- Manager of the Oregona—Curtiss Peterson.

Dwight Wilson was chosen president of the student body for next year, over Charles Comfort yesterday in one of the closest elections ever held on the campus. Wilson and Comfort ran pretty nearly even during the count up to the last 100 votes when Wilson increased his lead rapidly and finished with a majority of 59. The totals were 300 to 241.

Douglas Mullarky was elected editor of the Emerald by a majority of 105 over Dorothy Duniway. These two candidates also ran neck and neck up to the finish when Mullarky pulled ahead. Ella Dews

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATERS WILL BEGIN AT 7:30

Time of State Contest Tonight Is Changed from 9 o'clock, When Canoe Fete Set Ahead.

The Marshfield and Salem high school debaters who are contesting for the state championship, will meet tonight in Guild hall at 7:30 o'clock instead of at 9 o'clock, as was formerly announced. The reason for this is that the canoe fete which was to take place at 9 o'clock has been postponed until 9:30, and will thus give the students a chance to attend both events.

Those debating on the Marshfield team taking the affirmative are Albert Powers and Thelma Lyons. The Salem team is composed of Dewey Krobst and Phillips Elliot.

The subject up for debate differs just slightly from that used by the Varsity team. It is, "Resolved, That at the close of the war the United States should join a league of nations, with police power to enforce the decrees of its international court."

The winner of the debate tonight will be awarded the University of Oregon cup, given to the victors in the state high school league. For the last six years it has not gone twice to any high school. In 1911-12 it was won by the Albany high school team; in 1912-13 by North Bend; 1913-14 by Pendleton; 1914-15 by Salem; 1915-16 by Cooks county high school at Prineville, and last year the cup was won by the Joseph high school.

Dr. Joseph Schafer, Dr. Henry D. Sheldon, and Professor E. E. DeCon have been asked to serve as judges for the evening.

ALL IN READINESS FOR UNIVERSITY LUNCHEON

If Weather Man Takes Better Attitude Tables Will Be Outdoors; Otherwise in Gym.

The Junior Week-end campus luncheon will be served Friday at 12 o'clock sharp, and if the weather man permits, it will be served on the campus between McClure and Friendly halls, otherwise it will be served in the men's gymnasium.

At a committee meeting this afternoon the girls in charge of the luncheon made a final survey of the plans and Helene Delano, chairman, announces that all is in readiness.

Six juniors, four seniors, four sophomores, and four freshmen, with a captain for each class have been chosen to serve at the luncheon. Two men will help serve the ice cream.

The list of those who are to serve is as follows:

- Seniors—Celeste Foulkes, Beatrice Gaylord, Mildred Broughton, Gladys Wilkins, and Louise Manning.
- Juniors—Dorothy Flegel, Ruby Bogue, Helen McDonald, Caroline Alexander, Mellie Parker, and Nan Axtell.
- Sophomores—Reba Macklin, Mary McCormack, Elsie Fitzmaurice.
- Freshmen—Esther Banks, Lyle Bryson, Lois Macy, Helen Nicolai and Helen Watts.

GYMNASIUM GRADUATES SUCCEED IN SCHOOLS

Write Miss Cummings Telling of Demonstrations Given at Close of Year's Work.

Letters from University graduates, who majored in physical education and who are physical education instructors now, have been coming to Miss Mabel Cummings, head of the University department of physical education, telling her of various demonstrations.

Louise Bailey, who is now instructing in the Pendleton high school, tells of her demonstration which was such a success that she was asked to repeat five numbers for the junior Red Cross benefit.

Vera Moffat, who is instructing at The Dalles, and Jewel Tozier, who is in Portland, also tell of their demonstrations winding up their year's work. All of these girls are interested in reconstruction work, and write frequently to find what they can do to help in this work.

BYERS PLAY A SUCCESS

Junior Catches West Irish Spirit in One-Act Tragedy.

Production Is Received with Enthusiasm by Members of Dramatic Class.

