The student council went on record last night as favoring this idea of girls going to dances in groups, if attended by chaperons. This plan was presented by the committee in student body dances, comprising Lynn McCreedy, chairman, Martha Tinker and Helene DeLano.

A floor committee will be appointed for each dance to see that everyone has his program filled, that outsiders get introductions, and to keep an eye on things generally. The floor committee for the women's band dance follows: Helen Brenton, Harriett Garrett, Dorothy Collier, Janet Knight, Paul Spangler, Donald Roberts, Ray Couch and Jack Dundore.

The council also went on record as favoring that all dances close at 11:30. Soldiers to Get Emerald.

Walter Myers, chairman of the campus war committee, reported if the alumni association and administration office keep up the addresses of the soldiers, the

FORT STEVENS MEN FINE, SAYS PROF. O. F. STAFFORD

Head of Chemistry Department Finds Them Enjoying Camp Life But Eager to Get to France.

The boys at Fort Stevens seem to be having a very good time, although they are all restless and eager to get to France, reports O. F. Stafford, professor of chemistry, who spent the week-end there. On Friday night he delivered a lecture on "Chemistry and the War."

"The Astoria girls are good to the boys," he said.

"Friday night the camp was nearly depopulated, for many of the men went over to the Red Cross bazaar given by the Honor Guard Girls."

Professor Stafford found the boys all happy and in good physical condition with the exception of Edwin Cox, a student at the University last year, who was in the hospital with pleurisy. Cox is a master gunner.

All the boys stand up for the army life, says Professor Stafford and aside from their eagerness to get to France they are contented.

Among the Oregon men whom Professor Stafford saw were Corporal Max Schafer, the Searce brothers, Bob and Dick, Charles McDonald, George Morehouse and Milton Stoddard.

COMMERCE DIRECTOR IS ILL

H. B. Miller Not Expected on Campus Until Next Week.

H. B. Miller, director of the school of commerce, is ill at his home, in Portland, and will not visit the campus this week. Mr. Miller addressed the annual convention of the State Horticultural society, at Salem, last Saturday, and apparently caught a severe cold. Reports from Portland indicate, however, that he is not seriously ill, and he is expected back at his desk next week.

DESIGN AWARDS MADE

Portland Jury Gives Decisions in Architecture School.

Several Problems Worked Out During Term Are Viewed by Experts.

Awards for the work done in architectural design during the term in the school of architecture were made Wednesday by Joseph Jacobberger and F. A. Naramore, of Portland, the jury for this year. Mr. Jacobberger is president of the Oregon chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and Mr. Naramore, superintendent of public school architecture, in Portland. The work of judging was done during Wednesday, and the results were announced that evening at a dinner given in the Hotel Osburn by the architecture faculty of the University.

Following is the list of awards, as made by the jury:

FIRST GIRLS' VARSITY FIVE TO BE SELECTED

Team Will Be Chosen After Vacation to Meet O. A. C. in Basketball; Freshmen May Be Barred.

Tryouts for a woman's Varsity basketball team will be held immediately after Christmas vacation. A team will then be formed and practice will begin for a game with O. A. C., says Maude Lombard, head of basketball.

"The inter-class games," said Miss Lombard, "show that there is some good material for a team. The Woman's Athletic association will probably have charge of choosing the members. It is probable that freshmen will be excluded."

Miss Mabel Cummings, head of the department of physical training, is in favor of forming a team.

"It would be the first in the history of the University," said Miss Cummings. "I consider this a good time for women to enter intercollegiate athletics, as the war has caused such a decrease in men's athletics."

PRATT ENJOYS LIFE IN NAVY

Says Y. M. C. A. Is Bright Spot in Camp Life at Goat Island.

Life in the navy appeals to Deward Pratt, who recently withdrew from college, and who is now stationed at the Goat Island Naval Training station, San Francisco.

James Macpherson, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., received a card from Pratt yesterday, in which Pratt had nothing but praise for the service. The message follows:

"Just a word to let you know that I'm settling down to life in the service and really enjoying it greatly. The invigorating mode of living and the discipline are great for a fellow. We have very good food, good tents, and considerate instructors. At present I'm in the detention camp, making sure that I've brought no contagious disease to the station. We also receive four vaccinations during the period at this camp."

