OREGON WILL DEBATE
CANADIANS MAR. 15

Kenneth Armstrong and Ralph Holzman to Represent U.
Against British Columbia.

Hugh Brunk and Carlton Savage to Meet Washington in Seattle, Same Time.

The University of Oregon debating team will meet the debating team of British Columbia University, for the first time on the evening of March 15, when the coast league debate between those teams is to be held at Villard hall.

The Oregon team, Kenneth Armstrong and Ralph Holzman, is to have the affirmative. Armstrong, captain, who has represented Oregon in debate before, is effective in delivery, and particularly strong in argument, according to Walter Myers, who has been coaching the team since Professor Prescott left for Camp Lewis.

Holzman, the other member of the team, was a strong debater at Lincoln high school, from which he entered the University last October, and is especially good in delivery, says Mr. Myers.

British Columbia entered the coast league to take the place of Leland Stanford. The members of the British Columbia team are W. J. Couper and A.
W. Webster. The judges for the debate will be H. H. Herdman, Frank H.
Hilton, and Samuel White, all of Portland.

The question for the debate is, "Resolved, That at the close of the present war the nations of the world should establish an international supreme court, to pass upon all international disputes, with an international constabulary to enforce its decisions."

Two other debates are to be held at this time, one between Oregon and Washington, at Seattle, and the other between British Columbia and Washington, at Vancouver, B. C. Oregon will be represented at Seattle by Hugh Brunk, captain, and Carlton Savage.
Walter Myers will accompany these men to Seattle Wednesday. The same question is to be debated in both these places.

TRE NU SORORITY IS GUEST

Mrs. Eric Allen Entertains Business Organization and Guests.

Mrs. Eric Allen entertained the members of Tre Nu, a business sorority, and their guests at her Alder street home Sunday afternoon. A short business meeting was held, at which time a nominating committee, consisting of Mae Murray, chairman, Ella Rawlings, and Sadie Hunter, was appointed to choose a list of officers for the following year, who will be elected at the next regular meeting on April 14, at which time Mrs. Albert R. Sweetser has invited the club to meet with her. Mrs.
Allen and Miss Mary Watson gave short talks on, "The Responsibility of the Business Girl." Refreshments were then served.

Besides the members of Tre Nu, the following guests were present: Harriett Garrett, Eileen Tomkins, Beatrice Thurston, Elizabeth Giney, Florida Hill, and Erma Huff.

There will be a special meeting for the members of Tre Nu Friday afternoon at 5, at the Bungalow.

PROFESSORS TO DO BIT

James Gilbert and Peter Crockett Will Go Into Harvest Fields.

The lure of the harvest field now holds Dr. James Gilbert and Professor Peter C. Crockett in its grip, and when the spring term of school is finished, they plan to make tracks for Washington to do their bit.

Professor Crockett boasts five summers of experience in the harvest business, but, although Dr. Gilbert was raised on a farm, he has yet to be initiated into the proper use of a combine.

I. W. W.'s add to the aspect, and the professors consider the opportunity unusually good to get first-hand information on the present economic situation, while they help Uncle Sammy gather in his grain to keep the soldier boys from starving.

MANY WINNERS FOR U.
IN ORATORICAL CONTESTS

From 1908 to Present Oregon Students Have Brought Home Victories From State Meets.

Oregon sustained a long succession of victories for either first or second place in state oratorical contests when Abraham Rosenberg carried off the medal for first place in the contest held last Saturday at Salem.

As far back as 1908, Oregon's victories were in progress, although there are two years, 1909 and 1910, during which Walter Myers cannot remember the victor.

The record is as follows: 1908, Bert Prescott, first place; 1911, David Pickett, first place; 1912, James Donald, second place; 1913, Howard Zimmerman, second place; 1914, Carlton Spencer, first place; 1915, Victor Morris, first place; 1916, Walter Myers, first place; 1917, Earl Fleischman, second place; 1918, Abraham Rosenberg, first place.

Victory in two peace contests held in the years 1915 and 1914, are also on Oregon's record. In 1915, Peter C.
Crockett won second place, and was awarded a $50 prize. In 1914, Victor Morris represented the University in the peace contest, and was awarded $75 and the first prize. Afterward he was the Pacific coast representative at a national contest, held in New York, where he won one of the awards.

begin coming in some time in the summer, by which time arrangements will be made to handle them. The time each man will stay in the University will depend upon his course. Some of the classes may complete their work in six weeks, where others will take six months. It is planned, however, to accommodate approximately 1000 men at all times so long as the demand exists.

MEN AT MONTANA LEARN TO KNIT

Dean of Women Aids Would-be Workers, and a Quilt is Being Made.

The men at the University of Montana are beginning to knit, says the Kaimen. Two came into a dining room at noon with mysterious paper sacks.
When asked if they were intending to carry away some of the food, they said:
"No, these are our knitting bags."
"Have you your knitting 'set up' yet?" asked the dean of women.

"No," they replied, "but would you help us, please?"
Mrs. Wilson, the dean, gladly complied with their request, and the men are now making six-inch squares for a Red Cross quilt.
