WE WIN.

While little of the stuff dope is made of can come from from Saturday's game between Multnomah and Oregon due to the early season and the severe inroads made on practices as well as upon the final line-up for Oregon's first game, it demonstrates one important thing. Oregon Spirit still lives on the Oregon campus.

No dope sheet on Oregon is complete without a reckoning for the Oregon fight. Many have been made in recent years without considering the asset Oregon has always had in addition to what other Universities could show with the same men on the field. That is why Oregon has upset "dope" year after year until Oregon cannot be "figured" by those who will not reckon the Oregon Spirit.

"Oregon's individual players and their showing in early games plus Oregon Spirit—Oregon will win." It used to sound like a "bum" cmeet some eight or ten years ago but it has grown to have a lot of weight.

New conditions have come with the war, however. The student body has changed fast at Oregon and given the old Oregon men little chance to hand down the traditional Oregon Spirit and Oregon fight on the football field to the new men. So the big question that could be decided, the only one that could be decided under the circumstances, was in regard to the question, "Has Oregon this year still backed by the old Oregon fight?"

Led by a handful of old Oregon men scattered through the bleachers at Saturday's game the some fou hundred new Oregon men answered the question in the affirmative.

"Oregon will win!"

It came out strong, this manifestation of the Oregon fight. The game was particularly suited to test Oregon's new men. Oregon was not winning. It is traditional of the Oregon Spirit that it sends Oregon teams into the game to win and backs them as winning teams until the last. A defeated team at the Oregon field is backed as strongly as a victorious one; when an Oregon team comes back without victory, as has happened occasionally during the last fifteen or twenty years, the men are welcomed as enthusiastically as if they had won, for Oregon men know that, with the Oregon fight of the players and the Oregon fight of the supporters, Oregon is always a winning team. Occasional defeats sustained by Oregon only give the real Oregon Spirit a chance to show and always the Oregon fight is strengthened.

Oregon's rooting at the Saturday game, of course, was not so strong as it used to be and must be improved so that the men on the field can feel it more. Saturday's rooting is notable because the men who gave it supported their team well in a game that was lost. They had already something of the Oregon Spirit without knowing particularly well the Oregon yells. The Oregon Spirit had come first.

When the Spanish influenza loses its grip on Oregon activity and again permits Oregon's full line-up to get on the field, it will also permit yell practice, something denied the new men who backed Oregon Saturday. Then Oregon's real strength on the field will be backed by the old fight.

DON'T WORRY

According to the latest reports Spanish Flu is still with us but the numbers are not greatly increasing and no cases have yet proved very serious, so why worry?

Worry endangers the health, it does not help out the fellow who has the Flu and is altogether needless, useless and harmful.

We are all doing our best to avoid a serious epidemic, and in this everyone has a part. If you feel ill and fear you are coming down with Flu the only sensible thing to do is to go to bed and stay there or at least avoid other people who might catch it from you.

The essential difference between the civilized man and the savage is expressed in our daily routine by "No man liveth unto himself." Right now our greatest civic obligation is to the general health of the University. So it is up to every student to observe the health rules outlined by the Health Committee and not worry.

Real health means more than strength of muscle, it means endurance, energy, self control, will power, and courage. It is essential to conserve all these by wise exercise, fresh air, sufficient rest, wholesome food, and cheerful outlook.

One of the greatest victories man has achieved is that of science over disease and the spread thereof.

Now let us apply all the science that we know and prevent further spread of sickness on the campus.

It has long been a favorite amusement of the Germans to refer slightingly to President Wilson as the schoolmaster. Very well. Now the "schoolmaster" turns on them and insists that they enroll in a stiff course of the three R's—Retreat, Reparation, and Repentance.

DON ORPUT, '15, ENROLLS

Former Oregon Yell Leader Member of S. A. T. C.

A new arrival on the campus is Don T. Orput of Oregon, '15. Mr. Orput has returned to the University to enroll in a branch of the limited service, either Ordnance or Quartermaster's.

As a student of the University Don Orput was well known as yell leader and also for his connection with the Dramatic department as coach of the Senior Class Play of '15.

Upon completion of his course at Oregon, Mr. Orput took a position of History teacher in Washington High School, Portland, Oregon. He has lately been connected with the Foundation Shipyard's paper, "Do Your Bit."

Mr. Orput has been trying for some time to get into some branch of limited service.

FRATERNITIES FIND HOMES

Sigma Chi, A. T. O., Phi Gamma Deltas and Delta Tau's Located.

Although their quarters are not so commodious or convenient for the most part as they have been for several years, yet most of the men's fraternities on the campus have selected some place to hold their meetings. With their own houses turned over to the government, the fraternities have had to hunt some new places for their headquarters.

Two fraternities have rooms down town. The Sigma Chis are in the DeLano building on Willamette street, and the A. T. O.'s have rooms over the Woolworth store.

The Betas have a house at Twelfth and Hillyard, and the Phi Gamma Deltas have their headquarters at G. E. Lehman's at 1410 Alder street. The Delta Taus have a little house on Alder street, near 7th.

As yet the Phi Deltas, the Sigma Nus and the Kappa Sigs have not selected their places. They hope to be located in a few days.

SPHAGNUM WORK TO START

University women are to begin picking over the sphagnum moss for the Red Cross as soon as conditions are normal, according to Professor A. R. Sweetser, in charge of the collection of the moss in Oregon. Women at the University of Washington did the same work there last year, and are to continue it this year.

CREDIT CARDS FOR FOOD COURSE READY

Miss Tingle Has Certificates for Women Who Have Finished Work

All girls who did not receive their United States Food Administration certificates at the close of the food conservation courses last term should see Miss Lillian Tingle, head of the home economics department, during the coming two weeks.