"The Y. M. C. A. here in camp is one bright spot. I realize now, as never before, what a great work it is doing."

Pratt was a freshman in the University.

ORDNANCE STUDENT GIVES TALK ON FEDERAL BONDS

Fred H. Heitzhausen, Formerly With Portland Bank, Speaks to Commerce Class.

Fred H. Heitzhausen, a student in the ordinance class, of the school of commerce, addressed the class in commercial and industrial survey, in Deady hall, on Wednesday afternoon, on the subject of government and municipal bonds.

Mr. Heitzhausen is a former student of the school of commerce, and for the last year has been connected with the Lumbermen's Trust company, of Portland, one of the largest bond houses on the Pacific coast. He displayed a number of specimen bonds, and explained the purpose of bond issues, and the varying conditions that surround their issuance and sales.

"The United States Liberty bonds are positively the best security in the world," said Mr. Heitzhausen. "They have every dollar's worth of property in the country back of them, as well as the solid support of 110,000,000 people. They offer a sure and steady source of income, at a substantial rate, and in addition to the patriotic motives that should attract investors, they provide an excellent business proposition."

MAY ENTER SECOND TERM

Eugene High School Mid-Year Seniors to Be Graduated Month Early.

Regulations are being made by the Eugene High school, to allow mid-year seniors to enter the University, at the opening of the second term. Since the division of the collegiate year into three terms, there has been much discussion among the high school seniors as to when they could enter the University. The regulations for recommendation to the University in January, state that any student, who has completed not less than 13 credits, at the beginning of the school year, and who is making satisfactory grades in sufficient work to entitle him to 16 credits, may apply for admission to the University, at the opening of the second term, January 2, 1918.

STUNT TRYOUT SUCCESSFUL

Graham Smith, Glee Club President, Says Men Have Good Stuff for Tour.

The stunt tryouts for the men's glee club, held last night in the school of music, proved a real success, says Graham Smith, president of the club.

"Many members of the club demonstrated their ability for doing different stunts," said Smith. As a result, the club will have a feature of no small merit in its program. The members have been doing excellent work for the last two weeks, and although enlistments have taken several good men, these places have been filled.

Special work is to be done for the remainder of this semester, to put the club in condition for the concert tour, which will be taken some time during the latter part of February, or the first of January.

EAT OATS, SAYS MISS TINGLE

Household Arts Head Advises Hulled Grain as Breakfast Food.

Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the department of household arts, at the University of Oregon, has discovered a new cereal food. It is hulled oats, and may be used as a breakfast food, as a vegetable, as a nut substitute in loaves, or as a substitute for barley in soups.

"Oats," said Miss Tingle, "are very nutritious and cheaper than any other cereal, at the present time."

The hulled oats are purchased at a feed store and washed and soaked in cold water. Later they are boiled in hot water, and drained. They may be served as rice is, or used in any of the ways mentioned above.

SPEAKS AT COTTAGE GROVE

Miss Catharine Winslow Gives Address on Playground Work.

Playgrounds were the subject of an illustrated address delivered at Cottage Grove, Tuesday night, by Miss Catharine Winslow, instructor in the University of physical education.

"Playgrounds are a good way, at present, perhaps the best, of keeping the children off the streets," Miss Winslow declared. "If they are well equipped, and in charge of some competent supervisor, their usefulness is increased."

ALL SET FOR DEBATE WITH O. A. C. MONDAY

Haseltine, Myers, Armstrong and Doxee Will Represent U. of O. in Dual Contest.

Admittance of Cabinet Members to Floors of Both Houses, Question.

Team work of the Varsity debate team will be knocked off tonight in order that the men may have opportunity to mediate, reflect, and perfect, before the duel debate with O. A. C. Monday night. "The Oregon team is ready to meet O. A. C.," said Prof. Robert W. Prescott, debate coach. "The boys have been working intensively for a month, and they are entitled to a little rest, before the big night."

