ORCHESTRA CONCERT WARMLY RECEIVED

Classic Program Goes Smoothly and With Finish; Proving War Has Not Taken All of Talent.

Faguy-Cote Sings Baritone Solo; Miss Forbes Gives Violin Selection.

A large audience in Villard hall last night received with enthusiasm the sixth annual concert of the orchestra, Miss Winifred Forbes director. Assisting as soloist was Mr. Arthur Faguy-Cote, baritone.

A balanced program of classical numbers was given with a smoothness and finish that delighted the hearers. The versatility of the organization was demonstrated by the equal facility with which it handled the heavier productions, such as the Jupiter Symphony, by Mozart, and piquant, sparkling numbers like "Fairy Tales," by Komzack.

Unexpected Finish Shown.

The polish demonstrated in handling the variety of productions was a tribute to the work of Miss Forbes and her musicians, who started the year under rather discouraging circumstances, with the organization apparently almost disrupted by losses through graduation and enlistment. The work of the players last night left little to be desired in smoothness.

For good measure Miss Forbes threw in the "Colonel Leader March," a new production with a martial swing, written by Albert Perfect, leader of the University band. This snappy military piece was received with warmth.

Miss Forbes was as happy as usual in her solo work. Her rendition of the "Caprice Viennoise," by Kreisler, brought an encore, "The Maiden's Wish," by Chopin, which was delightfully done, and so well received that she repeated it.

Faguy-Cote Pleases.

Mr. Faguy-Cote won his audience by his vocal achievement in Massenet's Vision Fugitive, from "Herodiade." His wide, easy range, and his perfect enunciation won for him two enthusiastic encores.

Following is the program of the evening: Jupiter Symphony.....Mozart Allegro Vivace.....Godard Valse Suite.....Brahms.....Schubert Orchestra.

Caprice Viennoise.....Kreisler Winifred Forbes.

Adagio Pathetique.....Godard Valse Suite.....Brahms Orchestra.

Vision Fugitive, from "Herodiade".....Massenet Arthur Faguy-Cote.

153 PLAY BASKETBALL

Half of Men on Campus Took Part in Sport.

Coach Walker's 1918 Records Show Result of Intra-Mural Plan.

One hundred and fifty-three University men, approximately half the men on the campus, turned out for basketball this year, according to a statement made today by Coach Dean H. Walker.

There were 20 basketball teams on the campus during the year, 10 doughnut league teams, 4 interclass teams, 4 intercompany teams, and the Varsity and the freshman fives. For each team in the doughnut league there were at least seven men out, giving a total of 70 men. The interclass and intercompany teams each had about the same number of men as did the teams of the doughnut league, which gives 56 men in this branch. The Varsity had on an average 12 men out, and the freshmen had 15, making 27 more.

As to the number of games played, Walker's adding machine has again been put into play, and a grand total of 110 has been recorded. Ninety-nine of these were played on the home floor. The two divisions of the doughnut league each played 20 practice and a like number of regular games, giving them a total of 80 games, and with the three championship contests the total is raised to 83 in this department. Three games were played in both the interclass league and the intercompany league, giving six more to be recorded. The Varsity tucked away 11 contests and the freshmen gathered 10, which does not include the dozen or so played with the Eugene high school.

Walker says he is pleased with the success of the plan started last fall, which provides that every man in college be out for some athletic activity. Last fall Walker prepared a schedule of intramural athletics, planning to follow one sport with another, and to get every one interested in some branch of athletics. Owing to the inroads made upon the students' time by the military department, the schedule was curtailed to a certain extent, but according to figures prepared by Walker, his plan met with great success, regardless of the military department.

He intends to continue the intramural plan this spring in baseball and track, and there is a probability that tennis will also be included.

CO-ED TENNIS MATCH TO COME OFF SOON

Ella Dews and Frances Stiles.

Owing to the necessity for playing the championship tournament off immediately, the doubles doughnut tournament will be relegated to the background. Eleven games must be played before Wednesday, and six more before the following Monday. The cement court will be reserved for the tournament players from 1 to 3 every afternoon, and from 6:30 to 7:30 for two weeks. This will give every one ample time to play off their games, and any left over will be defaulted by both players, or only one, according to the agreement between them.

Answers to challenges sent out were received and voted on. The game with O. A. C. will probably be played on junior week-end, and the game with Willamette will be the first of the series, on May 2, and the return game later in the month. Multnomah and Irvington will be the last on the list, and come off about the first of June. A challenge was sent to Reed College, but they were unable to accept.

Notices of the tournament and a list of the players will be posted in the women's gymnasium, in the library, and on the tennis court. Scores will be marked up in the gymnasium and on the tennis court, as soon as the games are played.

Official Referee Necessary.

To make the game official, it is necessary to have a referee. Any member of the tennis club or gymnasium faculty will be considered as filling this post, and the scores will be official. Two sets out of three make a decisive game.

Following is a list of the players, as they will play for the University team: Adrienne Epping against Frances Stiles, Gladys Smith against H. B. Maurice, Thelma Stanton against Claire Gazley, Marjorie Kay against Helen Hair, Frances Baker against Victoria Case, Vivian Chandler against Madeline Slotboom, Caroline Alexander against Ella Dews, Mildred Riddle against Helen Brenton, Marjorie Campbell against Edythe Bracht, Theodora Stoppenbach against Ethel Newland, Maude Lombard against Edna Grey.

3750 BOOKS COLLECTED FOR SOLDIERS IN DRIVE

Volumes Contributed by Town People Surprisingly Good Says Librarian Douglass.

With the first onrush of the book drive for soldiers past, M. H. Douglass, librarian, found that 3750 books had been donated; 2098 of them came from Eugene and of these the city schools collected 2032. The library force spent April vacation sorting and boxing the books ready for shipment. None has been shipped yet because shipping orders have not arrived.

"After the first shipment is made," Mr. Douglass said, "we hope to label the books and put pockets in them. For this, volunteer work from the students for an extra hour or so will be very acceptable. We hope to have enough books to send a shipment once every month."

The books, largely contributed by the townspeople in this drive, proved to be of a surprisingly good quality, Mr. Douglass said. There are numerous volumes of standard poetry, Shakespeare, biography, novels, and some scientific works. He suggests that students and others buy books which they want to read and when they have finished them, turn them over to be sent to the soldiers. Books on the war are especially desired.

ELEVEN SEEK MARSHALL PRIZE

Short Stories Now in Hands of Judges for Decision.

Eleven stories were handed in for the Edison Marshall short story contest, which closed at the end of the second term. The judges, Dr. E. S. Bates, professor of rhetoric and American literature; Mrs. Mable H. Parsons, professor of rhetoric; and Mrs. George Rebec, have not yet made the decision as to the prize-winning stories. It will probably be two or three weeks before the final decision is made.

COL. LEADER AT HEADS PARADE

With University Band He Assists Junction City in Celebration.

Colonel John Leader and members of the University band embarked in automobiles at the chamber of commerce at 1 o'clock this afternoon for a trip to Junction City, where they were scheduled to lead the Third Liberty Loan parade. Colonel Leader was to ride horseback in front of the marchers.
