

Varsity to Battle Willamette Five

Basketball Game Scheduled for Gymnasium Saturday; Conference Contests a Week Off.

Methodists Have Fast Team; Oregon Faces Hard Fight.

The Varsity basketball five will be seen in action for the second time of the year on Saturday evening, when they will battle the Willamette University team, of Salem, in the gymnasium. The final arrangements were made today, and Coach Hayward has been putting his squad through some very stiff workouts during this past week, preparing them for the struggle.

Although the men showed up well in last Saturday's contest with Multnomah club, there has been a decided lack of ability since that date. The team has not been playing together, and has shown up in very poor form in basket-shooting. Comfort has not made his appearance on the floor since Monday, and it is highly probable that he will be out of the lineup on Saturday.

Daily Practices Are Held.

Yesterday afternoon, in a very ragged contest, Coach Hayward's five had an extremely hard time in defeating the Eugene high quintet. After the high school aggregation had piled up a 7 to 4 lead in the first period, a slight comeback was staged, and the final score stood 18 to 14, with the Varsity on the long end. The coach was disappointed with the showing made, and has called practice for 4 o'clock for the remainder of the week, in order that a good showing may be made against the Salem college team on Saturday.

The first conference games are little more than a week off, the initial ones being scheduled for Friday and Saturday, February 1 and 2, in Corvallis. Unless great progress is made from now on, little hope for a victory is in store.

Same Lineup Is Probable.

Willamette University has an exceptionally fast quintet this year, and an Oregon victory is by no means a certainty. In fact, many students say the Varsity is in for a drubbing. Willamette has already played O. A. C., and the Aggies barely nosed out a 10-9 win. When it is remembered that O. A. C. has a team nearly up to the strength of last season, it is easy to see that the Varsity will have to put on full speed against the Methodists.

Bill Hayward has not definitely decided on his lineup for the fracas, but in all probability will start the same team which played Multnomah, consisting of Morrison and Fowler, forwards, Wilson and Steers, guards, and Comfort, if he is in shape, center. If Comfort is out, Lind will start at center.

The game is scheduled to begin about 8 o'clock. Student body tickets will admit.

GEN. FOLTZ TO HELP TRAIN OREGON MEN will be no guarantee of quarters for them within the camp reservation, although Dean Allen thinks it possible that accommodations may be arranged for them in the barracks.

Expect Uniforms Soon.

Although the University of Washington has an officers' reserve training school as a part of its military organization, the University of Oregon, in spite of the handicap in time of starting its course, has a greater number and more diversified courses in military training than the northern school, according to Dean Allen. The University of Oregon battalion, though not possessing regulation khaki as yet, expects to have the suits as soon as the federal authorities grant the government appropriation for them.

Dean Allen says that military men at Camp Lewis and at the University of Washington are very friendly toward the work being done at Oregon, and will give their greatest co-operation to it.

SCHOLARSHIP VACANCIES.

Owing to the unusual number of withdrawals and resignations of scholarship holders at the University of California, the committee on undergraduate scholarships has decided to fill these vacancies for the current term. This was announced yesterday at the office of the recorder. Applications for students now in residence may be filed with the recorder until 5 o'clock, January 22.—Daily Californian.

PHOTOGRAPHIC SECTION NEEDS OVER 500 MEN

Those Who Meet Requirements Will Get First or Second Lieutenancies Says Bulletin.

A bulletin received by the University from the intercollegiate intelligence bureau, calls the attention of the men students of the University to the urgent request of the government for between 500 and 600 college men to train as officers in charge of the photographic section overseas.

The men who meet the qualifications of this branch of service will be commissioned first and second lieutenants. The salary for first lieutenants will be $2000 per year, plus allowance. Second lieutenants will receive $1700, plus allowance.

Qualifications for entrance does not make professional photography a requisite, but some experience in engineering and map-making, as well as some experience in the latter, are necessary.

Successful applicants will be given a five weeks' course in training schools, at the conclusion of which the members of the course who have satisfactorily passed the course and are recommended, will be commissioned. Details of the application for entrance to the training schools may be obtained at the office of Karl Ontbank, secretary to the president.

OHIO FRATERNITY HOUSES SUFFER FROM COLD WAVE

Bursting Pipes and Flooded Rooms Greet University Men and Women on Return From Vacation.

Cold weather and heatless houses during vacation caused about $1200 damage among fraternity circles. Flooded rooms, bursting radiators and frozen pipes were only a few incidents encountered by the men upon their return. Several fraternities have been without water, resulting from the condition of the pipes.