Tracy Byers, of Eugene, a junior in the dramatic interpretation class conducted by Prof. A. Reddie, put on Wednesday afternoon in Guild hall before the class a one-act play which he had both written and produced. The play, entitled "The Warning of Norah Michael," is a drama of the Donegal coast. It carries the superstitious dread of the elements so characteristic of the simple fisherfolk of that time and place. The play is built around the fear of Nora Michael to let her lover Dennis go out with his fishing boat in the storm, since she has had a premonition of death and has felt the spirit of her dead mother hovering around her. The surprise ending, in which Nora is the one to meet a sudden death, being struck by lightning just as her lover returns safe to her, having heeded her warning, gave a tragic thrill. The play was not without its little comedy moments, which were not too strongly emphasized to mar the essentially sombre and tragic tone of the production. Scenic and lighting effects were carried out with skill and finish; the lightning looked real and the moaning of the wind cast its spell over the student audience.

The part of Nora was taken, most acceptably, by Ethel Waite; Tracy Byers himself played Dennis, the fiancée, with more than his usual effectiveness; Marion Gilstrap made a delightfully mischievous if perhaps rather feminine Barney, the neighbor's boy, and Delilah McDaniel was adequately lugubrious as the comforting neighbor.

At the close of the action the class gave Byers and the cast an ovation, and Professor Reddie was unstinting in his praise of both the play and the acting.

PROM SETTING TO BE IN NATIONAL COLORS

Committee Heads Say Plans Are Working Out Nicely; Large Attendance Urged.

Presentation of Medals and Cups, and Singing of Girls' Glee Features.

Promptly at the stroke of 8:15 on Saturday evening, the grand march, led by Paul Spangler and Ella Dews, president and vice-president of the 1919 class, will start the Junior Prom.

This annual event will wind up the official program for the week-end. The committee in charge have worked faithfully to have a Junior Prom which will be as largely attended and as pretty a Prom as has ever been given. Dwight Wilson, chairman of the dance committee, has all of his committee in working order and is confident that there will be nothing to mar the evening's program.

Helen McDonald, chairman of the music committee, reports that the Gross orchestra consisting of ten pieces, will furnish good, new, and peppy music.

Genevieve Dickey announces the patrons and patronesses for the evening as Governor and Mrs. James Withycombe, President and Mrs. P. L. Campbell, President and Mrs. W. J. Kerr of O. A. C., Mrs. Irene H. Gerlinger, Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Dean Louise Ehrmann, Judge and Mrs. W. Hamilton of Roseburg, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Dixon, Colonel and Mrs. John Leader, Professor and Mrs. A. R. Sweetser, Miss Mary Perkins, and Dr. and Mrs. George Rebec.

The committee in charge have ruled against dress suits, the wearing of flowers and the use of taxis, the latter to be enforced, provided the weather is fair. The girls will be seated in alphabetical order so that confusion will be done away with when so many guests are present.

ORTHOPEDIC SPECIALIST TO SPEAK HERE MONDAY

Eugene Physical Education Society Will Hear Talk on Infantile Paralysis.

A lecture on "The Operative Treatment of Infantile Paralysis" by Dr. Charles R. McClure, specialist in orthopedic surgery in the University medical school in Portland will be the order of the meeting of the Eugene Physical Education Society to be held next Monday evening at 8 o'clock in Deady hall.

The lecture will be illustrated with lantern slides, and all physicians, town-people, and University students interested are invited to be present. According to Miss Mabel Cummings, head of the department of physical education, this is a wonderful chance to hear authentic information upon the handling of infantile paralysis.

KANZLER IS DELAYED UNTIL END OF WEEK

New Military Head Awaits Official Confirmation to Get Release at Camp Lewis.

Twenty-one Applicants Ask to Go to Training Camp; Will Name Friday.

Captain Jacob Kanzler, who was expected to arrive on the campus yesterday, has been delayed awaiting official government authority confirming his appointment here and securing his release from Camp Lewis, where he has been captain of G company 361 Infantry. "The word may come quickly to him from the government or he may be delayed a few days waiting for it," said Karl Onthank, secretary to President Campbell this morning. "We cannot speculate on the days he will be here, but it should be very soon, possibly, not by the end of this week, however."

