

NEW ORDNANCE MEN TO BE ON ARMY ROLL

Will Enlist at Beginning of Term and Draw Private's Salary But No Expenses.

Course Popular With Collegians; Nine Students and Ten Alumni Enroll.

Students in the third ordnance course will be enlisted at the time they sign up for the course instead of waiting until they have completed their work, according to word received by Professor C. C. Jeremiah Friday. This will entitle them to a private's salary of $30 a month, but they will be on furlough, and consequently pay for their own board and lodging. It is expected to have the men signed up and at work by January 14. Whether they will be provided with uniforms is not known definitely.

Oregon Students Enroll.

Nine students of the University are enrolled in the ordnance course. These include: James Sheehy, president of the student body; Russell Quisenberry, president of the band; Melvin T. Solve, dramatic critic of the Emerald and member of the glee club; Creston Maddock, guard on the football team; Walter Mattson, Ralph Service, Roland Nicol, Byron Garrett and Frank Wilson.

Besides these, 10 former students are numbered on the list. Lynn Parr, Henry Sims, member of the 1917 basketball team; Glenn Dudley, letter man in football, and Leo Furney, track man, all in last year's graduating class, will be back. Anson Cornell, heralded as the greatest quarterback who ever played for the lemon-yellow; Claude Bristol, Few Changes Made.

The work for the third course will follow closely along the lines of the second, with only a few improvements over the second course. An additional instructor may be secured.

The men in the second course who finished their work before the first of the year have been held up from enlisting because their authorizations had not arrived. Professor Jeremiah received notice Friday that the orders had been sent and that all the men would probably be enlisted Monday. They will be sent to Rock Island, Ill., for further training, instead of San Antonio, where the men in the first course were sent. The camp at Rock Island is the largest in the country.

The 50 men now at San Antonio are scheduled to leave there today for a camp in New Jersey, where they will get their last training before getting their permanent stations.

FRESH PROSPECT GOOD

Twenty Men Are Out for First Year Basketball.

Jacobberger and Durno Playing Centers—Whole Team Snappy Says Coach.

With more than 20 men turning out every evening, the freshmen basketball team is quickly rounding into shape, and unless the unfortunate happens, one of the best teams that has been turned out in years should represent the class of 1921 this season.

However, strange as it may seem, out of the 20 men who have been donning the uniforms, all except three or four are guards. As a defensive team the outlook is fine, but there is a sad lack of hoopers to score the necessary points. However, it is expected that this will all come in time, as the season is yet young.

At present, Coach Walker is using Jacobberger and Durno at forward, Starr at center, and Chapman, Hollenbeck, Mautz and Blake alternating at guards. These men are all experienced, having played high school ball for the past two or three years.

No games have been arranged as yet, but letters were sent out a few days ago to several of the high schools of the state asking for games, and in all probability a trip will be taken within the next month. No contests have been arranged with the Aggie rooks as yet, but these also will be decided upon shortly.

Beginning with next week it is highly probable that the first year men will practice against the Varsity, unless other arrangements can be made. When the drill-shed courts are completed the freshmen will use them for preparation for their games and not interfere with the Varsity in any way.

Coach Walker has had his squad out every evening since the Thanksgiving vacation, and the men are now in very good condition for this time of the season.

Why must we be so careful about saving sugar? Because sugar is a necessary food, and not just something that we like to eat because of the taste. Sugar is the food that helps the body to stay warm, and it also provides it with energy. That is why soldiers, exposed in the trenches and working under great strain, should have sugar—more sugar, even, than they needed at home. And the people of the allied countries, working harder than they ever did before, to keep up with their country's needs, should also have much more sugar than they are getting.
