WOMEN CUT EXPENSE
Sororities Try to Make Week-End All University Affair.
Main Aim to Interest Guests in Oregon; no Events to Conflict with Campus Plans.

Women's fraternities of the University have planned a limit on expenses for Junior Week-end this year and have made an effort to restrict entertainment so that the Week-end will be more an all University affair and less of a fraternity affair than ever before. Last year there were no guests on the campus for the week-end. However, this year the women have again opened their houses to guests for a purely University week-end.

Expenses are to be cut down and there are to be no social events which conflict with anything planned for the entertainment of the visitors on the campus. No feeds or between meal lunches are to be given, only punch will be served at dances and in case of a tea the refreshments are to be of the lightest sort.

Celeste Foulks, president of the Pan Hellenic association of the University said, "We are trying to make Junior Week-end a time when we can show the University to our friends. Many students from high schools come here at this time and we do not want them to leave with the impression that they have had a wonderful time socially but that they know very little about the University and what is being done here. In this critical time it is necessary to interest as many high school students as possible in a University education and Junior Week-end is the best time to do it."

second, Sheehy and Dunton were on third and second, when Morrison came to bat. He wasn't able to connect with the ball, and the score remained the same.

Coleman, hurling for the Aggies, was at his best. With a better control than usual he had everything his own way. Toward the latter part of the game when Oregon finally found the ball, they had the ill luck to knock it directly into the hands of Aggie men.

Brilliance of hitting was sadly lacking among the Oregon contingent. Dot Medley, left fielder, who has been heading the batting list, failed to land on the ball with his usual force. Bill Steers, with a batting average of over 500 per cent, got but one hit in five trips up.

The box score follows:

Oregon	A. B. R.	1B. A. E.
Grebe ss	5	0 0 3 0
Lind lb	4	0 2 0 0
Medley lf	4	0 0 0 0

Base on balls—off Berg, 7; off Coleman, 2. Struck out by Berg 5, by Coleman 5. Umpire: Newell.

War Garden Secrets Get Out
 Hendricks Hall war garden? We were just coming to that. Now, you can't tell much by looking at it, but here's what the head gardeners say:

"Now, the secret about our plot of the war garden is that the juniors were too slow," said Helen McDonald, head junior gardener. "We were so slow that we did not have time to plant anything but potatoes, except 11 rows of real vegetables. We don't tell that, though. We always say we planted potatoes because the other classes were neglecting them, it sounds so much better."

"But even if we hadn't been so slow we shouldn't have done much any way, for half of our juniors are unable to do such strenuous work. If it weren't for the post-graduates there would be none left."

Louise Davis, assistant to Marion Bowen, will formally inspect the garden next Sunday at 6 a. m. Miss Bowen will start the work of the morning by pulling a weed, "provided one can be found in the sophomore plot." It is also expected by the committee in charge of ceremonies that Wanda Brown, head freshman gardener, will pull the first radishes of the season, in honor of the occasion. Music will be furnished by members of the woman's band, living in the hall. Miss Bowen, who has been ill for several weeks, will resume her duties following the inspection.

"Of course, the freshman patch will make the best appearance Sunday," said Miss Brown. "The rows are straighter and better hoed than any others. There are no weeds, our radishes are ready to eat and our beans are in bloom. But the reason the girls turn out for work so well is because for breakfast the cook serves eggs to those who work."

"The seniors believe that work is more effective than talk," declares Frances Elizabeth Baker, head gardener for the seniors. "All I have to say is that the senior plot is open for inspection any time, day or night. We anticipate that, next to the cemetery, our potato patch will be the most popular moonlight resting place on the campus."

Delta Delta Delta have as their guests over the week-end: Katherine Slaid, Silverton; Ruth Golden, Marshfield; Margaret Goodin, Salem; Vivian Waller, Portland; Bernice Craig, Salem; Tora Mortensen, Salem; Hazel McGilchrist, Salem; Helen Stuart, Portland; Lucy Lenard, Salem; Virginia Giles, Portland; Estelle Talbudge, Portland; Dorothy Reed, Portland.
