

INFLUENZA KEEPS COLLEGE PEOPLE CLOSE ON CAMPUS

Health Committee Guarding Carefully Against Spread of Contagion

ANOTHER INFIRMARY NOT NEEDED FOR GIRLS

Total Increase Friday Less Than 30 Cases; Nothing Serious Reported

With down town streets deserted as far as college men are concerned, with all meetings on the campus abandoned, and with classes greatly reduced in number, influenza is showing its influence on campus life. But it is insofar as such things are called off this week, that the regular life may be resumed next week, according to the campus health committee, which is headed by Dr. John F. Bovard. Friday's health report shows 264 cases, an increase of less than 30 cases over the previous day. The health committee believes the additional number is due not to a further spread of the influenza, but to a more complete report.

"Things are well in check, and the doctors in charge are very much encouraged," said Dr. Bovard Saturday morning.

Nothing Serious Expected

No serious cases have been reported, all being cases of colds and fevers held well in check. Four infirmaries are now equipped for use, but unless the number of cases among the girls increase, the new infirmary for women in back of the women's gymnasium will not be needed. Those girls who are now in the Kincaid infirmary will be left there until they are released, and will not be moved to the new infirmary.

Among the men 265 cases were reported Friday. Of this number, 164 were in the S. A. T. C. and 39 in the O. T. C. The S. A. T. C. men were distributed as follows: Mercy hospital 40, Eugene hospital 2, S. A. T. C. infirmary 35, Phi Delta Theta 11, at home 7, sick in quarters 14. Twenty-five men reported in person at sick call. All these cases are light ones, according to the health report.

61 Women Sick

Yesterday only 61 women were on the sick lists. Hendricks Hall had 14 new cases, making them a total of 36 cases. Most of these girls are at the women's infirmary. At sorority houses nine new cases were noted, distributed in this way: Pi Beta Phi 4, Delta Gamma 1, Alpha Phi 1, Gamma Phi Beta 1, Chi Omega 1, Delta Delta Delta 1.

Very little fear is manifest by authorities over the situation. All precautions are to be continued to prevent any trouble, and the health committee hopes to have all cases cured soon.

Campus Changed

Those people who have remained well have found the campus a different place. Class meetings scheduled for this week, glee club tryouts, rallies, and even the pajama parade have had to be given up or postponed. Everything that has its part in the normal college life with the exception of classes has been given up. With all moving picture houses in Eugene closed, students have not been able to turn to the town for amusement, and have had to defer their pleasures until all danger is over.

'KEEP' OFF SIGNS TO GO UP

Student Council Acts to Save Grass On Borders of Campus Trails.

Students who have forgotten that the trails on the campus are to be used and are not for decoration only will soon be reminded of the fact by the appearance of "Keep Off the Grass" signs. Such was the decision made at a meeting of the student council held Wednesday evening.

H. M. Fisher, superintendent of grounds, has been asked by the council to place the signs where the students will be sure to see them. The signs are to be placed on the edge of the trail and not on the edge of the grass as the worn paths at the edge of the trail mar the appearance of the campus.

No! "Shy" Didn't Get Nickname by Dodging; Well, Read About It

Contrary to the prevalent supposition on the campus that "Shy" Huntington, former Oregon star under Bezdek who as coach of Oregon's men this year sent his first team on the field this afternoon, fell heir to his nickname because of the way he had of avoiding his adversaries while running yardage for Oregon, the coach says such is not the case.

"Shy," he said yesterday, was hung on him as soon as he entered his first reader. An older brother did it but Huntington does not know just why. However, it "stuck" and followed him through high school and into University football.

MUSIC RECITALS PLANNED

Sunday Concerts to Be Given Down Town by School of Music.

The school of music is planning a series of recitals to be given throughout the year. The Eugene Theatre has been rented for every Sunday during the school year and most of the concerts will be held there.

The first concert will be given by Professor Robert Barron, the new instructor in violin, two weeks from Sunday, on October 27. The time and program will be announced later.

The following Sunday, Miss Elinor Lee, also a new instructor in voice, will appear in a concert.

Then the first orchestra recital will be given as soon as possible and at this time, Professor Arthur Faguy-Cote and Professor Barron will do the solo work. At the second orchestral concert Alher a Potter and Miss Lee will be the concert soloists.

Professor Barron is planning for his pupils' recital for the latter part of this term.

Besides having charge of the orchestra and concerts, Professor Barron is choir director at the Methodist church.