Twenty-one applications from men of the battalion who wish to go to the Presidio training camp, which opens May 15 have been received up to last night. This does not mean that all these men will go or that Oregon will even be able to send her full quota of 20, although Colonel John Leader is very anxious that Oregon shall be able to send 20.

Applicants to be examined.

Applicants are subject to physical examination and more important still, subject to the orders now on the way from Washington, which will give the qualifications of the men. A letter giving the exact requirements for men going to the camp and the conditions under which Oregon may send them, was mailed Monday and should arrive Friday. Then definite appointments will be made.

If there is not a sufficient number of undergraduate men who qualify, the field may be opened to graduates, who come under Class C, so that the full 20 men may be sent. The age limit, understood at present to be 20 years and 9 months, is barring several men, whom it is thought could qualify in other ways. Physical defects are keeping other men out.

The present applicants are Dean Harold Hayes, Lewis James Mannel, Errin James Mannel, Giles Hunter Jr., Walter Bailey, John Stark Evans, Cyrus A. Sweek, J. Nellis Hamlin, Oran A. Jenkins, Robert Cosgriff, Ray Couch, Lloyd Perkins, Raymond N. Allen, George W. Taylor, Ralph B. Keeler, Charles K. Crandall, William Coleman, Paul L. Scott, Charles R. Mathews, and Claude Hill. It is expected that other names may be added to the list today and tomorrow.

Twelve From A Company.

An interesting feature of this list is that twelve of these men are from Company A, counting Captain Cosgriff, formerly captain of that company. Captain Charles K. Crandall of Company A is very proud of his men. He says that his company is the most warlike

SENIORS RENEW PETITION FOR EARLY GRADUATION

Student Council in Favor of Setting Commencement Back to June 10.

In a special meeting of the senior class held Wednesday morning after assembly in the lecture room at Deady it was decided to petition for the commencement exercises to be set ahead one week, this making them begin June 10.

A committee was appointed composed of Emma Wootton Hall, Walter Myers, and James Sheehy, who will petition the faculty on the matter at 4 o'clock today. Dr. John F. Bovard spoke to the class on the advantages and disadvantages of such a change and said that he was thoroughly in favor of giving the class the very best commencement possible, especially this year. He advised the committee members to have their arguments well in hand and right to the point when they present them to the faculty has already ruled against setting the commencement ahead.

The point is that if the exercises are held the first part of the week, all of the students will be here, while the majority will be gone the latter part of the week. Arrangements have all been made for June 17, and if the date is put ahead, a new speaker will have to be found.

The matter was referred also to the student council which is wholly in favor of it.

CO-OP TO BE DISCUSSED

Executive Committee to Meet and Find Means to Finance Student Store.

A meeting of the executive committee of the student body with A. R. Tiffany and M. F. McClain, manager of the co-op store, will be held this afternoon. Mr. Tiffany said yesterday that there is a possibility that the store may borrow $1000 to put the business on a good financial basis for next year. He deplored the impression created by a recent published article, which seemed to reflect on the management of the store. As a matter of fact, no fault has been found in the management.

COLONEL LEADER RETURNS

Battalion Head Secures Captain Kanzler for University R. O. T. C.

Colonel John Leader, commandant of the University battalion, who has been in Portland over the week-end on a lecture trip, returned to the University Wednesday afternoon. While in Portland he secured Captain Jacob Kanzler, of Camp Lewis, to be head of the department under the regulations of the R. O. T. C., which has been practically granted to Oregon under the new Chamberlain bill. Colonel Leader will remain on the campus, dividing his time between the home guards and the University battalion.

Campus Scandal Exposed; See Finish Friday Night

Sh! Listen—Gather round! Says Emma Wootton Hall to Harold Cake: "Don't you love me any more?"

Then says Helen Bracht Maurice to Ray Couch: "Aren't you glad to see me—why don't you kiss me?" And Ray answers, quite matter of fact: "I can't kiss you every five minutes."

