

OREGON TO CLASH WITH SEA SOLDIERS IN PORTLAND GAME

November 23 Is Date Finally Nailed Down on Calendar For Heavies.

DEAN WALKER PLEASED AT FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

Retiring Manager Expecting a Real Battle; Bill Steers to be Seen Again.

After having hung fire for a period of several weeks the big game with the Marine team of Mare Island is now a reality and will be played in Portland on November 23. The game, which will probably be the only one played in Portland will be a real big league contest.

Dean H. Walker, who leaves Saturday for the artillery officers' school at Camp Taylor, closed negotiations with the Marines today receiving a telegram from Captain Lynn Covert, athletic director of the Marines, cinching the contest for Portland for the November date.

Bill Steers in Lineup.

The contest with the Marines will give Oregon fans a chance to see "Bill" Steers in action again, as he is now performing in the backfield for the Soldiers of the Sea. Old Oregon students had a chance to see Steers under Hugo Bezdek here last year and are wondering what brand of ball the star from The Dalles is playing under William ("Lone Star") Dietz, formerly coach of the Washington State College eleven.

Jake Risley, who played center on Oregon's great team of 1916, is back at his old berth for the Marines. Another northwest man who is playing for the Marines this year and making a reputation, according to San Francisco sport writers, is "Dick" Hanley, former quarterback for Washington State College.

Big Game of the Year.

In speaking of the game Dean Walker who was "tickled to death" by having landed the contest, although he will not be here to see it, said:

"This is going to be the biggest game of the year. By November 23 the Oregon team will be in the best of condition and the Marines are going to have a real big league contest on their hands. The Oregon team this year is a mighty good one, and the Marines had better decide right now that they are going to have a fight on their hands."

TRIG CLASSES COMBINED

Dr. W. P. Boynton Gives Up Section in Mathematics.

Dr. W. P. Boynton, head of the Physics department and Professor P. P. Adams, instructor in the School of Architecture, have consolidated their classes in Trigonometry, a meeting at 1 p. m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, into one division, meeting at the same time, under Professor Adams in room 4 of Johnson Hall.

Due to the fact that up to this date Professor Boynton had not had enough enrolled in his class in Electrical Measurement, a laboratory course, he had taken one section of the Trigonometry class which met at the hour set for that course, but having at this time an enrollment large enough to justify giving the course he has dropped his class in trigonometry.

HAZELTIN GOING TO FRONT

Bill Hazelton Expected to Report at Stevens This Week; Harold Cake Sergeant.

In a recent letter William A. Hazelton, '18, said he expected to be sent to Fort Stevens this week to join the heavy artillery. "I hope," said Bill, "the United States doesn't make peace for some time yet." Harold Cake, '18, Bill writes, has been appointed sergeant in the S. A. T. C. at Boston Tech.

Major Allen Pursues Apple Sauce Story Home From Presidio Camp

Faculty Member's Fame as Swiper of Sweets Grows and Grows and He Gets Letters Ranging From Condolence to Congratulations.

Major Eric W. Allen, of the Officers' Training Camp admits that he likes apple sauce.

This admission appears to be damaging. For:

It is seized upon by Colonel John Leader, commandant of the O. T. C., Miss Mozelle Hair and other sensation spreaders about the campus as proving conclusively a startling story which had been in circulation here for two weeks before Major Allen himself reached the University from his two months' in the S. A. T. C. officers' training camp at the Presidio. The Major is accused of robbing the apple-sauce larder at the Presidio and of having expiated the crime with four days of "K. P."

The story perhaps deserves a larger heading than the editors of the Emerald will confer upon it, both on account of the prominence of the persons involved and the magnitude of the incident. The sponsors for the story have in mind a heading something like this:

MAJOR ALLEN'S APPLE SAUCE TASTE COSTLY.

Lieutenant Thacher Puts Him On K. P. For Wholesale Looting of Delicacy Stock.

Major Allen heard the story first, he says, when he was still in San Francisco. It wasn't much of a story then, having little of the spicy detail, which, he alleges, it afterward acquired. When he reached Medford it was a bigger story and more generally believed. On his arrival in Eugene, the Major was grieved to find himself viewed with suspicion by old friends. Then came letters from Portland, from the University of Washington, and, finally, from a former student at Hood River expressing sympathy for his suffering and confidence in his innocence and rectitude even in the face of such temptations as apple sauce. The magnitude of the story had increased as the square of the distance. The Major then sought vindication. His version as submitted to the writer seems to call for a caption of this style and size:

APPLE SAUCE WELL GUARDED.

