OREGON WINS AGAIN FROM WASHINGTON

Basketball Game Ends 19-17; Visitors Unable to Convert Enough Fouls.

Fowler Makes 30 Out of 46 Points for U. of O.; Wilson, Too, Shines Brightly.

The University of Oregon basketball shooters, led by Ned Fowler, took the second game of the series from the University of Washington quintet, Tuesday night. The final score was 19 to 17 in favor of the lemon-yellow aggregation. More and better team-work was in evidence in Tuesday's game than in the first contest, and while neither team showed any championship form, they played a more consistent game than on their first meeting. The Oregon team showed in better form than at any time this season on their home floor. The presence of the "Oregon fight" helped the team a great deal when their basketball was a little ragged.

U. of W. Puts up Good Fight. The Washington team put up a good fight, but they lost by fouls. Fowler, who was the high point man for Oregon, was able to convert only 7 out of the 14 fouls called on Coach Hunt's proteges. Of the 11 fouls called on the Oregon team, Cook converted only 5.

The first five minutes of play was scoreless, the time being spent in passing the ball around the floor, and each team seemed to be playing safe and waiting for the other to start something. Oregon went into the lead first on a free throw by Fowler and a basket from Medley. With the score tied, 5 to 5, in the last part of the first half, Oregon again went into the lead, and the period ended with the score being 8 to 5 in favor of Hayward's men.

Lively Tussles Scheduled. In the second half, Oregon started out strong and got a five-point lead when, after less than five minutes of play, the Washington team took time out and spent two minutes in getting their wind. They came back after this and cut the Oregon lead down to one point. In this period the purple and gold representatives showed the best team-work of the evening. Lind and Fowler saved the game for Oregon by getting a basket apiece, while the Washington men were able to get but three points.

Referee George Anderson, who has been officiating in the interscholastic league in Portland, was kept busy warning the players against roughness, as there were several lively tussles over the ball. Murphy, captain-elect of the University of Washington's 1918 football team, who was playing as guard, and Bill Steers came in for several warnings during the course of the evening.

Two Substitutions Made. Coach Bill Hayward made two substitutions during the game, Comfort taking Medley's place early in the second period, and Morrison going in for Comfort later in the game. Charles was sent in in place of Holbrook by Coach Hunt, in the last period.

Fowler and Wilson were the shining lights for the lemon-yellow aggregation, while for Washington, Cook and Murphy starred. Out of a total of 46 points gathered by the Oregon team in the series, Fowler annexed 30 of them.

The lineup: Washington (17) Oregon (19) Ide ..... F. .... Fowler (13) Holbrook (4) ..... F. .... Medley (2) Charles (4) ..... F. Comfort, Morrison Jamieson (2) ..... C. .... Lind (2) Cook (7) ..... G. .... Wilson (2) Murphy ..... G. .... Steers Referee: George Anderson, Portland.

FROSH TO PLAY ROOKS

Game to Be Preliminary to O. A. C.-U. of O. Contest Friday Convert Enough

Only Defeat This Year for Team of '21 Was by Aggie First-Year Men.

Determined to get revenge for the two defeats handed them at Corvallis, the Oregon freshmen team will take on the O. A. C. "rooks" in two preliminary contests to the Varsity games against the Aggies, Friday and Saturday night. The O. A. C. first-year men are the only ones who have donned the frosh this year. Both games were very close, the scores being 24-22 and 26-19.

Dean Walker is not at all satisfied with the way the freshmen are going at present.

"Their work is sloppy, and they will have to show up better than they have the last two nights to hold their own against the 'rooks.' Ever since they played Eugene high, they have gone stale. Last night the second team walked all over them in practice."

Reports from O. A. C. say that the first-year team there has been working overtime in order to keep up their winning streak against Oregon. A few changes in the lineup have been made which, it is said, makes a still stronger combination than the one which played the frosh. A large number of "rooks" are planning on making the trip to support their team.

The Oregon lineup will probably start with the same men who have been working together. Durno and Jacobberger will play forwards, Starr, center, and Chapman and Brandon, guards. Coach Walker has been trying hard to iron out the rough spots in their play, but they still show tendencies to play indifferent ball at times.

The freshmen games will be played before the Varsity contest, and will probably start soon after 7 o'clock.
