LIBRARIANS NEEDED FOR WAR SERVICE

Men and Women With or Without Previous Training Eligible for Some of Work.

Camp Librarians, Organizers of Hospital Branches and Assistants Wanted.

The need for men and women to work in the library war service, is told in a letter received by M. H. Douglass, University librarian, from the library war service of the American Library association.

About 100 men are now in camp library service, and new ones are frequently needed to replace those men whose leaves of absence expire. New stations are also being established. Work for which women are particularly well fitted is the library work which is being developed in the base hospitals.

U. Asked to Help Find Workers.
There are indications, however, the letter states, that before long women can serve in camp libraries—in two camps they are already serving.

The University library is asked to help in finding available persons—those to take charge of camp libraries—those to serve as assistants, and those to develop library service in the base hospitals.

Library boards are releasing librarians for two, three or four months—sometimes for longer—in most cases with full pay, sometimes with half pay, and sometimes other arrangements are made.

Need Not Have Training.
People who have had no previous library training, however, sometimes make able assistants, the letter states, and the people whose names are sent by the library here will be written to by the committee in charge, to find out on what basis they can serve.

Mr. Douglass asks that anyone who wishes to have his name sent in for consideration should see him personally.

Gladys Conklin entertained with a pretty informal tea Thursday afternoon for Hoyle Williams, of Corvallis.

Delos Needham, of Lewiston, Idaho, spent the former part of the week at the Beta Theta Pi house. Mr. Needham is the district president of Beta Theta Pi.

Mrs. A. R. Hunter, of Island City, is the guest of her daughter, Nita Hunter, at the Gamma Phi Beta house.
