

WAR WORK TRAINING TO BE GIVEN WOMEN

Instruction May Be Offered in Wide Range of Subjects to Start With New Term.

Hope to Arrange With Hospitals for Acceptance of Credits.

In response to the eagerness shown by the University co-eds to be of service during the war, faculty women have been making an investigation of the immediate needs for the service of women, in order that courses might be arranged at the University to prepare the girls.

Through communication with the national commission of information, division of war work for women, it was found that preparation in the following was needed most: Nursing, reconstruction aids, drafting, including mechanical drawing and ship designing, advertising, in the publicity department in war service, chemist's training for munition and drug laboratory workers, pathologists, and teachers of commercial subjects, science and physical education.

Emergency Work Next Term.

In order that the war emergency training might begin at once, the faculty women have arranged with the different departments for courses to be offered for the third terms. Courses that will be offered to shorten the nurses' hospital training are four hours in bacteriology, a beginning five-hour chemistry course, advanced physiology, personal hygiene, and elementary work in food preparation. As preparatory to reconstruction work a four-hour course in mechanism of remedial exercise, and the course in advanced physiology are offered. The commerce department offers a three-hour accounting course, and it is expected that arrangements can be made with the architectural department for a preliminary course in drafting. It is also thought that the school of journalism will have some course to offer, although no arrangements have been made. These courses are planned for the upper class girls, who will soon leave college, those in the lower division are advised to keep on with the work they have planned for this year. However, the war service courses may be substituted in the place of courses that are completed the second term.

Nurses to Get Credit Here.

In a telegram recently received by Miss Mabel Cummings, director of the woman's gymnasium, from the Presbyterian hospital in Chicago, it was stated that University credits in chemistry, bacteriology, and physiology would be accepted as part of a nurse's hospital training, thereby shortening the usual four years of apprenticeship. Miss Cummings is of the opinion that this arrangement can also be made with other hospitals, making it possible for part of the nurses' training work to be taken at the University.

Although war emergency training for women is rather a new thing in the west, the eastern colleges have been doing extensive work along these lines for some time. The three kinds of service that they are training for are work in the home communities during the summer, army hospital work, including nursing, reconstruction work and dietetics, and vocational substitutes.

OREGANA PAYMENT DUE

First Installment Should Be Made Before Vacation.

Juniors Need Money and Annual Year Book Will Cost More After Publication.

How are you going to feel when the best Oregana ever published by a junior class comes from the press all fresh and new, and you haven't a little ticket marked paid? How are you going to feel when you put your hand into your old worn-out purse and pay three great round cart wheels for the same book that your roommate got for two and a half?

How will you feel during junior weekend when you haven't the book of the hour to show your guest? How will it seem to sit across the room and hear it said that it seems as though you would have bought a book if only for the pictures of all the men in the service?

Plan for the future. Subscribe for the Oregana now. Don't just promise to pay. Dwight Wilson spoke more truth than poetry when he said that you can't feed the baby on promises. Think about how much money you are going to have when you pay your registration fees after vacation. Think about how much you are going to want and need that book.

At present almost 400 people have promised to pay for an Oregana, but only eight people have actually made a deposit. Is your name on this honor roll?

Think twice and then act quickly. Pay your money before you go home for vacation. See Lillian Hausler, Helen McDonald, Lillie Miller, Clarence Moffitt, or Rufus Eckerson. They are having a contest that you ought to be in. One of them is going to win a ten dollar bill off of this Oregana, and you are going to feel as though you had lost one if you don't speed up and subscribe now.

NEW COURSE GIVEN BY DOUGLASS

Class in Library Methods for Teachers is Offered.

A three-hour course in library methods for teachers and students is offered by M. H. Douglass, University librarian, for next term. A limited number of students will be admitted for instruction.

The purpose of the course is to train the prospective teacher in the use and methods of handling the library, and such training will be of aid to the student in securing a teaching position, according to Mr. Douglass.

Practical practice work will be done in the library of the University high school. The course will be given at 1 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Y. W. C. A. INSTALLS CABINET MEMBERS

Formal Candle Service Used for New Officers; Mrs. William Moll Case Talks.

Reports Given by Retiring Heads of Committees on Year's Work.

With the formal candle service, the new cabinet members of the Y. W. C. A. were installed at the meeting held in the Bungalow yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Those elected to the cabinet were: Membership, Helen Hall; association news, Helen Brenton; employment, Eileen Tompkins; Bungalow, Helen Whitaker; social service, Bernice Spencer; conference, Florence Hemenway; publicity, Beatrice Thurston; social, Mellie Parker; missions, Mary Murdoch; Bible study, Dorothy Flegal; religious meetings, Joy Judkins; finance, Ethel Waite.

Mrs. William Case gave a talk, impressing the new cabinet with the responsibility of their work and position in the Y. W. C. A.

Officers as Representatives.

"People will look to you as the representatives of the Y. W. C. A.," she said, "and will read the gospel according to you more than the gospel according to Mark, Luke or John. They will read the gospel according to you as you walk around and mingle with the people on the campus, and we want them to be helped as they read it."

Reports were given by the different retiring cabinet members. Essie Maguire told how the membership committee had met trains and helped girls find places to stay, and had written to some girls who were coming to college, urging them to affiliate with the Y. W. C. A.