The subject of the debate is: "Resolved that members of the cabinet be admitted to floors of both houses of Congress, with the privilege of initiating measures and submitting amendments, when relating to their respective departments, and of the debating of the same."

Members of the affirmative on the O. A. C. team, who will come to Eugene are Ted Cramer and Ray Aldrich. They will be met by Bill Haseltine and Walter Myers, who will take the negative, of the question. Kenneth Armstrong and Harold Doxee will go to Corvallis, where they will be met by Bernard Mainwaring, and William Teutsch. Both Cramer and Teutsch have been prominent at O. A. C. in class debate.

Myers Only Veteran

The only veteran on the Varsity team is Walter Myers, who has been in intercollegiate debate for three years. This will be Myers' last appearance in Varsity debate, as he graduates at Christmas. "Mr. Myers has done good work in debate," said Professor Prescott, today, "and he will measure with any U. of O. debater, who has ever been turned out."

Sixth Debate For Myers

The debate Monday night will mark the sixth intercollegiate contest, in which Myers has participated.

Judges for the debate with O. A. C. have not yet been named.

A dual debate with the University of Washington is planned to take place some time in March.

DOROTHY ROBERTSON NOW MANAGER OF GUILD HALL

Girl Will Have Complete Charge for the First Time in History.

For the first time in the history of the University of Oregon a woman has taken over the management of Guild hall and all plays produced by the department of dramatics. Miss Dorothy Robertson, a junior, has taken this work in charge, and will fill the place left vacant by Wilfred C. Stroud, who left college Saturday to enlist in the navy.

Miss Robertson has had some experience in this sort of work, having acted as contract agent for the Ellison-White Chautauqua company in Canada, last summer. Since entering college this fall, she has been employed by the Eugene Daily Register, as special advertising agent.

WAR CANDY EXPLAINED

Must Use Minimum of Sugar, Says Miss Tingle.

Sweets Needed as Part of Regular Diet; Candy Substitutes Given.

The making of "war candy" and "menu-making" were the topics discussed by Miss Lillian Tingle, at her weekly lecture, held in Villard at one o'clock this afternoon.

"There are three rules governing the making of war candy, that are simply absolute," said Miss Tingle. First, there should be no candy made this year by the old methods, which take great amounts of sugar as a base. Second, only one pound of sugar should be used to five pounds of other materials, and third, no one should eat candy as an extra, but should use it as a part of their regular diet."

Substitute Fruits and Juices

Some of the candy substitutes that Miss Tingle recommends are made from canned fruits, partially dried and rolled in powdered sugar.

Dates and figs make very good candy substitutes, when stuffed with nuts or with peanut butter, flavored with honey or maple syrup.

Nougats may be made with syrup stiffened with gelatine, while a very good chewing candy is made from equal parts molasses and karo, or other syrup, and a small amount of butter, flavored with peppermint, or vanilla.

An excellent imitation fulge is made from peanut butter and mashed potatoes rubbed smooth with maple syrup, and flavored with spices.

Fruit juices stiffened with gelatine, and rich preserves used in the same way, are appetizing. Nuts and fruits may be ground fine and worked into paste, with the addition of a bit of lemon juice and powdered sugar. Marshmallows are made from one half box gelatine, one half pint jelly and the white of an egg.

In regard to menu making, Miss Tingle said, "There are four things to be considered in the making of a menu—time, labor, cost and fuel. There is no patent medicine menu that will fit all persons, or appeal to every individual, but a good menu should come within these considerations." A good meal should be wholesome, well balanced and attractive.

Miss Tingle will continue her discussion of menu-making next week.

ABOUT 525 OREGON MEN ARE NOW IN SERVICE

Registrar's Office Has Issued Withdrawal Cards to Over Thirty in Last Three Weeks.

Nearly 525 Oregon men have now enlisted in the service, according to Karl Onthank, secretary to the president. A large number of these men have enrolled in the ordinance courses, offered by the University.

In the last three weeks, withdrawal cards have been issued by the registrar's office to more than thirty students.