But Bill Haseltine, the slickest, of the slick, who reigns more often than the law allows, says in honeyed tones to Emma Wootton Hall, to Helen Bracht Maurice and to Harold Cake in turn—"Fairest, rarest maiden of the world, for thee my hair is all uncurled!" Harold, in feminine robes approaches Bill and takes a wisp of Bill's already scarce locks; he counts off absent-mindedly—"He loves me, he loves me not—"

This sort of thing has been going on for the last ten days, and a big blow up is expected to end the affairs at a very early date.

Scandal in the class of '18 never! Every little session has been under the chaperonage of James Mott and an old maid aunt, and the doin's of those young folks are being carefully guided to a grand climax.

The document is due sometime Friday night, when Helen Bracht Maurice as Kitty, leading lady of the "Girl in Red" company, arrives at the "fashionable resort in the Catskills," where the young folks will be temporarily stationed until the unraveling of their difficulties—and she will arrive just in time to keep Uncle William out of a

MEN FOR CAMPUS DAY CLEAN-UP SELECTED

Everyone to Report for Work at 9 O'clock Saturday or Take Water Penalty.

Driveways, Walks, Track, and Bridge to Be Points of Attack.

The committees and their schedules for Saturday campus clean-up day, have been announced by Lawrence Hersher, chairman of University day committee. The time will be spent in cleaning and improving the University grounds. The driveway at Hendricks hall will be graded down and gravelled. A new walk will be made across the campus, west of Villard hall. The track will be put into shape, and a force has been appointed to complete the construction of the McAlister portable bridge across the mill race.

A police force has been selected to see that everybody is out and ready for work at 9 o'clock. The committee announces that the penalty for any man who does not appear is WATER, and plenty of it, from the senior fountain.

Crandall Is Chief Of Police.

The committees are as follows: Police force, Charles Crandall, chairman; R. N. Allen, J. Arthur Berg, J. C. Brandon, C. Mortimer Brown, James Burgess, Harold Cake, Ray Couch, Ted Dunton, Ned Fowler, Walter Grebe, Nellis Hamlin, Claude Hill, John Hunt, O. A. Jenkins, Thurston Laraway, Herman Lind, Dorris Medley, W. H. Morrison, Fred Packwood, Arthur Runquist, Wm. Steers, Lloyd Still, George Taylor, Herald White, George Winters, Larue Blackaby.

This committee will meet in front of the library at nine o'clock.

Driveway By Hall To Be Fixed.

Committee in charge of the driveway at Hendricks hall: Bill Haseltine, chairman; Leith Abbott, Chester Adams, Evon Anderson, Perry B. Arant, Kenneth Armstrong, Richard Avison, J. S. Backstrand, Walter Baily, George Baney, Harold Barde, Day Bayley, G. J. Beggs, O. W. Bentley, R. E. Boetticher, Joseph Boyd, Elmer Boyer, Lawrence Boyle, J. W. duce of a mess, and to complicate matters for everybody concerned, as interfering actresses are wont to do.

Mr. Mott, who is an actor himself and who has coached the University senior plays for three years, considers "The Arrival of Kitty" an ideal vehicle for a college class to produce and seems to think that the characters he has picked were built for their parts. Every day for the last week he has been putting them through their paces like a bunch of circus animals, and despite the fact that some of them started out more like elephants than veterans owing to the entire absence of former training the're jumping through the hoop in an old-hand manner now, and the student-body is going to get a lot of good laughs out of a lot of funny situations.

Girls, have you all got your best clothes all nicely pressed up to dazzle the rushes with? Because the campaign for clothes is going to start at once among the cast and you never can tell who's going to hit you for what. It really doesn't make any difference if you have to stay home from the play or go to bed and forego the Week-end stunts so long as the Senior thespians are properly decked out in all their glory.

Get your tickets for the "Catskills"—all aboard! Mott says they're going to cost $1, 75 and 50 cents and that the show will positively start at 8:30.