Phi Kappa Psi was injured to the extent of $700. Ten radiators had burst, and in several places the floors were flooded. Many pipes were frozen, making it impossible to obtain water for some time. Kappa Sigma suffered about $300 loss from frozen pipes and a damaged furnace. The pipes were all below the first floor, so no injury was done the house.

Alpha Tau Omega incurred a loss of about $50, also caused by bursting pipes in a third floor bathroom. Punctures were made in the ceiling to drain the water into one place, thus preventing a wider distribution of the damage. Delta Tau Delta, Delta Chi, Alpha Kappa Kappa and many others had minor troubles and were inconvenienced for a while.—Ohio State Lantern.

EUGENE WAGE SCALE LOW

Employment Committee Investigation Shows Rates Below Average.

According to statistics presented at a recent meeting of the employment committee of the campus Y. M. C. A., Eugene pays lower wages for odd jobs than any other town in the state. The reason for this, say members of the committee, is the large number of men who come to attend the University as compared with other towns where men are scarce on account of enlistments.

"Since students must pay the same price for board and clothing in Eugene as they do in any other Oregon town," said Kenneth Lancefield, chairman of the committee, "they should receive the same wages."

Thirty cents an hour is the average price paid for odd jobs in other Oregon towns. Eugene pays much less than this. The committee is undecided as to further action in the matter, but will continue its investigation.

A month after enlisting, Walter Dimm, '16, was made first sergeant, and later the same day promoted to battalion sergeant major of the first battalion of the First replacement engineers. Dimm enlisted at Albany, N. Y., on December 10, and is now stationed at Washington, D. C. While on the campus Dimm was prominent in the work of the campus Y. M. C. A., and was a member of the basketball squad. He was a major in journalism. His father, J. C. Dimm, is editor of the Springfield News.

W. S. C. COACH IN MOVIES

Dietz, Football Tutor, to Appear in Indian Pictures.

William H. ("Lonestar") Dietz, Washington State College's picturesque football coach, has entered the motion picture game for the time between football seasons. He has affiliated himself with the Washington Motion Picture Corporation.

The company will make a specialty of Indian pictures. The big chief had planned to go into vaudeville after the football season, but his plans failed to materialize.

The coach is by no means a novice at the motion picture game, having spent the last summer at the work with the American Film company, and also having been connected with the Essanay company, of Chicago. He has taken the leading role in a number of Indian productions.

KAPPA SIGNS DEFEAT PHI DELTS; HOLD LEAD

all the way through, and did not seem to be effected by the "shell shock" that struck their opponents. They appear, from present showings, to be the strongest team in their division, and it is probable that they will meet the Sigma Chis, who appear to be firmly entrenched in the lead of section two, for the league championship. There is still a chance for a dark horse to appear in either section and spoil all of the dope.

Ingram and Kennedy, stars for the Phi Delt team, had ample opportunity to study astronomy in Tuesday night's mix, as they were bumped pretty hard against the wall of the gym on one or two occasions. Mason and Ellis get the special mention for the Kappa Sigs.

The surprise of the evening was the win that the A. T. O. five registered over the Betas. The game was exceptionally fast and hard fought, the final score being 6 to 5 in favor of the down town fraternity. The Betas showed a weakness in tossing baskets when they were within shooting distance. This weakness has been characteristic of the playing of the Betas all season, and has kept them at the bottom of the list, while their playing has been equal to any in the league.

A. T. O. Have New Lineup.

The A. T. O. presented a new lineup and played a bang-up game from the first. Hamlin and Adams, at forwards, played the best game for the winners, and Hammersley, playing at guard, surprised all the natives by shooting a perfect basket from the middle of the floor.

For the Betas, Dresser, who scored all the points for the losers, and Beggs were the shining lights.

The lineup:

- Kappa Sigma (4) Phi Delta Theta (2)
 - MaisonF..... Ingram (1)
 - StillF..... Phipps (1)

NEW BASKETBALL AT K. U.

There are three very important changes in the women's basketball rules this year. Now, the centers can throw goals; the ball can be juggled once in the air; one cannot be put out of the game for three personal fouls, four fouls warn and five fouls disqualify. This is not counting the line fouls. There is also a new zone behind the goal in which the ball can be played. The K. U. women athletes like the new rules, although they have not been given a thorough trial yet. They like to play the full length of the hall.—University Daily Kansan.