No Opportunity to Purloin Any at Presidio, Says Major Allen.

Any story to the effect that he was able to make off with several pounds or even several bites of anything resembling apple sauce is a gross libel. Major Allen says—on the coasts and the Kitchen Police, whose vigilance precluded the possibility of such purloining. The O. T. C. adjutant and C. O. S. suspects his chief, Colonel Leader, of complicity. He suspects others, too, including the secretary of the extension division. But he admits that he likes apple sauce; and that, in the judgment of Colonel Leader, is damaging evidence.

FAMOUS YELL KING BACK ON HIS JOB

Don. T. Orput, '15, Chosen To Succeed Paul Spangler As Leader of Rooters.

Don T. Orput was elected yell leader yesterday by the student council. He takes the place made vacant when Paul Spangler took over the presidency of the student body. Orput graduated in '15 and was college yell leader. He is taking work in the S. A. T. C. Orput made a reputation, while an undergraduate, for his ability as a cheer-chief.

Student Council will meet Wednesday evening at 9 p. m. in Professor Gilbert's room in the library. It was necessary to change the time of meeting in order that the men of the S. A. T. C. might be there.

Some of the matters which will be taken up at the council meeting are the Emerald Subscription campaign which will be launched on the campus some time soon, the student body play, "The Fortune Hunter," to be put on in about three weeks. Home Coming, a distinguishing mark for the freshmen if after they don their uniforms they can not wear the green caps and attend student body dances.

All members must be on time as the meeting will have to be over by 10 o'clock.

The Executive Committee of the Student Council will meet at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon to elect a vice-president of the Student Body, to succeed Paul Spangler, the former vice-president, automatically assumes the executive position left vacant by the resignation of Charles Comfort.

TO INDUCT MEDICAL STUDENTS

Lieutenant W. F. G. Thacher, personnel officer of the Students' Army Training Corps, will go to Portland tonight to complete the induction of the fifty men into the S. A. T. C. unit of the University of Oregon School of Medicine. Colonel W. H. C. Bowen, commanding officer of the corps here, visited the school yesterday before his return to Eugene. He arranged further details of the organization.

MUST BE CAREFUL SAYS DR. BOVARD

Health Condition of Students Much Improved; Peril Not Ended.

Although the health condition of the students shows a marked improvement in the last two days, precautions must not for one minute be neglected, is the statement of Dr. John F. Bovard, chairman of the committee on student health. As long as one case of influenza exists everyone must be careful. Right now is probably one of the most dangerous times.

The number of cases Monday night had dropped to 180, which according to Dr. Bovard does not mean influenza cases alone but includes several other minor illnesses. A further drop in the number is expected today.

No serious cases are reported today. One case has been discharged from the Eugene hospital. Only one new case has been received at any of the infirmaries and this is but a slight illness.

Miss Catharine Heilig at the Mercy hospital is reported as about the same. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Heilig, are with her.

The health committee has suggested that during the Spanish "flu" epidemic, those who are caring for the sick wear Red Cross masks. It was the idea of the committee to protect the nurses and endeavor to prevent a further spread of the disease. Seven dozen of these masks have already been made and are now in use in the infirmaries. It is not a compulsory order but only a suggestion.

FIVE MEN TO FORT MONROE

Colonel Bowen to Appoint Candidate for Coast Artillery.

Colonel W. H. C. Bowen, commanding officer of the S. A. T. C. at the University, in consultation with President P. L. Campbell this afternoon will appoint five men to be transferred to Fort Monroe, Virginia, as coast artillery officer candidates. The National Committee on Education telegraphed Colonel Bowen to select five men, fully inducted with all records complete. The men must pass a rigid physical examination. They must have a thorough knowledge of mathematics, through plane geometry, including logarithms, and should be accustomed to use the transit and have practice in computing traverses. Men successfully pursuing engineering, medical and chemical courses are excluded from selection.

O. T. C. MEN HAVE HEAVY SCHEDULE FOR THIS WEEK

Hike to Coburg, All Night Trench Battle, and Gas Raid Planned.

The men of the Oregon State Officers' Training Camp have had many things planned for them this week and the first of next week.

