GIRLS' BAND ADDS SONG AND SKITS TO TOOTING

Plans for Concert Trip Are Made by New University of Oregon Organization.

When the women's band is ready to make its tour, the co-eds will not only be able to toot their instruments perfectly...

Committees have not yet been appointed to arrange for the stunts and songs, but this will probably be attended to at a meeting next Monday night.

That the women's band is the only University band, since the men's has been transformed into the Military band, was emphasized at the meeting by Director Albert Perfect.

The band was asked to play at the patriotic meetings on Saturday, but due to the fact that Mr. Perfect will be in charge of the other two bands present...

Student of 1885 Asks for Standing.

To come back to one's Alma Mater after a period of 33 years, and again be a student, will be the experience of Miss Anna L. Henderson...

Dean Straub, the father of every freshman who has entered the portals of the University for the last 37 years, said: "Why, I know Miss Henderson well."

Whether Miss Henderson expects to come back to Oregon is not known, although her request for information as to her standing is an apparent indication of intent to return.

SCHROFF WILL EXHIBIT

Oil and Water Color Paintings to Be Shown.

Was Member of Eastern Clubs and Art Schools Before Coming West.

An exhibit of the oil and water-color paintings and sketches of Alfred H. Schroff, professor of art in the University, will open Monday, January 14, at 2 p. m. in the architecture gallery...

Professor Schroff came to the University two years ago from the east, where he is widely known in artistic circles. The artist was born in Boston and began his art studies at the Zepho club, Boston, and later continuing in the Cowles Art school.

Professor Schroff is a member of the Boston Architectural club, Copley society, Boston Art club, Society of Odd Brushes, Boston Water-color club and the Archaeological Institute of America.

Besides his painting and teaching, he is known for artistic achievements in another line, having merited prominence in the architectural world for his designs, cartoons, and paintings for memorial windows. His mural decorations are in many of the most prominent public buildings and churches in the east.

- RESULTS OF TODAY'S DOUGH-NUT GAMES. Delta Tau Delta, 22; Alpha Tau Omega, 10. Phi Gamma Delta, 4—Oregon Club, 6. Dormitory and Sigma Chi game postponed. Kappa Sigma and Sigma Nu game postponed.

DOUGHNUT LEAGUE TO BAR REGULARS

Members of Varsity and Frosh Teams Not Allowed in Intramural Games, Says Walker.

Championship Series to Begin January 29—Handsome Cup for Winner.

"Athletics for the majority instead of the minority" were introduced in real style in the University this week when Manager Dean Walker announced that men of the varsity and freshman squads will be barred from competition in the Doughnut League basketball.

The announcement came as quite a blow to several of the teams because they had expected and had planned to use their full strength against their competitors for the silver trophy.

The first games of the season were played this afternoon with the Sigma Nus playing the Kappa Sigmas, Delta Tau Deltas, the A. T. O.s; the Oregon club, the Fijis; and Sigma Chis, the Dormitory five. Nothing is now known of the comparative strength of the different aggregations since the recent "shakeup" each team is going on to the floor with no practice so some very rough contests can be looked for today.

DR. CARSON DEAN AT DRURY

Former Rhetoric Professor Rejoices at Growth of University.

Dr. Luella Clay Carson, who was dean of women at Oregon from 1899 to 1909, and head of the department of rhetoric from 1889 to 1909, writes Earl Kilpatrick, head of the extension division, that she is well pleased with her position as dean of women at Drury College, Missouri.

TO FORM SHORTHAND CLASS

Twenty-Five Cents a Lesson to Be Fee in Course Given by Mrs. Linnen.

A private course in shorthand, under the direction of Mrs. Linnen, instructor in business courses at the Eugene high school, is now open to University students. The first lesson will be given in Professor Peter Crockett's room on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

SPENCER TO BE AN OFFICER

Says Aviation is Best Branch of Service Work—Hard.

Carlton E. Spencer, '13, is in training for the ground officers' training school at Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex. He says that he is feeling fine over his prospects, and has joined, in his estimation, absolutely the best branch of the service.

FORENSIC SCHEDULE FIXED FOR QUARTER

Tryout Dates Set for Interfraternity, Alumni Medal, Varsity Debates; Topic Chosen.

Members of University Team Will Be Barred From Other Contests.

After considerable delay, due to new contracts, shifting schedules, military drill, and other unsettled conditions, the forensic schedule for the quarter is ready for announcement.

The schedule, subject to change later, is as follows: Tryout for Varsity debate team, 2 p. m. Saturday, January 19. Tryout for Varsity orator in state contest, Monday evening, January 21. Alumni medal debate, Wednesday evening, January 30. Interfraternity debate preliminaries, February 28.

House Competition Keen. The fraternities are showing a good interest in the debates, which will determine the possession for another year of the trophy now held by the Fijis.

The original intention of the forensic council was to hold the alumni medal contest with the tryouts for the Varsity debate team, but it was found advisable to postpone the contest, as more time will be required for the speeches.

SHEEHY STAYS IN COLLEGE

Student President to Take Military Courses Under Col. Leader.

James S. Sheehy, president of the student body, who was chosen for the third ordnance course, has decided to go on with his University work instead of enlisting for that service.

MISS LUELLE NORRIS DIES

Teacher in Eugene High School Attended Classes on Thursday.