According to a report given by Dorothy Collier, chairman, the Bungalow committee put in ten cords of wood in the fall and 16 girls came and gave the Bungalow a thorough cleaning last Saturday.

21,560 Compresses Made.

Ruth Westfall, on the social service committee, reported that the girls had aided the work of the Eugene high school Y. W. C. A. association, as much as possible by giving advice, while their work on the campus had consisted mostly in knitting or the making of surgical dressings. The Red Cross auxiliary was stated to have 275 members, who have turned out 21,560 compresses since the work was established on the campus.

The practical service committee, with Lillian Hausler at its head, reported that $2950 worth of work has been secured through the Y. W. C. A. She said 15 per cent of the University girls are working their way through college. She spoke also of the work and purpose of Tre Nu, a business club for girls.

Dean Fox Reads Letter.

Helen Wells reported that $1194.29 was received or raised by the association for the year, and that the disbursements were $1190.09.

Dean Elizabeth Fox read portions from a letter, giving the girls an idea of the work which she expects to do in France.

EQUIPPING ORDNANCE MEN DELAYS COURSE

on the campus in uniform. Blackaby comes from Ontario, and is a brother of La Rue Blackaby, a senior; Young comes from Pendleton, where he has been living since leaving the University, and Fields comes from Salem, where he has been studying law for the past two years.

Last Year's Student Back.

Ernest Nail, of Klamath Falls, and Clarence Potter, of Baker, are among the students of last year who are back on the campus to take the course.

The class now gathering here for the work in ordnance comes from Washington points, five from Montana, and several from California. The course being offered here is one of the 12 in universities of the United States.

HAYWARD'S ONE TRACK LETTER MAN LEAVING

"Tony" Goreczky Will Begin Work in Shipyard; Wanted to Take Ordnance Course.

Oscar Goreczky, Bill Hayward's mainstay for track this year, and the only letter man on the team, will leave school within the next two weeks to go to work in a shipyard. Thus Oregon's outlook for the coming track meet will be still more dubious.

From the University, Goreczky will go directly to his home in Boise, Idaho, to visit his parents before beginning work. He failed to pass the eye test for the ordnance work and is taking up the work in the shipyard as an alternative.

"Tony" has been one of Oregon's best track men during his University career. During his freshman year poor health prevented his doing his best, but two years ago he won in the century against O. A. C. and came in second in the 220.

SHOCKLEY TO BE DIRECTOR

Will Have Full Charge of Athletic Training of Men at Fort Stevens.

Ed Shockley this noon received word from Fort Stevens that he is accepted as athletic director for the troops stationed there. His name has been under consideration for the last week, but it was not known definitely that he would be accepted until today.

Shockley goes with the understanding that he is given full charge of the physical training of all the men at the fort. He will leave as soon as he can arrange his affairs.

Shockley is glad of the chance he will have of resuming his athletic work. Up to the time he came to Eugene to prepare the wrestling team for the Washington and O. A. C. meets, he had been engaged in the automobile business at Wasco, and had very little chance to keep in physical exercise.

VACATION TALKS PLANNED

Students to Tell High School Pupils About University.

Further publicity work for the University was dismissed at a meeting of the Greater Oregon committee this afternoon. Members of the committee are to appear before the different high schools of the state during the coming vacation, to encourage students to attend the University. Bulletins were distributed at the meeting to aid in his work.

ARTS SUBJECTS OFFERED

Professor Dosch to Vary Appreciation Course; Hours Not Arranged.

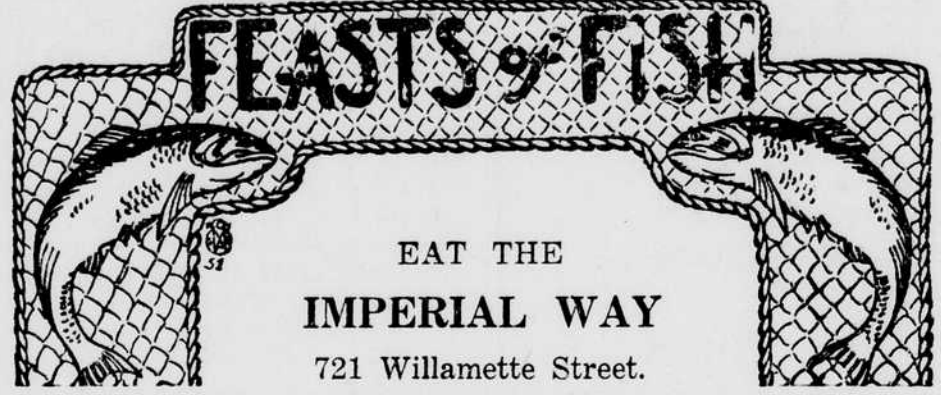

Entirely new subjects will be taken up next term in the art appreciation course, offered during the year by Professor Roswell Dosch. Illustrative art, Japanese prints, cartooning, posters, and commercial advertising will comprise the new topics of study.

"We will take up commercial advertising," said Professor Dosch, "from the artistic point of view." The hours have not yet been arranged.

NEW COURSE OFFERED IN DESIGN

Work in Elementary Architecture Intended for Beginners.

A one-hour course in elementary architectural design will be offered next semester by Dean E. F. Lawrence, Professor Frederick Fritsch, and Professor P. P. Adams. The course is intended especially for freshman and beginners in architectural work. The hours will be arranged later.
