

NEW DEAN FAVORS WOMAN'S BUILDING

Miss Ehrmann Says She Will Carry Out Miss Fox's Plans For Work.

Delighted With Campus and View From Her Office Window.

Miss Louise Ehrmann, acting dean of women of the University, in the absence of Dean Fox in France, and who arrived in Eugene last Sunday night from Los Angeles to take up her new work in the University, declares herself to be heart and soul in sympathy with every effort to obtain a woman's building.

"I believe in the concentration of all efforts toward a woman's building for the University of Oregon," Miss Ehrmann declared. She also says she will try to carry out Miss Fox's work.

Miss Ehrmann graduated from the University of California in 1904, and was a college friend there of Mrs. George Gerlinger. Miss Ehrmann was for several years a teacher of English in the Polytechnic high school of Los Angeles, her home town. While there she was an active member of the University Women's club. Her work and interests have been largely centered in women.

Wrote Pageant of Women.

Miss Ehrmann is the writer of several plays and pageants which have been produced by California women's clubs. She has written a play of three episodes, the name of which is "Samaritans." A pageant, which is her contribution to Red Cross, is called the "Pageant of American Women," and has been given several times in the interest of Red Cross. Miss Ehrmann offers it to any organization which will pledge the proceeds to the Red Cross.

Miss Ehrmann's first days on the campus have been busy ones, keeping her in her office chair most of the daylight hours, but she declares that she is delighted with the campus as far as she has seen it, and considers the view of the hills from her back office window a delightful, restful scene, though she will not concede that it surpasses scenes of southern California. She is pleased especially with the democratic spirit she has met on the campus.

NEARLY 100 RECEIVE TWO-THIRDS S OR H

Registrar's Records Show Grace Young in Lead With Seventeen Hours Honor Grade.

Katherine Twomey Second and Nancy Fields Third in List.

Nearly 100 students on the campus received two thirds S or H grades for the second term, according to a list of gradings just compiled at the registrar's office. The requisite which has kept many others off this list is that no card shall hold any grade below M.

Probably a record which surpasses any sent in for some time is that of Grace Young, who tucked 17 hours H away without making a bit of noise about it; Katherine Twomey comes second in the constellation of stars, with 11 hours H and 7 hours S—and that has been an almost consistent performance since her registration in college two years ago; third place is held by Nancy Fields, with 17 hours S.

2,000,000 ENGLISH WOMEN IN WAR, SAYS MRS. LEADER

Work for American Sisters, in Reconstruction, Cookery, Red Cross, Moulding Opinion Described to Y. W. C. A.

Women in England are doing everything except fight, and they would be willing to do that if they were called upon, according to Mrs. John Leader, who spoke on the subject, "What the Women Are Doing in England," at a meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday at 4 o'clock, in the Bungalow.

"There are 2,000,000 women in England who are doing special service, and the war couldn't progress without them," declared Mrs. Leader. She told of the voluntary aid detachment which was formed before the war began, and which proved England's only means of caring for the first men who were wounded in the fight. These women had prepared themselves to do nursing and first aid work, and this is the service which Mrs. Leader stressed as being the very most important. "On an off day 40,000 men are brought in wounded, and if it were not for the aids who help the poor, wretchedly trained nurses, the work could never be carried on."

Massage and reconstruction of the bodies of the wounded men, Mrs. Leader declared essential, and many women are needed for this work because they give so greatly of their own vitality that they must be replaced often.

Other things that Mrs. Leader pronounced necessary for every patriotic American woman to do are writing letters to the men who have gone, sending books and snapshots, and influencing public opinion at home.

She told of the way the French soldiers had left when their pay had been raised 15 cents a day. They felt that the government thought them mercenary. But in our own country, our men are striking for 50 cents more a day, while our men at the front are only getting $1.50 a day. The strikers are not only tying up shipping and traffic and commerce, but "are killing their brothers at the front just as much as if they were to stick a knife in their own backs," said Mrs. Leader.

"All it requires to be of real service is common sense and brains, and the American women possess these in great abundance, so when the time comes you will get there all right," said Mrs. Leader. She is an admirer of the American girl because she can cook, and told of her first experience in her own kitchen, when it took her two hours to get the meal. "I cooked and cooked for two hours," she said, "and nothing happened, and we were compelled to eat a supper of bread and jam. It was because I was trying to cook eggs on the heater. I didn't know what the range was for. She explained that most Englishwomen, though they have rallied so well now, were at the start of the war in just about this same state.

Mrs. Leader quoted Colonel Leader as saying, "When the great United States gets really in it, there'll be a blamed lot for the girls to do."

The meeting yesterday was the first of this cabinet year. Mrs. Minnie Johnson sang, and tea was served at 5 o'clock.

ELMS PLANTED ALONG LENGTH OF KINCAID

Sigma Nus and Betas Interested in Setting Out; Prof. De Cou Heads Committee.

Beautification of Eugene, and the University campus region in particular, took a further step today when, through the park commission, more than 30 young elm trees, eight to ten feet high, were set out at intervals of 35 feet along the east side of Kincaid street, from the mill race to Phi Delta Theta house, south of Thirteenth avenue east. Co-operating with the park commission in this work are Professor E. E. De Cou, of the University faculty, Dean Sanderson, and Rev. E. R. Moon, of the Bible University.

Some of the property in front of which the trees were planted today is owned by Sigma Nu and Beta Theta Pi fraternities. The members of these fraternities are interested in getting this row of elms planted. The trees, which are of the American variety of elms, were brought here from Portland nurseries by the park commission.

It is the hope of Professor De Cou and the others interested, to have a