Today the psychological tests are going on under the direction of Dr. Edmund S. Conklin, of the department of psychology. Also the physical examinations today and yesterday for the applicants to central officers' training camps. These are under Captain George Wilson, army surgeon.

A hike to Coburg is planned for Thursday of this week. Colonel John Leader has a big school house which he plans to have straw taken to for the men's beds.

Trench Battle at Night

The trench battle is not definitely decided as yet, because it must be held in good weather. But unless something happens, it will be carried out next Tuesday evening. This trench war is held all night and on into the grey dawn of the coming day. Star shells are sent up, scouting parties and trench raids are carried on in imitation of the real front line trench "Over There."

The gas test is planned for a week from Wednesday afternoon. And the camp fire and sing which was postponed will be held that Wednesday evening out between the trenches on No Man's Land. Each company will put on a stunt of songs.

New Chaplain Named

Lee Dunham has been appointed as the new chaplain. Sergeant Major F. W. Snyder, of Mollala, Oregon, has arrived and taken up his duties. He takes the place left vacant by George H. Currey when he was called to Camp Pike, Arkansas.

PAPER FOR MEN IN SERVICE

Special Publication to be Sent Tmen Addresses Requested.

Please hand in the addresses of any men who are now in the service that have ever attended the University.

This is the plea which comes from the Editing class under Dean Eric W. Allen. Perhaps a word of explanation is necessary. This class is publishing a pamphlet sheet expressly for the boys in the service. It will contain a list of all the addresses of the men in the service, that is, as many of them as the class are able to secure. In this way, men can get a furlough and visit one another. There will be items of interest from the University, and the main feature will be excerpts from letters from the boys themselves.

If you have any letters, let the class take excerpts from them. There are two boxes over at the library in which these addresses and interesting bits may be placed. Or hand them to any of the following people and they will be taken care of: Elizabeth Amiller, Alene Phillips, Bess Colman, Adelaide Lake, Erma Zimmerman, Frances Blurock, or Helen McDonald.

If one of the men has seen another Oregon man, be sure and hand it in. Let's give them the best we can.

WAR WORK FUND IS TOPIC

Campus Committee Holds Meeting in President's Office.

A meeting of the general campus committee for the United War Work campaign was set for this afternoon at 4 o'clock in President Campbell's office, for the purpose of discussing plans for raising the University's quota of the $170,000,000 to be raised in the United States for war work. An extensive campaign will be conducted on the campus from November 18 to November 25, and the committee hopes that the University will go "over the top" in a short time.

The $170,000,000 which is to be raised throughout the United States is to be divided proportionately among the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Jewish Welfare Commission, Salvation Army, Foodstuffs Commission and the Camp Library Association. It is to be used for war work only by each organization.

Second Platoon of Company B Is One Penpatetic Pack

The Wandering Jew had quite a reputation as a traveler. So did Baron Munchausen. But it is doubtful if either of these two celebrities had much on the second platoon of Company B. The platoon has traveled far and wide in search for a home, and so far has not found a permanent one.

Originally, in the hazy past, the platoon was quartered in the Phi Delta Theta house, and dwelt in peace and quietude, — beloved by all except their immediate neighbors, the Gobs in the Sigma Chi house. Then came the Spanish influenza, and lo, one day, the platoon came home to find that it was home no longer. Their beds and bedding were on the front porch, and there were orders for them to move immediately. The Phi Delta Theta house was needed for a hospital.

Some of the platoon gave up then and there. They decided that, rather than begin endless wanderings, they would be sick and remain in the house. But the others fared forth bravely. They visited all the barracks, and finally descended on the men's gymnasium en masse. But here they could not stay. There was room for some, who were accommodated, but the rest resumed their weary search. After traversing miles of campus, they rolled out their blankets on the floor of the outdoor court of the women's gym, No Man's Land.

But still they were not allowed to be in peace. The word came yesterday that they shall move to the Sigma Chi house, and live with their natural enemies, the Gobs. Beds and bedding were again raised to their shoulders, and once again they took up the march. It is certain that the platoon will not stay in the Sigma Chi house long. In fact, many prophets are recalling significantly the battle of the Kilkenny cats.

