

STUDENTS BUY WAR STAMPS

$321.97 Taken by One Day's Sale on Campus of University of Washington.

The students of the University of Washington have again showed their patriotism, this time to the extent of $321.97, the total receipts taken in yesterday on the campus from the sale of war savings and thrift stamps, says the Washington Daily. This was an increase of $38.97 over sales of the previous week.

The sum of $45, the largest contributed by any one building, was obtained from engineering hall, of which the Delta Zeta sorority had charge. Miss Helen Van Dorea, selling on the commons, had the largest individual sale, $40.17.

COSTUMING QUANT IN "DOMBEY & SON"

Students in Charge Do Constructive Work; Hoop-Skirts and Bustles Will Feature.

Original Stage Settings Used; Play Is Full of Human Interest Element.

Hoop-skirts and bustles will feature in the production of "Dombey and Son" at Guild Hall Thursday and Friday nights. The picturesque styles that prevailed in Dickens' time have been carefully studied by Evelyn Smith and her assistants, in charge of the costuming, and will be accurately reproduced in the play. Those were the days when men's trousers were even tighter than fashion at present dictates. Also, that was before a certain famous actor set the fashion of pressing trousers with a crease. Professor Reddie, the director of the play, says the students are not merely going over costumes used in other productions, but are doing some genuinely constructive work in the costuming line.

"Dombey and Son" will require four sets of scenery, which are being made especially for this piece. In the several plays that have been produced by the classes in dramatic interpretation this year, no setting has been repeated. Each play has had its settings made especially for it, and used but for that play.

The dramatization of Dickens' novel, which is being used, is the old professional one, with slight alterations here and there by Mr. Reddie. This is probably the biggest production of the year, and has an all-star cast. Rosamund Shaw, who has appeared in a number of campus plays with great success, does the eccentric characterization in the role of Mrs. Skewton. Norvell Thompson, as Toots, has the comedy. Helen Anderson, in a red wig and redder nose, will appear as Mrs. MacStingle. Playing opposite her will be Morris Bocock, as Jack Bunshy. The heavy parts will be carried by Ethel Newland, in the role of Edith Granger, and Bob Cosgriff, playing Paul Dombey, Senior.

The play is full of the "human interest" element, and Dorothy Robertson, manager of Guild hall, expects good crowds. The ticket sale opened today.

Y. M. NOMINATING GROUP ANNOUNCES CANDIDATES

Harold White and Merritt Whitten Up for President. Election March 18.

The committee which met last Thursday for the nomination of officers for the Young Men's Christian Association, made the following announcement of nominees yesterday. President, Merritt Whitten and Harold White; vice president, Lindsay McArthur and Paul Scott; recording secretary, Richard Avison and Warren Gilbert; financial secretary, Richard Thompson and Elmo Madden. The members of the nominating committee were Walter Myers, William Haseltine, Harry Crain, Glen Stanton, and Irwin Hartley.

The election will be held Monday, March 18, from 10 a. m. until 1 p. m., under the tree in front of Deady, if the weather permit. If not, it will be held in the Y. M. C. A. office.

The committee that was appointed to either draft a new constitution or to revise the old one, found that the old one was obsolete in many respects and any revision would only make a patch work of it. A new constitution was drafted, which contains many of the points in the one previously used, but yet is practically a new constitution. It has nine articles and six by-laws. The authors were Walter Myers and Kenneth Lancefield.

There are two copies of the new constitution on the library bulletin boards and one in the Y. M. C. A. office. It is desired that the members give the constitution careful consideration, so that they may be able to vote intelligently on it at the election.

MYERS WILL MANAGE DEBATE TEAM ON TRIP

Executive Committee Names Goreczky to Replace Dundore; Band Trip Not Feasible.

Walter Myers was elected manager of the Oregon debate team at a meeting of the University executive committee Monday night, and was appointed to accompany the two members of the team, Hugh Brunk and Carlton Savage, to Seattle next Thursday for the Oregon-Washington debate.

Anthony Goreczky was chosen to fill a vacancy on the committee left by Charles Dundore, who recently left for the aviation training school at Berkeley.

The committee decided that the proposed trip of the men's band to eastern Oregon would call for an expenditure of $761 for expenses, which they deemed too large an amount for the finances of the student body. The band was advised to take the matter up with the University.

It was decided that the student body and Co-op store books should be audited in May, by the regular auditors of the University books.
