First-Year Eleven Ready for Columbia Preps.

Visitors in Line for Portland City Title-Two Brothers on Opposing Teams.

Finishing off their work with light signal drill last night, the members of the frosh team, which meets Columbia Preparatory school Friday afternoon, in the first event on the Homecoming program, are eagerly waiting for the whistle that will start the battle.

Considerable rivalry exists between the two elevens from the fact that several of the frosh are former players in the Portland Interscholastic League, of which Columbia is a member. Two men, Masterson and Jacobberger, are old Columbia stars, and anxious to get a chance at their former classmates. Cosgriff is from Lincoln High School, and Trowbridge played on the Jefferson team, that beat Columbia last year.

In Line for Championship

Columbia will come to Eugene with a team that is rated among the contenders for the championship of the Interscholastic League. The blue-and-white have won four games, tied one, and lost one. Their only defeat was at the hands of Franklin High school, and by a score of 7-0. Many of their players are prominently mentioned as candidates for the all-star team, selected each year after the season is closed. Quarterback Allen, and right tackle Hodler, are both said to be in this class.

Two brothers will oppose each other in punting and kicking. Franz Jacobberger takes care of that department for Oregon, and Berthran Jacobberger does the booting for Columbia. Franz is by women than the men. no means a weak kicker, but reports from Portland, say that Berthran is reeling off 45 yard punts as if they were nothing.

Frosh Practice With Varsity

The frosh have had some stiff scrimmage this week with the Varsity, and are going into the game trained to the minute. Columbia has played no games for the last week, in order to get into the best shape possible to take back the freshman colors to Portland.

The Columbia team, with "Tick" Malarkey, the coach, is expected in Eugene Friday morning, and the game will begin at 3:45 o'clock. The lineups:

CAMOU FLAGE CLASS SUC-CESS: FEW KNOW OF IT

But Two Students Taking Course to Fool Germans by Painting Landscape.

"Camouflage, the art of making things seem what they are not," is among the new war classes given in the University. At the request of students interested in the work, a special class has been formed, under Dr. A. D. Caswell in the theory of color, illumination and lighting. This work bears directly upon the up-to-the-minute "camouflage" as practiced by the armies on all fronts in the war. The success of the class in the University is insured by the fact that it has been in session since the opening of the fall term wholly unknown to the campus in general.

The class is at present very small, totaling three of the art department. Application has been made by those now enrolled for the camouflage unit of the engineering corps. The American units are small as yet, being but two in number, one at Palo Alto, California; and the other at American University, Washington, D. C.

Opportunities for those interested in art are unlimited as many in these camouflage units are among the leading sculptors and artists of the day.

Mrs. Madden at Y. W. Meeting, Discusses Conditions In Orient.

Mrs. B. Madden, a missionary in Japan for twenty years, but who returned to the United States two years ago, on a furlough, addresed about fifty girls at the Y. W. C. A. bungalow Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

Mrs. Madden discussed the effect the war was having on Japan. She said that Japan was feeling no hardships because of the war, but, in fact, a great many of the Japanese were amassing great fortunes. And, continued Mrs. Madden, "the problem that is going to arise in Japan is how is this money to be used ' Will the Japanese use it to help the waring nations after the war is over, or will they use it for their own selfish desires?

Miss Toshi Otake, a Japanese student in the Eugene Bible University, and a former student of Mrs. Madden's in Japan, sang a Japanese song. Miss Otake came to the United States a year ago last September, but did not enter the Eugene Bible University until the opening of this year's term.

Miss Ruth Graham and Miss Beatrice Rice, dressed in the native Japanese costumes, loaned for the occasion by Mrs. Madden and Miss Otake, served tea to the assembled group of girls.

Women's Band Has First Toot; Queer Noises Result

Officers to Be Elected Monday Night; Director Perfect Is Pleased With Work.

A passerby might have heard queer sounds issuing from the School of Music las night, between 5 and 6:30, for upstairs, Director Albert Perfect, and the twenty-two enthusiastic members of the Women's band, with their several respective instruments were holding their initial practice.

America and a march were the two selections practiced on. "Who would have thought we could play like this." said an excited co-ed, as the members trudged homeward, after the hour and a half of practice. "Why you could really tell what we were trying to play, and to think that some of us havent't even had lessons yet. It's wonderful."

Mr. Perfect also seemed quite satisfied with the work of the band. He seemed most distracted when interrupted in an explanation, by someone accidentally blowing her instrument out loud. "We'll have to cut out this tooting," he said.

At the end of the meeting, however, everyone wanted to know how soon they could have practice again, and some were quite disappointed when they found there would be no time until Monday night at eight o'clock. Election of officers will take place then and the band will be a full-fledged organization.
