

VARSITY EAGER TO SKIN GOLDEN BEAR

cover. It is the optimistic views of the players themselves, and that added sense of security, which seems to hover over the campus, that causes the Oregon fan to believe California will run up against new formations of Oregon's renowned machine maker, Hugo Bezdek. The golden animal comes fresh from long-to-be-remembered banquets, where he feasted on the University of Washington, and O. A. C., so that reports say that Andy Smith, caretaker of the victorious bruin, expects his proteges to swipe away Oregon's eleven with one swing of his clawed hand, but the Oregon opinion is that the victories of the bear has simply put his hide in a finer, more glossy condition, so that it will make a better appearance in the Oregon trophy case.

California lost her chance at the coast championship, when she went down to defeat at the hands of the St. Mary's college eleven last Saturday by a 14 to 13 score, after one of the biggest fights which has ever been staged on a California gridiron, according to press reports of the conflict. Over-confidence is attributed to the defeat of the husky sons of California. When California opened up in the last five minutes of play, a forward pass crusade was started down the field, and five straight forward passes, averaging 12 yards to each, was attempted, and this coupled with a 30-yard run by Shad Rowe, ran the ball from the Bears' five-yard line to a touchdown. It is the prediction of many football critics that if Oregon can get the jump on the California linemen they will trim the Bears.

The California team which will line up against the lemon-yellow, will be composed of about the same men which recently administered a 21 to 0 defeat to the University of Washington team. "Truck" Lane, the efficient goal and place kicker, and "Jock" Hayes, star halfback, have both been called in the draft, and will not be included in the California lineup for the Oregon game. The Bruins are not mourning their loss, for they have a man, Farmer, weighing 180 pounds, who will strengthen the line in Lane's position, and Alford, who will replace Hayes. The California backfield is a fast and heavy bunch, and it is largely on the steam roller-like line plunges that California will probably show their greatest yardage-making department. The Californians will average 173 pounds, against 165 for Oregon.

Nineteen members of the California football squad and the entire coaching staff left Berkeley last night. Coach Smith told 1000 rooters, who packed the California gymnasium, to give the team a sendoff, that the bears did not have a chance to win. "I don't believe the team has recovered from its slump of last Saturday, and with the handicap of playing away from our own field and under different weather conditions, we will be lucky to hold the Webfoot even," he said.

Captain Foster of the eBars, will not be in the group of players who will arrive tomorrow on account of an eleventh-hour decision on the part of doctors that he should not be allowed to make the trip on account of injuries. Hooper, will take his place and start the game.

The stores of Eugene will close during the hours of the game, so that the attendance will be swelled. The old Oregon fight is rising daily and hundreds of prep school students, former students and old grads of the University, will be here for the contest. The "jazz fest" will start Friday night with a football rally, and freshman bonfire on Kincaid field.

SILVER TROPHY OFFERED FOR SORORITIES' DEBATE

Would Stimulate Interest and Provide Training for Washington Contest to Be Held in the Spring.

A silver trophy, similar to the one offered the men for inter-fraternity debate, and governed by the same regulations, will be offered the women of the University this winter, according to the Forensic council, which met Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The women's debate with Washington will be held in the spring, and preparation and tryouts will begin in January. The series of inter-fraternity debates are to stimulate interest and provide training for this debate, which will follow.

Since Stanford has dropped from the Pacific Coast debating council, for financial reasons, the Oregon council has decided to arrange a dual debate with Washington, to take the place of the one scheduled with Stanford.

O. A. C. has asked for debates on December 20-21, but as these dates are during examination week, and as there is a faculty ruling against holding any student activity at that time, the Oregon council has asked that the date be moved forward a week. A list of judges was also made, out of which O. A. C. will choose three.

The members of the council who were present Tuesday were, Roberta Schuebel, Coach R. W. Prescott, Kenneth Armstrong, and William Haseltine. The other members of the council are Dr. J. H. Gilbert, Leon Ray, and Manager A. R. Tiffany.

ALUMNI COUNCIL TO RETURN

Every Member Is Expected Back to Attend Meeting on Thursday.

Every member of the University of Oregon alumni council will return for Homecoming day this week, according to word received at the president's office. The members will arrive on the campus Thursday, when a meeting of the alumni will be held, as the opening event of the week-end program.

Members of the alumni council are Jerry Bronaugh, '92, who is now a Portland attorney; Mrs. L. T. Harris, of Salem; Norma Hendricks, Eugene; George Hug, '07, who is now superintendent of schools, at McMinnville; Walter Winslow, '02, who is now an attorney at Salem; Frances Galloway, an attorney of The Dalles; Marion McClain, manager of the students' co-op store, Eugene; Mrs. John F. Bovard, Eugene; and Thomas Townsend, now a traveling salesman of Salem.

ALL DECKS CLEARED FOR HOMECOMING

of messages received by the various fraternities on the campus, and individuals have received the same response to the hundreds of invitations sent out by the students.

A systematic appeal was made to every "a-lum" whose address University records or individual solicitation could provide, and the response indicates that a large percentage of these will be on hand.

Soldiers May Be Back

"The alumni, through the state are especially proud of their school this year," said A. R. Tiffany yesterday, "and they realize that this year of all years, they must be loyal. They are glad to get a chance to come back and help 'Skin the Golden Bear,' and at the same time, encourage the students, who are in school this year."

It has not been definitely learned how many of the University's men in service will be able to be on hand for the week-end, but some of them have been practically assured that they will be allowed to take a short furlough during that time. Because of the present situation, the men cannot be given absolute assurance any great period in advance, that a furlough will be granted.

Expenditures to Be Small

Throughout all of the arrangements for the entertainment, those in charge have been striving to keep within the spirit and the letter of the University's attitude toward conservatism in expenditures. This has been especially vital to the luncheon and dance committees.

"The campus luncheon will be Hooverized," said Helene Delano, chairman of that committee, "and you may be sure that you will not be violating any of your pledges to partake."

The dance committee has adopted an inexpensive decoration scheme for the big dance at the armory Saturday night, and will serve "punch that has all of the old-time punch without sticking anyone for the bill," as one member of the committee put it.

"BANKING TALKS"

We were speaking in our last talk of overdrafts. In addition to the check being returned to the merchant from whom received, in case the check is signed by responsible endorsers, it may be deemed best to protest it by holding the endorsers. This is done by a notary who gives notice to the maker and endorsers that they will be held for the payment of the check. This will cost several dollars which the person, making the overdraft, must ultimately pay for.

Your overdraft is usually called to the attention of the officers of at least two banks, and to the person you gave the check to. Therefore it can readily be seen that overdrawing your account many times would soon ruin your credit. Besides, it puts a number of busy people to extra trouble; it embarrasses everyone who has to do with it, as well as you, and might put you to expense for protest.

Moral: Keep your account accurately on your check stubs, and know just how much money you have in the bank at all times.
