DE FELL IS HELD IN PORTLAND CHARGED WITH BEING SLACKER

mer instructor in Spanish failed to register, though of draft age.

Is Preparing Statement.

By reason of the fact that he conducted some of the University's extension classes in Portland, Professor DeFell is well known here. He is at present staying at the University club. He declared last night that he intends to remain in this city, but declined to talk of the investigation further than to say that a statement he is preparing and will make public on the return from the east of President Campbell, of the University, will explain his resignation.

"About two weeks ago, on complaint from Eugene, my office began an investigation of the charge that Professor DeFell is a slacker," said United States Attorney Reames last night, "and his case is still under investigation. Yesterday the sheriff of Lane county telephoned me that certain residents of Eugene were demanding the arrest of DeFell, who apparently, was about to leave the city; that he had not registered and that there was a dispute as to his correct age.

Cannot Leave City.

"I immediately communicated with Professor DeFell, who told me he wanted to leave that city. I told him if he undertook to leave the state until the slacker charge had been fully investigated and disposed of, he would be arrested. Accordingly, he accepted my advice and came to the city, reporting at my office. He was permitted to have his liberty on condition that he remain in the city.

"From the investigation my office has made DeFell evidently was born in Rus-

Work on Battalion Standard to Be Done Only by 'U' Women

Only University women will embroider the battalion flag designed by Professor A. H. Schroff, professor of fine arts, for Colonel John Leader's company. The work, which will be in applique and embroidery, will begin on Tuesday, after the return of Roswell Dosch from Portland, where he is selecting materials for the standard.

Although the plan of having every girl in the University take at least one stitch in the flag has been abandoned, it is the hope of Colonel Leader that many women will be represented in the work. For this reason Helene Delano, president of woman's league, has appointed a committee who will secure the services of the girls for the needlework. The members are Gladys Wilkins, chairman, Gladys Conklin, Roberta Scheubel, Elsie Fitzmaurice, Janet Fraser and Katherine Twomey.

Oregon colors will predominate in the standard, which will be of yellow silk, with the University seal in the center and a conventional border of Oregon grape. When completed, with a gold fringe three inches in depth, the flag will be two feet by four feet.

Mrs. Schroff, wife of Professor Schroff, is carving an eagle, which will be gilded and placed at the top of the carrying standard.

"In working out the color scheme," said Professor Schroff, "I have chosen a design which will make the flag a distinctive one when it is flying on our campus. The work must be done well, however, and special care must be taken in transferring the design to the silk. I think the fact that so many girls will help to do the embroidery will add a great deal of character to the color scheme, as no two people do the work in exactly the same way."

MOVING TO NEW DORM DISSOLVES DEXTER CLUB

Plans for Hendricks Hall Organization Tentative; Formal Opening February 1.

With the moving of its members into their new quarters in Hendricks hall next week will come the dissolution of Dexter club, the house organization of the girls making their home in Mary Spiller. Only tentative plans have been made for the organization which is to take its place in the dormitory.

First choice of the suites in Hendricks hall has been given to the girls who have been living in the old building and lots for the order in which they were to select their rooms were drawn by the women last Sunday. Wednesday and Thursday will be devoted to the process of moving. Besides the twenty-one members of Dexter club, more than 25 girls who have heretofore been living out around town will make their home in the new building.

The formal date for the opening has been set for February 1st, but because Mrs. Edna Prescott Datson, the house manager is averse to beginning life there on Friday which is the first and especially because a dinner is a more dignified initial meal than a breakfast, the first served will be dinner Thursday evening, January 31st.

MILITARY ORDERS

General Order No. 12.

By Lt. Col. John Leader, Commandant, U. of O. Battalion.

Permission to members of the battalion who have 2 o'clock classes, to be dismissed from parade at 1:50, is hereby rescinded, to take effect after today's parade. This permission hereafter will be granted only under the following conditions: The member of the battalion will write out and have signed by his professor a dated note, stating explicitly on what days of the week he is required to attend a 2 o'clock class. This letter, when properly signed, will be presented by the member of the battalion to the first sergeant of his company. From these letters the first sergeant will prepare lists of men who are entitled to be dismissed at 1:50 on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Each day at 1:50 the first sergeant will call the names of the men previously listed for that day, and these and no others will be dismissed at that time. First sergeants will file the originals of these letters with the registrar. By order,

E. W. ALLEN,
Acting Captain and Adjutant.

General Order No. 11.

By Lt. Col. John Leader, Commandant, U. of O. Battalion.

Permission to men in either section of the lecture course to substitute attendance with the other section, is hereby rescinded. No further general permission of this nature will be given. Authority to grant special permission in individual cases lies hereafter with the registrar alone, and will be exercised under such limitations and regulations as he may direct. By order,

E. W. ALLEN,
Acting Captain and Adjutant.

Amherst Class Hop Given Up.

Amherst seniors voted unanimously to abandon the annual senior hop this year as an evidence that the class wishes no unnecessary social activities in war times.

MEASLES DOWNS AMBULANCE MEN

Ambulance company 361, composed mostly of University men, is again in measles quarantine, this time for red measles instead of the German variety.

Ethel Loucks, '15, is teaching in Portland.

Wrist Watch VALUE

In buying an automobile the public has confined its choice to well known makes which have stood the test of wear and service. But in the purchase of a wrist watch the price seems to come into the mind of the average purchaser regardless of the value and reliability.

This is the reason so many wrist watches prove worthless to military men at the front and the people at home. In this respect a watch cannot be compared to a piece of machinery. A cheap automobile can run fast or slow and still serve its owner. But a watch, even if it wiggles, might just as well stop if it does not give the correct time.

The movement must be standard and it must be substantially protected by a case and crystal which can be depended upon. We have just such watches in stock and at right prices.