BATTLE PROBLEM SOLVED

O. T. C. Attacks Foe at Spencer's Butte With No Casualties.

The Oregon State Officers' Training Camp worked out a military problem in a field day event, Friday afternoon.

The enemy was reported in the vicinity of Spencer's Butte. B Company, as advance guard, left the men's gymnasium under the command of Lieut. Jacob Kamm at 2:00 p. m., and the main body composed of companies A, C, D, E, and M, G, followed 600 yds. behind the advance guard. They turned to the right around cemetery ridge, southwest to the rifle range and out Alder street to Spencer's Butte. The main body was under the command of Lt. Huelat.

Col. Leader says the problem was extraordinary in that there were no casualties as in any of the former marches when from 10 to 20 of the men would become exhausted and have to drop out. These are then reported as deaths. There was one slight casualty when one of the men injured his knee.

GUARDS TO ACT AS FENCE

Armed Men Will Patrol East End of Kincaid Field During Game.

Following the policy of cutting down as much as possible on every expense, Herald White, undergraduate manager of football, has decided that no fence will be built at the east end of Kincaid field this fall. A rope, stretched across the end of the field, will serve as substitute for the fence, and will be patrolled by armed guards.

The decision not to build the fence was made suddenly, and orders for the material contracted for had to be cancelled. The fence would have cost about $50.

RAIDS ARE LECTURE TOPIC

Lieutenant L. H. Blythe Addresses Men in O. T. C.

Raids as a worked out system of attack were explained by Lieutenant L. H. Blythe, member of the first Canadian Expeditionary forces to reach France, to the members of the O. T. C. this morning in Villard hall. Lieutenant Blythe spent 22 months at the front and has been through much intensive fighting. He will lecture every Saturday morning to the men.

OREGON A MODEL FOR MILITARY WORK IN UNIVERSITIES

Chancellor Elliott of Montana Praises War Activities.

The University of Oregon is being held up to other colleges in the West by Chancellor Edward S. Elliott, of the University of Montana, head of the educational section of the western department of the Students' Army Training Corps, as a model of what can be accomplished along military lines by an educational institution. Chancellor Elliott himself made this statement at a luncheon tendered him at the Osburn Hotel yesterday by President Campbell and the military department of the University.

Dr. Elliott had spent the morning in inspecting the military plant of the University, in the course of a tour of the different colleges in his jurisdiction. He was taken over the campus by President Campbell and viewed the barracks under construction to accommodate S. A. T. C. men who will come in larger numbers after the end of the present university term.

Commends Military Work

In his remarks at the luncheon afterward, Chancellor Elliott expressed his strong commendation of the military work of the University of Oregon.

The colleges have demonstrated in a wonderful way, he said, their ability to handle the multiplicity of details in the organization of the S. A. T. C. They have been able to make, as a rule, all the arrangements necessary to put the organizations into working order. It now remains to be seen, he concluded, what they can do in a collegiate way for the young men whose military training they are handling so admirably.

Emphasize Intensive Work

Chancellor Elliott emphasized the necessity of the colleges doing intensive work with the men and completely revolutionizing their courses of study. "The colleges must give the men exactly what they need to make them competent officers," he said, "and they must do this work in a very short time."

Mr. Elliott went over the courses of study offered here with President Campbell. He is particularly anxious that the course in War Aims be emphasized. At his suggestion, members of the faculty will assist Professor R. C. Clark in the lecture work. Mr. Elliott said yesterday that this course is of particular importance in that it teaches the men soon to be officers, just why we are at war, so that they can convince the men under them beyond the shadow of a doubt of the justification of our part in the conflict.

EMERALD STAFF ENLARGED

City Editor Appoints Five Assistants for Reportorial Work

Assistants on the editorial staff, just appointed by the city editor, are announced in this issue. They are Helen McDonald, Louise Davis, Elva Bagley, Frances Stiles and Stella Sullivan, veteran reporters of last year's Emerald staff. The staff of assistants is to be much larger, and members of the elementary news-writing class and other students interested in journalism, are now serving their term of probation of one month before being placed on the staff.

The Emerald "O", awarded last year for the first time, to members of the editorial and business staffs, who did satisfactory work on the paper throughout the college year, will be given again this year, to those doing consistent work, on recommendation by the editors. There is an especial demand this year for men to try out for the reportorial staff, since very few of last year's men are back. Anyone wishing to win a place on the staff, is urged to call at the Emerald office for assignments.

