The battalion will march on the field at 1 o'clock, and will form in a hollow square in the center of the field. The ceremonies will take place inside the square.

The company commanders, Ray Couch, Robert Cosgriff, Charles Comfort, Henry Eickhoff, and with Karl W. Onthank, will receive the standards and take them to their places in the battalion.

The battalion will then pass in review, saluting the colors, as the band plays "The Star Spangled Banner."

GRADS MAY SEND NEWS

To Raise Money to Furnish Emerald for Soldiers.

Will Ask Regents to Help Start Alumni Publication Next Year.

Resolutions regarding the association's relations with the Emerald and the raising of the sum of money with which to send Emeralds to the men in service, were passed at the meeting of the alumni council in Johnson Hall, Saturday.

The council decided to discontinue relation as an association with the Emerald. Letters are to be sent to all members of the association that have paid their dues for the year, explaining why the Emerald has not been sent to them.

An investigation is to be made by the council to determine whether the sum necessary to send the Emerald to the men in France can be raised before further contributions are made, according to a motion passed at the meeting.

In hope of starting an alumni publication next year, Walter C. Winslow and Dean Walker were asked to go before the board of regents, asking for financial assistance, especially in this matter of starting a publication.

Those present at the meeting were Walter C. Winslow, Mrs. Leonard T. Harris, Dean Walker, Mrs. John F. Bovard, Marion McClain, and Karl Onthank.

Settings in Orange, Grey and Night Sky Effect; Lighting Emphasized.

Only one more day to go. The cast and properties for the presentation of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" are ready for the initial performance Thursday night. Dress rehearsals will be tomorrow. Lamar Tooze now Instructor in Sniping at Camp Lewis

Lamar Tooze, Lieutenant in Company L, 364th Infantry, now stationed at Camp Lewis, and former University of Oregon student, in a letter to Dean Eric Allen says that he has been detailed as Battalion Sniping Officer in charge of a selected group of 20 men who are being trained in sharp-shooting, scouting, patrolling and observation.

"These men will become so expert with the rifle that they will be able to hit the Hun every time he sticks his ear above the parapet," writes Lamar.

"The army life is essentially a man's game, and the discipline, the physical vigor, and the mental acuteness which modern training for war promotes, more than compensates for the setback which my law study has suffered," he says.

He speaks of the eagerness on the part of the soldiers to get "over there," he says, "the cause we are all fighting for—within the army and without—has taken on an almost sacred character. The noble way the men and women have responded repudiates emphatically the

HANDBALL MAY BE NEXT FOR DOUGHNUT CIRCUIT

Games to Start Soon if Men Can Find Time for Series, Dean Walker Announces.

Now that the Doughnut league basketball games are over, the next thing on Dean Walker's athletic program is a doughnut handball league. There is some possibility that, owing to the heavy demand on the students' time by the military department, it will not be found possible to hold the handball games, but Walker hopes to be able to find time for them somewhere.

It was originally planned to hold doughnut games throughout the year, following basketball with handball, and later with baseball. The present military program has upset these plans to a certain extent, but if the men think they can find time for a handball league, one will be started and a schedule will be drawn up.

"It is up to the fellows themselves if they want handball," said Walker yesterday. "I will arrange a schedule if there are enough who want to play."

GREEK LETTER HOUSES PLAN STAMP CAMPAIGN

Tiffany Enthusiastic Over Movement to Invest Savings in "Baby Bonds."

Are you a member of the war savings stamp society? If not, you will this week be asked to join, for a vigorous drive is on in Eugene. The heads of the men's and women's fraternities met yesterday in A. R. Tiffany's office and planned a campaign to be carried on in the various houses in connection with other efforts on the campus.

Each house will have a special war savings stamp organization to urge University students to buy the government stamps.

A. R. Tiffany, registrar, says he is enthusiastic in regard to the movement. "These stamps," said he, "might well be called 'baby bonds,' for they are as safe an investment as the government bond." James Sheehy is in charge of the general organization among the students.

The movement is nation-wide, $1,000,000,000 being the United States' quota. The stamps are on sale in the post-offices and banks.

Professor Schroff says her design was exceptionally good, and the work submitted by Miss Dora Spencer was a close second. The award will be made at the next meeting of the class.

"I had hoped by offering this incentive," to stimulate the work of the class a little," said Professor Schroff, "but it seems to have no indications of the desired results."

OREGON FIVE BREAKS TWO YEARS' HOODOO

Washington Basket Tossers Beaten Through Stellar Work of Medley, Forward.

TEAMS WILL PLAY TONIGHT

27 to 20 Score Pulls "U" Team Out of Cellar Position in Conference.

Oregon defeated the University of Washington basketball team in the University gymnasium here last night by the score of 27-20. It was the first game won by an Oregon Varsity team for two years, the first since the day of Tommy Boylen, Lyle Bigbee, Morton, and Sharp.

The game pulls Oregon out of the cellar in the west side division of the northwest conference, and upsets the "dope" of comparative scores, which were slightly in favor of Washington because of their greater scores in the O. A. C. games.

Both Teams Green.

Oregon's green team, not one of whom had ever played in the Varsity before this season, showed a remarkable improvement over the games at the opening of the season. Fowler converted nine out of ten chances from the foul line, shot four baskets, and was a big factor in the Oregon victory. Coach Hayward, however, attributes the great showing made by Oregon over their work of the first few weeks, to "Dot" Medley, forward, who was out of the game early in the year because of an injured foot, and has been going good only during the last few days.

"Oregon plays good ball in spots, but the men get ragged too often," said Coach Hayward after the game. "There is lots of room for improvement. The victory last night was the result of two green teams meeting."

Both teams entered last night's game without a single man of their last year's teams on the floor. The game was slow and rough, with the fight only saving the exhibition from being poor. Oregon led during the entire game after the Varsity pulled away from a 3-3 tie, which was ran up during the first few minutes of play. The first half ended, 13 to 8, for Oregon.

Cook Strengthens Losers' Line

The Washington lineup was practically the same as that which met O. A. C. for a double defeat Friday and Saturday, except that the team was strengthened by the return of Cook, star guard, who made 16 out of 28 points in the Washington-W. S. C. game earlier in the season.

NO SHORT STORIES IN

Edison Marshall Competition Gets No Response.

Mrs. George Rebec, Dr. E. S. Bates and Donor of Prizes Chosen as Judges.

No entries have yet been received for the short-story contest, which closes at the end of this term. Professor W. F. G. Thacher, who has charge of the contest, urges that every writer at the University, whether he be in a short-story class or not, submit a story.

Two prizes of $5 and $10 are offered, respectively, for the best and second best stories; honorable mention will be given for the third.

The tale must be original and written without criticism or assistance, except from what a student may gain in class discussion, should it have been done originally as class assignment. Any type of story will be accepted, the general standards of the better type of American magazines will be used as the basis of comparison.

The judges chosen are Mrs. George Rebec, Dr. Ernest S. Bates, professor of rhetoric and American literature, and Edison Marshall, donor of the prizes for the contest. It is thought that the latter will be on the campus in the ordnance course at the time of the giving of the decision, but in case it should be impossible for Mr. Marshall to be here, another judge will be appointed.
