AN APPEAL TO THE FRESHMEN.

Yesterday afternoon Coach Hayward issued an appeal to the men of the freshman class for a larger turnout for the freshman track squad. Today and tomorrow he is looking for results—he is going to look for thirty men out there on Kincaid field training for the meet with the Aggie "rooks" a week from Saturday. He is not asking for men of experience alone. He wants everybody. "Give me the men and I will make the team," he says.

What could be more fair?

To defeat the Aggies Coach Hayward is going to stay right here on the ground until after the meet, giving his personal attention to the training of the men. He is doing this in direct defiance to the orders of his physician and, in his present condition, is doing a serious injury to his own health. But he thinks the chance is worth taking if Oregon's track glory can be upheld.

"If the freshmen will turn out and show that they have got the right stuff in them—turn out every night and train—then I'll stay right here on the job," Coach Hayward said last night. "But I am not going to take chances of ruining my own health if the freshmen are not willing to do their part. I am not looking for men for any particular event—that will come later. All I want is men and plenty of them. I don't care whether a man has ever done any track work or not, I want him."

All of which makes it look very much as if the winning of the meet with the Aggies depends upon the freshmen and the freshmen alone. For the time being the Oregon Fight is in their keeping and they never had a better chance to show what they can do with it.

JUNIOR WEEK-END AND YOU.

Get behind and push. This week-end the University is to be on trial with close to three hundred high school students as the judges. Upon the University and its students rests the burden of proof—proof that Oregon is the place for them, a conviction that is born of confidence in our institution and its work. The task we face is that of instilling into them the spirit that has made and is making Oregon worth fighting for.

Too often the students look upon Junior Week-end as a period of complete irresponsibility on their part. Without question the greater part of them reason that management of the various events and the entertainment of the guests is the work of the various committees and the only responsibility resting upon them is that of enjoying themselves. Such a spirit will do far more to defeat than to further the purpose of the week-end.

Junior Week-end is not a vacation period for the students. It is a time for work and an opportunity for all to work for the University. Co-operation is the one thing which can assure a successful Junior Week-end and a successful Junior Week-end is vital to the growth and prosperity of the University and the student body at this time. You are responsible for the proper personal introduction of our visitors to the University and its opportunities. Don't fall down on the job.

nounced for a few days. The fact that the quota has been asked practically confirms the appointment of Kanzler as head of the battalion under the Chamberlain bill, passed Saturday making a man of one year's training eligible as an R. O. T. C. head.

As soon as the Chamberlain bill passed, President Campbell wired the news from Washington and asked that a good man be found and his name sent in for assignment to Oregon. The message received here was forwarded to Colonel Leader by telephone at Portland. Colonel Leader had become acquainted with Kanzler, who was home from Camp Lewis on a leave of absence, and called him out of bed, finally succeeding in convincing him of the greater work he could do here.

Men To Be Selected By R. O. T. C. Rules.

Captain Kanzler's name was wired in by Colonel Leader that night. Yesterday, apparently as a result of that message of recommendation, the Oregon quota was assigned for the next officers' training camp, the men to be selected by R. O. T. C. rules.

An R. O. T. C. here will mean rifles, ammunition, sabers for the officers, and other drill equipment. It also means that a government allowance will be given toward buying uniforms, and the upperclassmen will get $9 per month which is to theoretically pay board. It is believed also that an R. O. T. C. will make the proposed summer camp sure.

The effect the R. O. T. C. will have on the men in the draft is not certain. It is believed that they will be called and sent back to continue their training at the University. This, however, can be definitely learned in plenty of time as Oregon has furnished her quota and no more men will be called for this month.

Fine Opening For Officers Is Belief.

"With 20 men called this time, probably even more to go next September, and the proposed three million of new about 16 times the present demand for officers, I believe that every man in the battalion should be an officer if he pays attention to the work offered here," said Major Allen, of the University battalion today in discussing the new Oregon quota for the training camp.

"The demand for educated men to go as officers will be tremendous in a short time if the new proposed draft goes through. It will mean many times the present army which has used up the West Point, and National guard officers already as well as the recent training camp graduates."

OREGON FROSH LOSE FIRST GAME TO ROOKS

O. A. C. Freshmen Score 7 to 5 in Baseball Contest; Hurling by Miller Saves Day for Aggies.

Gamble and Young Shine, and Jacobberger Checks Foe Except in Sixth.

The Oregon freshmen lost a fast game to O. A. C. rooks at Corvallis Saturday, the score being 7 to 5. Jacobberger twirling for the Oregon first-year men pitched a good game and had it not been for poor support in the sixth inning he would, in all probability, have won the game. Miller, who pitched for the rooks, is an exceptionally good pitcher, having a drop ball that stood the frosh on their heads.

The Aggie "babes" took the lead at the start, getting one run in each of the second and third frames. Oregon tied the score in the first half of the sixth when they scored their second run. In the last half of the sixth, the fireworks started and when the dust of the battle cleared the O. A. C. "2lers were five runs to the good, which unlike the Varsity battles, was enough to win the game. The rooks got their counters on six hits and a couple of errors by Durno and Moore. Jacobberger held the rooks safe from this on but the drop ball of Miller proved to be the royal jinks for the freshmen sluggers.

Oregon scored one in the eighth inning without getting a hit. Leslie walked, stole second, went to third on Moores out, and scored when Stewart let the ball get away from him.