OREGANA QUESTION UP

The question as to the possibility of publishing an Oregana this year will be decided at a meeting of the executive council Monday evening. There may be a special edition of the Emerald for the seniors. Another plan offered is that of a paper-backed annual.

Mystery Even Deeper Than Usual Pervades Fraternity Circles

Mystery usually centers around a Greek letter fraternity, but mystery in the n-th degree surrounds the actions of one fraternity on the campus. It is firmly believed that some medium must be among the chapter roll.

You see, it's this way.

One day in front of a little, nay, tiny, house that now serves as a meeting place for the dear brothers, was seen a huge table as large as the little house itself. The table had been of normal size in the fraternity house that was occupied last year before Uncle Sam asked the men to turn over their chapter houses to him, but now it was of ab-ab-normal size.

Onlookers worried all day as to where the table would be put in the house and their dreams were troubled that night by the vision of the big table standing in front of the little house. In the morning when they arose wan and weary and hurried for another glimpse of the puzzling sight, they were shocked beyond belief.

The little house had evidently swallowed the table for no other trace of it could be found. The impossible had been accomplished, and they are still worrying.

Many of the men's fraternities have already obtained their small houses or group of rooms for their meetings and they are having quite a time adapting themselves and their furniture to their new quarters.

MULTNOMAH TRAMPLES OREGON IN 20-0 GAME

Colonel Leader Sees American Football First at Game Today

Colonel John Leader saw his first American football game this afternoon. He took great interest and was loud in his applause of every good play of Oregon's. No more loyal supporters could have been found than he and Miss Bowen, daughter of Colonel W. H. C. Bowen, who was also in the party. Others in Colonel Leader's party were Mrs. Leader, Colonel Bowen, Mrs. Emma Wooton Hall and Lieutenant G. H. Blyth.

MATH URGED FOR STUDENTS

Charles McDonald, Ex-'19, Now Lieutenant, Writes Advice.

Advice to students who have had any training in mathematics to enter the artillery branch of the service, is the message of a letter written to Dr. E. E. De Cou from Lieut. Charles McDonald, a sophomore in the University in 1916-17. Lieutenant McDonald writes that a year in the service has brought him varied experience. He has been from Fort Stevens to Fort Monroe, Virginia, and is now back at Fort Stevens again.

"At Fort Monroe," said Lieutenant McDonald, "as I took instruction in heavy artillery, mathematics was the thing for which the stage was always set. The course only required a good knowledge of trigonometry and algebra, but one must be entirely familiar with those branches. Of course we did have to work very hard indeed, but it certainly is something that I shall never regret."

According to Lieutenant McDonald, heavy artillery is the most fascinating branch of the service for anyone who is interested in mathematics. He says, "There is so much more to it than I ever dreamed of but the more I study it the more I want to get to France and to put some of my theoretical knowledge into actual practice."

FIVE UP FOR HONORS SO FAR

Complete List of Candidates Will Be Given Out Soon.

Students who are up for honors this year in the English literature department are, Teressa Cox and Freda Laird, seniors; Irma Smith, Lucile Redmond and Lucell Morrow, juniors. These students are all majors in the department and are taking honor work for the first time. The list for honor students in other departments has not yet been completed but will be given out by Mr. Tiffany in a few days.

Those doing honor work do so at the request of the head of the department in which honor work is to be done. They must have junior standing, however, and show an "S" average in the preceding year. At the close of the senior year the candidate must come up for an oral examination before a board of five members of the faculty upon whom the decision lies for the granting of the honors.

MISSION WORKER COMING

Mrs. Boudinot Seelye to Address Y. W.'s Next Meeting.

Mrs. Boudinot Seelye, well known on the University campus, having visited here before, has been scheduled to speak at the first meeting of the Y. W. C. A. after the ban on meetings is raised. Because Mrs. Seelye is especially interested in young people, her subject will be "Activities of the College Woman."

Mrs. Seelye is Presbyterian student secretary of the northwest, and it is her special interest to help the young men and women of the Presbyterian church who come away to college to maintain interest in church work. Both Mrs. Seelye and her husband, who works in interest of missions for this synod of the church, have gone to the Seabeck Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. conference for several summers, conducting mission study classes there.

Playing on the defensive for nearly the entire game, Oregon lost the first football match of the season to the Multnomah club this afternoon, by a score of 20 to 0.

The Winged M was represented by a trio of stars, Peterson, formerly of the Utah Aggies, who played fullback, Tobin, a University of Minnesota half, and Hughie McKenna of Portland who played quarter.
