

Mrs. Mabel Holmes Parsons has an article in the last issue of the Portland Grade Teachers' Association bulletin in which she advocates a municipal school theatre for Portland, where at least once a month a group of little plays, written either by local teachers or students could be presented by teachers and pupils.

EXHIBIT STATUETTES

A. P. Proctor and Roswell Dosch Display Art Work.

Buckaroo, Buffalo, Fawn and Puma in Collection with Prints and Portraits

Five statuettes and two portrait medallions by A. Phinister Proctor, who is now at work on a memorial statue soon to be placed on the University campus, are on display in the exhibition room in the Architecture Building. A collection of Japanese prints, the property of Mr. Roswell Dosch, is also in the exhibit.

Mr. Proctor visited the campus two weeks ago, when he selected a sight for his "Pioneer" statue. His statuettes in the exhibit were lent to the art department by prominent Portland people. "His works," said Mr. Dosch, "are wonderful interpretations of animal life."

The Buckaroo, one of Mr. Proctor's best known statuettes, which was done in Pendleton, Oregon, is among the collection. "This piece," said Mr. Dosch, "is full of life and action and shows great finish of technique."

The Buffalo, the Fawn and the Puma, bronzed animals, are in the display. According to Professor Dosch, there is great contrast shown in these works. The Buffalo and Puma contain great force and strength expressed in a positive manner, while in the Fawn there is a tone of appealing gentleness expressed in a positive way.

A Figurine of Martin Biddle on horse back and two portrait medallions of Sherman Hall complete the exhibit of Mr. Proctor's work.

Eight Japanese wood-block prints are also in the exhibit. All the prints are works of the eighteenth century and are full of suggestiveness and atmosphere. A rain scene by Hiroshige is especially interesting. "All the landscapes," said Mr. Dosch, "are reproductions of imaginary scenes and are full of imagination and romance. The fine rhythm of line and relationship of tone is peculiarly Japanese."

CLASS POLITICS QUIET

Few Candidates Declare Their Desire for Various Offices.

Grey May Be '19 Prexy; Dundore, Jamieson, Backstrand, '20, to Run; Kennedy for Soph Head.

Since the climax of Wednesday's student body elections the political bubble on the campus seems to have temporarily burst and but little interest is manifest so far in the coming class elections.

Few candidates have declared themselves so far and of these several are still in doubt as to whether they will run or not and others have not fixed definitely on the office they wish to try to land. Rumor has it that Harold Grey will go out for the senior presidency and that Billy Morrison also has his eye out for a senior office, probably that of class treasurer. The junior offices are the only ones that promise much competition so far. Jerry Backstrand, Harry Jamieson, and Jack Dundore are all in the candidate race for the presidency, while Era Godfrey and Gladys Smith will contest the vice-presidency. Herald White hopes to take care of the treasury. So far no claimant for the job of secretary has declared himself.

But three have declared themselves so far for the sophomore offices. They are John Kennedy, for president; Madeline Slothorn, for vice-president; and Nish Chapman for treasurer.

FORUM NAME OF NEW CLUB

Helen McDonald Elected President at Second Meeting.

The Forum, a new organization to promote coed debate among the women of the University, was organized in the Administration building Wednesday afternoon at 4 p. m. A loose constitution was adopted which admits any girl or faculty woman to participate in the activity of the society. The officers elected were Helen McDonald, president; Marie Badura, vice-president; Erma Huff, secretary-treasurer; Stella Sullivan, editor; and Helen Hair, chairman of the program committee. The Forum plans to meet every other Wednesday at 7 p. m. in Professor Prescott's room in the Administration building. A program will be arranged for May 15.

MEN ARE WANTED IN SHIPYARDS

Mr. Ausman, of Portland, on Campus Asking for Summer Workers.

Mr. Ausman of the Grant Smith-Porter Ship Yards was on the campus today and will be here tomorrow looking up men who are thinking of doing work in the ship yards this summer. There seems to be a greater shortage of men than had been counted on, and Mr. Ausman is anxious that college men who desire work during the summer may know just what the shipyards have to offer in the way of hard work, good pay and patriotic service.

OREGON WINS 5 TO 4
IN LAST O. A. C. GAME

five chances perfectly.

Krueger pitched a nice game for the Aggies, but he allowed the ten hits gathered off of his delivery to be bunched, which proved his downfall. Chief Wilson, twirling for the Varsity, kept the eight hits gathered off of him well scattered and good fielding helped him out of the few holes that he got into.

Grebe and Lind Score Five Runs.

All of Oregon's five runs were scored by Grebe and Lind. Grebe crossed the plate twice and Lind registered three times. "Rabbit" raised his batting average somewhat in Saturday's game, getting three out of five while Lind did not allow his to take any noticeable drop, getting two safe cracks out of five journeys to the rubber. Steers continued to ride rough-shod over the Aggie twirlers, getting four safe bingles out of five times up.

Lind scored in the first frame after having been struck out. Lodell missed the third strike. He recovered the ball in plenty of time to get "Hack" at first but Gurley dropped the peg. "Lefty" then proceeded to second by pilfering the base and scored on Steers first hit of the day. "Dot" Medley failed to hold up his batting average in Saturday's struggle as he did not connect safely in five times up. Runquist hit in hard luck in the last game as he met the ball squarely on each of his four trips to the plate but the drives fell into the hands of some fielder each time. In the second inning he hit one to Rickson that the Aggie second baseman had to catch to keep it from going through him and in the eighth Hubbard made a circus catch of his line drive over third.

Ten Men Receive Letters.

Saturday's contest ends the season for both teams and while the O. A. C. representatives have not put up a wonderful exhibition of the national pastime they have improved wonderfully during the month they met the Varsity. Ten Oregon men will get their letters in baseball this year; they are Medley, Steers, Runquist, Sheehy, Grebe, Morrison, Lind, Dunton, Berg and Wilson.