PROFESSORS HEARD FROM

O. F. Stafford in Boston Working on His Invention.

Dr. Joseph Schafer, former professor of history at the University, was elected this fall to the vice-chairmanship of the National Board for Historical Service. He is in charge of the Washington, D. C., office of this board, which is responsible for the Committee on Public Information. Dr. Schafer has been closely associated, since going to Washington with Frank Aydellot, director of the War Aims course throughout the United States, in getting out reference material for the S. A. T. C. organization. In November Dr. Schafer will address the New York State Teachers' association. It is expected that he will be connected with his present work for the rest of this college year.

Professor O. F. Stafford of the Chemistry department at the University is in Boston, attending to the construction of a plant where his new invention can be manufactured, according to a letter received by Dean Straub. He will remain in Boston probably until Christmas time. When he does come back to the University his stay will be indefinite as the government may call for him any time.

LIST OF ELIGIBLES ASKED

Washington Inquires About S. A. T. C. Men for Central O. T. C.

The Secretary of War has directed through S. A. T. C. headquarters that the commanding officers of the Students' Army Training Corps throughout the country report to Washington, D. C., the number of men in their units eligible for admission to infantry, field artillery and machine gun Central Officers' Training schools. "There are no longer any percentage limitations," states a telegram received from headquarters by Colonel W. H. C. Bowen this morning. Candidates for the infantry will be accepted in unlimited numbers. The number of eligible men from the University must be in the hands of the Western Division of the S. A. T. C. by October 24. Colonel Bowen said this morning that he does not know how many men he will be able to recommend for admission to the camps. "The influenza situation makes selection hard," said the Colonel, "but I will have the number Oregon is to send ready by tomorrow."

INTRA-MURAL WORK IN SPORTS IS PLAN UNDER E. O'CONNELL

Compulsory Athletics for All Men Physically Fit Is Program.

CONTESTS WITH AGGIES AND SERVICE TEAMS

Competitive Between Platoons Will Be Held in Various Games.

Under the direction of Eddie O'Connell and special coaches, a program of intra-mural athletics will be pursued this fall and winter. The plan, as it is at present, is compulsory athletics for all men who are physically fit. It is expected that all men of the S. A. T. C. will be required to participate in some form of athletic endeavor at least three times a week.

While Varsity teams, or as they are now regimental teams, will be continued, most of the contests will be with service teams and with O. A. C., owing to the ruling of the war department regarding absence from the campus. The war department has ruled to the effect that athletic teams can play only those contests that may be reached by leaving the campus Friday afternoon and from which the team may return by Monday morning.

Sports On Army Basis

Intra-mural work on an army basis will be emphasized this year. Inter-company athletics will take the place of inter-fraternity contests and a league made up of the various divisions of the S. A. T. C. regiment will take the place of the old Doughnut league. Colonel W. H. C. Bowen, commandant of the S. A. T. C., will announce tomorrow a list of the men who will serve as athletic heads of the various platoons. These men will in turn select men to handle each branch of the sports.

Competition between platoons will follow all year going from one sport to another. It is expected that by the time the contests have started that the rivalry will be so keen that men of one platoon will choke a member of another platoon upon sight.

Good Sporting Possibilities

At the present time there is an abundance of sporting possibilities, but few men have taken advantage of the chance to take part. Outside of football there is to be boxing and wrestling, under the direction of Eddie O'Connell, one of the best known and most successful coaches of these two sports in the United States; as well as soccer, cross country running, handball, cageball and volley ball.

As soon as the men quartered in the men's gymnasium have been assigned to permanent quarters basketball and gymnasium work will start. "Bill" Hayward will probably coach basketball again this year, while the track work, as always, is under his supervision.

Men of the O. T. C. have not had a chance to meet the men of the S. A. T. C. in any athletic contests this year owing to the inroads made upon the time of both by the influenza. Under normal conditions with the men housed in the new barracks it is the plan of those in charge to have something doing every day during the recreational period from 4 to 6 o'clock.

NEW ORGAN INSTRUCTOR

Mrs. Mary Ashurst Is Successor to John Stark Evans.

Mrs. Mary Ashurst will teach organ during the absence of John Stark Evans, now in the service. Dr. John Landsbury, dean of the school of music, announced yesterday. Anyone interested in organ may make appointments to see Mrs. Ashurst at the School of Music. Mr. Ashurst, who was a member of the faculty of the School of Music last year, is from Los Angeles, where she studied music for several years. She is at present organist of the Methodist church here.
