From Ralph Allen '13.

Ralph Allen, a graduate of the University in the class of 1915, who is now stationed at Camp Lewis, as a second lieutenant in the officers reserve, has sent Karl Onthank, secretary to President Cambell, a picture showing 30,000 members of the national army assembled at Camp Lewis to hear an address by William G. McAdoo, secretary of state.

About fifteen former Oregon students and graduates of the University are now stationed at Camp Lewis along with the Eugene ambulance corps which is composed almost entirely of University men, and a number of privates drafted during the summer. The picture will be posted in the library.

$1036 PLEDGED TO FRIENDSHIP FUND; PROMISE STILL MORE

versity Y. M. C. A. or Y. W. C. A. Miss Dinsdale receives calls every day for girls to do odd jobs for an hour or two.

A co-ed on the campus has promised to give all she makes taking care of children for the next month, to the Friendship fund.

One girl offers to give all she can make at stenographic work while another will knit sweaters any color or design desired and will do mending for a restricted period to aid the fund.

Most encouraging reports come from eastern colleges. Ohio State University subscribed $9000 with the campaign still on. One Latin-American boy gave $500. Ohio University in 36 hours secured $2400. 74 per cent of the students and 100 per cent of the faculty subscribed.

Indiana reports as follows: Depauw University with a goal of $6000 has raised $6,012 with the campaign still on. Indiana Central University, with seventy students enrolled, gave $500. Seventeen students at the preliminary meeting gave $250. Butler college with 400 students enrolled, reports $1500 pledged and campaign incomplete.

All the societies at Cornell College in Iowa are giving up their initiation banquets. At the end of the first day's work $3,300 was reported and half the students not yet reached. They received several pledges of 100 each, some fifties, and many twenty-fives, some of the largest contributors being poor students.

Grinnell secured $2,200 from one-third of the students, Des Moines college, in less than one hour had $1500 pledged from 150 students.

At Iowa State Teachers' College, students are given the privilege of securing leave of absence to work for the benefit of the Friendship Fund, providing the time taken from studies does not exceed one week. The faculty decided to give six days' pay each and their contribution will total over $4000.

From a preparatory school one boy who earned $128 last summer gave every cent and four scholarship boys who work in the library pledged all they earn this way during the whole year.

taken along there probably will be a few substitutions before the fray is over. If a fair advantage is gained during the first half Walker intends to give every possible a chance to show what he can do.

Efforts are being made to arrange a game with the winner of the Portland Interscholastic League to be played on Kincaid on Friday, November 16th the day before the California game. Since it will be impossible for the student body to finance this contest, Walker is trying to have the class of 1921 subscribe to a fund which is to be used for this purpose. His idea is to make this contest an annual affair of the incoming frosh classes.

The men who will start on Saturday against Willamette are: R. E. Cosgriff; R. T. Trowbridge; R. G. Dresse; C. Strachn; L. G. Robinson; L. T. Mautz; L. E. Gilbert; Q. Jacobberger; R. H. Masterson; L. H. Chapman; F. Blake.

AID TO Y. M. IS VITAL IN WAR, SAYS DONEY

over, our boy goes to Europe and soon into the trenches. He spends days covered with mud, cold and weary and hungry. When he finally is released from duty, and staggers back to the rear, what is he most in need of? Food, a bath, rest? Yes, but above all distraction. He must forget it all for a little while and relax his shattered nerves. So the Y. M. C. A. gives him a game, a book, a little music and presently re-action sets in and the soldier becomes a human being again."

Dr. Doney spoke of the disintegration of the Italian and Russian armies, and said he attributed it to moral fatigue. He said a few Y. M. C. A. huts erected in their camps would give the armies a new spirit.

Bring Boy Back Clean

"If you want your soldier boy to come back a clean, sane man," declared the speaker, "give all you can to the Y. M. C. A. fund for establishing aid posts in the war zone."

McMinnville College and Reed College have already raised three times their quota. Oregon's quota is $1000, but I want to see her go far beyond that. She should surely raise $4000 and $5000 would not be too much to expect."

At the conclusion of Dr. Doney's talk President Campbell said a few words in which he gave his hearty endorsement to the campaign and urged all the students to give generously.

Miss Elizabeth Fox, dean of women, and James Sheehy, president of the student body, also gave short addresses, in which they expressed their hearty approval and co-operation.

counts and trusted that Oregon would do likewise.

Reports on Conservation

Emma Wootton gave a report of the food conservation campaign telling how every one on the campus had responded to the pledges.

Dean Fox suggested that she would like the league, as representing the women of the University, to take a stand in regard to 11:30 as the hour for closing parties. The committee went on record as in favor of this.

Dorothy Collier urged that upper-classmen should not neglect their spouses.

Those present at the meeting were Helene Delano, president of the league; Roberta Schuebel, secretary; Essie McGuire, treasurer; Frances Elizabeth Baker, on the municipal service and publicity committee; Dorothy Collier, on the sponsor committee; Gladys Conklin, chairman of consumers' league; Cora Hosford, president of the Women's Glee club; Ruth Wilson, president of Y. W. C. A.; Dorothy Parsons, president of Kwama; Beatrice Wetherbee, president of Triple A; Harriet Garrett, president of Triple C; and Ruth Westfall, head of the campus auxiliary of Red Cross.