The reason for their not being issued was explained by Miss Tingle as due both to her unexpected absence at that time and later to the desire of many of the girls to continue in the work, and have their certificates held until the completion of more courses. Each certificate bears the titles of the three courses offered here with an additional space for any other course bearing on food and the war, so that if the entire group is taken the certificate means much more to the holder. However those girls not intending to do further work should see Miss Tingle as to their right away.

Courses Kept Up to Date.

The three courses being offered are: 1. Food and the War. 2. Food and Nutrition in relation to the War. 3. Laboratory work in Use and Conservation of Food. Each one is kept strictly up to date and the government is urging all students who possibly can take them to do so. Whether war or peace, the food situation will remain much the same for some time yet.

Number one is a two-hour course to be given Tuesday and Friday at eleven or Monday and Wednesday at three. The others are given three times a week, number two on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at one, and number three on Tuesday and Thursday from two to four, and on Wednesday at one. Courses two and three may be offered for credit as equivalents or pre-requisites in the home economics department.

Lectures Open to Visitors.

Since the aim of the administration is to reach the greatest possible number of people courses one and two will be open to visitors. Housekeepers and students too busy to take the regular work will be welcomed to these lectures, which will be given in Mary Spiller hall. Number three being a laboratory course can hardly be open to visitors.

Recent letters from the administration state that whereas last year pressure was brought to bear on the conservation of different foods such as wheat, meat and sugar at different times, this year the pressure will be on all the points at the same time. People are being urged to buy less, eat less and chew more.

SOCIETY NOTES

Top Sergeant Jim Mott, an '18 Oregon graduate, spent the week-end in Salem.

Rev. Andrew Montgomery, of Portland, Secretary of the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian church of Portland, spent a few days at the Sigma Chi house, visiting his son Bernard Montgomery, who is in the Navy unit. Mr. Montgomery returned to Portland Monday night.

Petty Officer Oppen was down from Portland Monday for the purpose of having the men in the Navy unit put their papers in shape prior to induction October 20.

L. M. Bland, a Los Angeles business man, enroute to Portland, stopped over Sunday at the Sigma Chi house, for a short visit with his son Mortimer Bland, who is in the Navy unit.

Miss Pearl Craine, of Bandno, is living at the Pi Beta Phi house. She is attending the University, and working on The Eugene Guard. Miss Craine, who is an Oregon senior, held a position with a newspaper in Marshfield during the summer.

Mrs. W. A. Dezell and son John of Klamath Falls spent the week-end with Miss Marjorie Dezell, at the Pi Beta Phi house.

Mrs. Benson, Pi Beta Phi house mother, who has been very ill, is reported a little better today.

The Tri Deltas entertained a few friends Sunday evening with a cafeteria supper. The evening was spent informally. Mr. Hal Conley, played several selections on the piano. The guest list included Wayne Laird, Merle Blake, Jack Dundore, Hal Conley, Dick Lyons, Charles Huggins and Edgar Lindsey.

Miss Hazeltime and Miss Kassner, from O. A. C., were week-end guests at the Chi Omega house.

Miss Elsie Lee of Portland, is visiting at the Alpha Phi house for a few days. Mrs. V. C. Brock and Mrs. Jack Baker were joint hostesses Sunday for a small company at dinner, at the home of Mrs. Baker on Hillyard street. Those present were Lieut. E. H. Graham, of the O. T. C., Roy Anderson and Jack Layton of the S. A. T. C.

Mrs. V. C. Brock and Mrs. J. A. McKinnon entertained a small company informally at dinner Monday evening, at the home of Mrs. Brock on Hillyard street. The guests were Major and Mrs. J. A. McKinnon, Capt. C. T. Haas, Lieut. Jacob Kamm, and Dr. Robert Wendling, all of Portland, and with the O. T. C.

Colonel John Leader and Mrs. Leader gave a small dancing party Saturday night in their home at 2239 Birch Lane. Among those present were Capt. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, Miss Louise Ehrmann, Emma Wootton Hall, Miss Charlie Fenton, Miss Gladys Bowen, Miss Margaret Biddle, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Corbett, of Portland, Captain Covert, Lieutenant Spratlin, Lieutenant Zimmermann, Lieutenant Parker, Lieutenant Graham, and Lieutenant L. H. Blyth of Portland. The house was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and the guests spent a most enjoyable evening.

Miss Dorothy Foster, who is teaching in the Woodstock school in Portland, and will graduate from the University in '20, is spending the week with Miss Dorothy Cox, a student in the school of Journalism, at her home at 1062 Oak street. Owing to the closing of the Portland schools on account of influenza, Miss Foster will have a week's vacation, in which to look up old friends on the campus.

Mrs. Hazel Linney, Miss Lillian Brock, U. of O. freshman, and Miss Dorothy Foster of Portland, will be dinner guests of Miss Dorothy Cox Tuesday evening.

Lieut. Jacob Kamm, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. I. A. McKinnon, and Capt. C. T. Haas, motored to Portland Saturday, returning Sunday night.

U. OF O. WOMEN EARN $600

44 Girls Average Returns for First Month's Work.

Forty-four University women who are working their way through college have earned more than six hundred dollars since the beginning of the school year. They have done stenographic work, clerking, tutoring, waiting on table, sewing and caring for children.

There are also many odd jobs on Saturdays, according to Miss Tirza Dinsdale, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., but few girls are available. The number of girls applying for work through the Y. W. C. A. this year averages one-third less than last year.

The reason for this decrease, thinks Miss Dinsdale, is that many girls obtained good positions during the summer and feel it to their advantage to stay with them. Others earned enough during the summer to make it unnecessary to work during the school year.
