

VALUE OF ATHLETICS TOLD BY PRESIDENT

Head of University Says Intramural Sports Will Put Men in Shape to Serve Colors.

Also Hopes It Will Remove Present Tone of Unrest on Campus.

"Our big motive in fostering intramural athletics," said President Campbell yesterday, "is to interest every man of the University in some kind of sport so that his physical condition will be of the very best when he is called to serve with the colors." The work will be under the direction of Dean Walker who will give his entire time to coaching the men and watching for their health. It is expected by the president that every man will take an active interest in the work and thus build up his physique to the highest point.

"One can easily see," said the president, "that the army lays much stress upon athletics by reading accounts of the various army football teams in the papers. The officers realize that the men are much more congenial with one another and go about their work with a better spirit."

To Improve Tone on Campus.

Another important phase of the work which the president hopes will be brought out is the altering of the tones of the students on the campus.

"The interest in inter-collegiate athletics will be below par all during the war," said the president, "therefore, by a system of intramural athletics we hope to counteract this lack of interest." It is hoped that the sports will keep down the spirit of unrest which has characterized the campus since the close of the football season.

To Have New Field Ready Soon.

The members of the administration hope to have the new athletic field completed by spring so that contests can be held there as soon as possible. It is desired to have the tennis courts on the golf links fixed up in better shape and probably a new cement court added to the one in the rear of the library.

VOLUNTEERS NOT BARRED FROM MARINES AND NAVY

Colonel Bowen Says Draft Rule Setting December 15 as Limit Excludes These Lines.

Colonel Bowen, commandant at the University, believes that the rule excluding all men from voluntary enlistment after noon, December 15, does not include the navy or the marine corps, as these branches of the service have no draft. He is of the opinion that men who have not been actually called forth by the local boards may enlist in either branch, after December 15, provided they pass the examination.

Following is the draft rule, quoted from a letter received by Colonel Bowen from the headquarters of western department, office of military training camps:

"Men who have been called for physical examination, by local draft boards, become ineligible for voluntary enlistment. From and after noon December 15 no registrant whatever may enlist voluntarily in the military service of the United States."

DRILL NEWS

Commencing next Saturday morning, voluntary drill will be given for those who desire to become more efficient in military work. At this time, those who have missed drill during the preceding week, and whose absences, were excused, may make up their work.

Commencing tonight, voluntary classes examinations will be held this semester for men who desire to attend. Classes will meet three times a week, on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights from 7:15 to 8:15 p. m.

Colonel Bowen announces that no examinations will be held this semester for commissioned officers. Owing to the limited time remaining in this semester, Colonel Bowen thinks it best to hold the examinations next term.

Sample puttees may be seen at the co-operative store. All students who can possibly spare the money, are advised by Colonel Bowen to purchase a pair of puttees. They are highly serviceable, and may be worn to useful advantage during the rainy weather. The puttees retail at $2.50.

Three hundred men are now enrolled in the University battalion.

Colonel Bowen will give an illustrated lecture on the "Custer Fight," June, 1876, some day this week, during drill hour, at Villard hall. The lecture will take the place of the regular drill.

DRAFT QUESTIONNAIRE HERE

Professor Reeder Receives Advance Copy of Pamphlet.

Professor R. P. Reeder has received an advance copy of the questionnaire, that will later be sent to every man in the United States, who was required to register for the draft.

The questionnaire is a 16-page pamphlet, prepared for the purpose of letting the men, who are drafted, tell what part of the service they are most fitted for. It requires that they tell all about their occupations in civil life, and the work they liked best, or were most fitted for. All of the law professors have volunteered their services to the men, in filling out these blanks, as a safeguard against any possible mistake.

NEW CLUB STARTED; YET WITHOUT NAME

Organization Formed by Girls Earning Their Way and Those Interested in Vacations.

Lillian Hausler Elected President; Meetings to Be Every Month.

The latest organization on the campus is as yet unnamed. It is composed of the women who earn part, or all of their way through school, and those who are interested in vacations for women.

The purposes are (1) To promote sociability and mutual helpfulness among its members; (2) To create high standards of efficiency and character, both in college work and outside; and (3) To become informed concerning vocations for women. The last purpose is to aid in finding summer employment as well as for use after leaving college.

Eighteen in Club

The girls et together, first at the invitation of the employment bureau of the Young Women's Christian association. This meeting was purely for sociability and the plan to organize did not develop until yesterday, when eighteen girls effected an organization, with the following officers: president, Lillian Hausler; vice-president, Mary Moore; secretary, Mabel Weller; and treasurer, Mae Murray. The president appointed a committee to draw up a constitution and by-laws, and a program, a meetings and a membership committee.

Meetings will necessarily be held on Sunday afternoons, as that is the only time when all the girls are free to attend. They are scheduled for each month, and will vary in character.

To Hear Business Men

One is to be on summer jobs, others will consist of outside talks by business men, who will tell what they expect of a girl, who comes into an office to work, and at another, a housewife will be invited to tell what she expects of a girl, who comes into her home.

A typewriter for the use of the girls is to be installed in the bungalow within a week.

"I feel that this organization is very worth while," said Miss Tirza Dinsdale, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., and will accomplish some things impossible to any other group."

LECTURER ON SCENERY IS COMING TO OREGON

Dr. C. D. Williamson Will Speak in Schools Under Auspices of Extension Division.

Fire Sale!!

Laraway Sacrifices Entire Stock at FIRE SALE PRICES

Blaze Confined to Rear of Store.—When Mr. Laraway received word that the store was on fire, he exceeded the speed limit, and upon reaching the store, ordered that the front door be kept locked, thereby confining the fire to the rear of the store. The result was the principal damage done by the flames was to the clock room, work rooms and building, thanks to the heroic efforts of the fire laddies.

At no time did the fire or water reach the main salesrooms or vaults, which accounts for the little damage done to the main stock.