Lee Waldron, Walter Banks, Carl Knudsen and Ernest Boylen, all sophomores, have joined the navy, while the marines have secured G. F. Tachanz, junior, Lewis Griffith, sophomore, and Vincent Patterson, a freshman.

In the medical corps are A. C. Shelton, a senior, in the zoological department, Harold Tregigas and Glen Macy, pre-medical students.

Mike Harris, James Howell, Lynn McCreedy and Harold Wells are enrolled in the ordinance corps.

Wilford Jenkins, a senior, has entered the quartermaster's department. William Skidmore is with the engineers.

Others who have enlisted are Alex Pearson, Jr., Kenneth Shetterly and Jay Fisher, seniors, Newton Center, Earl Murphy, juniors, M. E. Wilson, Walter Doyhns, Oliver Gullenberg and Keith Leslie, sophomores, Paul Robinson, James Gurney and Adelbert Hays, freshmen, and Neil McEachern and Roy Samuels, specials.

HISTORY OF FUR TRADE GIVEN COMMERCE CLASS

Conservation of Supply a Business Proposition, Says Pauline Beals in Report.

An interesting history of the fur-trading activities of the northwest was presented before the class in industrial and commercial survey of the school of commerce, on Wednesday afternoon, by Miss Pauline Beals, who had made an investigation of the subject.

Miss Beals' report pointed out that fur trading was the earliest form of commercial enterprise in what now comprises the state of Oregon, and that the industrial development of the present day is due largely to the firm foundation established here by the early-day fur merchants.

Among the principal fur-bearing animals now being caught in Oregon, Miss Beals enumerated marten, otter, beaver and mink. Some coarser furs also are produced in this state, notably those of the muskrat, skunk and raccoon.

While Oregon does not rank high as a fur producing state at the present time, the value of the yearly output is estimated at $100,000. St. Louis continues to be the principal fur market of the United States, but Portland is the fur center of the northwest.

"The conservation of our fur, as well as our game is a business proposition," declared Miss Beals, "and our fur-bearing animals should have as much consideration as our forests and our water supply."

LEAVES TO AID RED CROSS

Earl Kilpatrick and Family Depart for Seattle.

Earl Kilpatrick, secretary of the extension division, and family left last Friday night for Seattle, where Mr. Kilpatrick will work in behalf of the Red Cross. For three months he will assist the northwestern division of the Red Cross, in chapter and educational work. His territory covers the states of Washington, Idaho and Oregon.

PANHellenic FIXES ELIGIBILITY RULING

Initiation Into Sorority Before Jan. 1, 1918, No Longer Bars Joining Campus Organization.

Decision Reached at Meeting Tuesday Will Admit Three University Girls.

Any girls who was initiated before January 1, 1918, into any organization bearing a Greek name, called a fraternity or sorority, will not for that reason be considered ineligible for membership to a University of Oregon national sorority.

This decision, reached Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Oregon chapter of National Pan-Hellenic association, makes three girls on this campus, formerly ineligible, now eligible for a sorority. The absence on the campus of Greek societies, not national, makes the rule here apply only to preparatory schools.

Old Rule Rescinded

The local chapter, it was explained by Celeste Foulkes, president, has heretofore been influenced by another rule, which deemed it necessary for a member of a preparatory school sorority, to resign before January 1, 1918, in order to become open for pledging to a national sorority.

"We are informed, by the National headquarters," said Miss Foulkes, "that the rule regarding resignations was never upheld. Therefore we will now accept only the official rule, and a girl will not be considered ineligible, provided she was initiated before January 1, 1918."

Text of New Rule

The rule in full, reads as follows: "After January 1, 1918, no girl who becomes a member of an organization bearing a Greek name, called a fraternity or sorority, shall be eligible to a National Pan-Hellenic sorority. This is exclusive of junior colleges, and professional fraternities."

The local chapter decided that initiation of this year's pledges should be held after Christmas vacation, as soon as grades could be determined.

ORDER OF 'O' TO MEET FRIDAY

A meeting of the Order of the "O" is to be held on Friday afternoon, in the Varsity room of the men's gymnasium. Election of officers will be held, and other important business will be discussed. The meeting will be for the older members only.