Miss Luella Norris, sister of Mrs. L. H. Johnson, and a teacher in the Patterson school, was found dead in bed yesterday morning. Although not feeling well, she taught classes Thursday, afterwards making application for a short leave of absence.

ACCOMPANIST NOT CHOSEN

Girls' Glee Club Appointment to Be Made Monday Afternoon.

The accompanist for the girls' glee club was not selected at the tryout held Friday afternoon, because so many applicants appeared that not all of them could be heard. The rest are to try out Monday. Mrs. Daise Middleton, director of the club, will then announce the successful candidate.

May Dedicate Patriotic Song to "O" Battalion.

Hazel Radabaugh and Leslie Blades Compose New Military March.

"I'm in love with the best little sweetheart, And I know that I'll always be true, For I owe her a life of devotion, She's the mistress of all I do."

These words, written by Hazel Radabaugh, and set to music by Leslie Blades, will be submitted by the composers to Colonel John Leader, in the hope that the song will become the official march of the University of Oregon battalion.

Miss Radabaugh, "we will dedicate it to the battalion and have it copy-righted at once. The words are simple, and the music has plenty of 'pop', so we think that our song might well be adopted for drill purposes.

Miss Radabaugh and Mr. Blades, who composed the song, "Drifting" last year, are the first to respond to a call for songs made by the University.

COUNCIL WILL BE BUSY

Green Caps May Be Abandoned During Parade Hour.

Emerald Worker Emblems to Be Discussed—Dance Committee to Be Filled.

The student council is to meet next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, in Professor Gilbert's room at the library. It is the first meeting this term, and several matters of importance are to come up.

Whether or not the freshmen are to be allowed to abandon their green caps during drill hours, is one of the questions that is to be decided by the student council. Colonel Leader has asked that the freshmen be allowed to do this, as it will improve the general appearance of the Oregon battalion.

Catherine Dobie, circulation manager of the Emerald, is to report on why the delivery of the Emerald has been late, as there have been numerous complaints. The student council is to decide whether or not anything can be done to prevent it.

There is also a committee to be appointed to draw up letters of condolence and respect in honor of Dale Melrose, Seth Smith and Irwin Brooks, three University students who recently died. Letters are to be sent to the parents, and to be read at the next meeting of the associated students.

James Sheehy has appointed a new dance committee, Lynn McCready and Helene DeLano being unable to serve on the committee any longer. The new members of the committee are Dwight Wilson, chairman, Martha Tinker, and Frances Frater.

Two new members on the student council are to be appointed to take the places of Walter Myers and Lynn McCready, who have joined the ordnance corps. James Sheehy has not made the appointments yet.

OKLAHOMA TEACHES RADIO

A course for radio telegraphers is being given by the engineering department of the University of Oklahoma. It is open to 500 men, who will be summoned for military service in the second draft.

NO OBJECTORS ON PLEA OF CONSCIENCE

Exemptions Not Asked On Religious Grounds; Almost Every Man Out for Military Drill.

COLONEL LEADER PLEAS

Heavy Student Enlistment Causes Lack of Men Who Know Tactics.

That there are no conscientious objectors to military drill on the campus, is shown by the fact that not a single man asked for exemption on that ground. And although section five of the draft law exempts divinity students from the draft, and faculty action has initiated the law by exempting them from drill, a large number of Eugene Bible University men have volunteered for military training.

The colonel declared that it is necessary to drill every able-bodied man, whether he can come up to army requirements or not. A home guard is essential to minimize the danger of invasion, and to train recruits.

Since enlistment in the national service has been so very heavy from the state of Oregon, there are almost no men left in the state or on the campus who understand military tactics. In the University it was found hard to officer the student battalions because so few men were available who had had military training.

The present officers are: Commandant, Lieutenant Colonel John Leader; acting adjutant, Acting Captain E. W. Allen; assistant acting adjutant, Dean Walker; acting officer in charge of works, E. H. McAlister; and acting of-

GARRETT LIKES FRANCE

Varsity Star Says Ambulance Driving Is Good Work.

He Wants to Be Back at Oregon Again, Though, Instead of Hauling Wounded.

Experiences of an Oregon student who is seeing active service on the firing line in France, are told in a letter received yesterday by "Bill" Hayward, physical trainer, from "Dobbie" Garrett, who was an end on the 1914 Oregon Varsity, is now driving an ambulance with the United States army.

"I am glad to be able to do the work," writes Garrett. "The driving of an ambulance is a fascinating game of thrills and chances. I like it because after driving continuously sometimes for 48 hours, without sleep and with little food, and after doing a little getting out and getting under when the planes stage a little battle up there about 5800 feet, and dodging in and out of endless ditches—it gives me a sense of satisfaction for having come out alive, for we are never permitted to use lights on the ambulance machines while near the front."

"But," continues Garrett, "I long to set foot again among these peaceful surroundings of Oregon, but I must content myself for the present, at least, for this Christmas anyhow, in the work of aiding poor mangled wretches, once strong as you and I, Bill—many now older than you, Bill."

In speaking of the weather on the western front at the time of his writing, December 1, Garrett says: "For four days the snow has fallen here, and it is freezing every minute—anything but rain, although it reminds me of dear old Oregon."

Garrett belonged to the class of 1916, and attended the University for three years, later taking his senior work at the University of California. He was a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. His parents live in Medford.
